STAMPEDERS TAKE BOWS AT CALGARY STAMPEDE

The Stampeders and their manager, Mel Shaw, returned to their hometown of Calgary, and a red carpet treatment rarely afforded an internationally known name. The evening of July 7, the Music World Creations' group appeared at Summertown, the Calgary Stampede Youth Corral and, in spite of a drenching rain, packed the small enclosure with more than 3000 fans. The audience was well aware of what the Stampeders had done musically, much of it due to the exposure given their singles and albums by radio station CKXL. After the completion of their scheduled program they were called back for 6 encores with the crowd using the Stampeders' new slogan "Rock On" which almost wiped out the firework display coming from the Grandstand.

The event that any hometown group would appreciate is being recognized by the officialdom of their hometown. The Stampeders struck gold twice on this rainy night. Firstly, CKXL's Bob Robertson paid

CLIFF RICHARD SHOWS NORTH AMERICAN SPARK

Cliff Richard, one of Britain's most consistent chart winners and one of the original British popsters, could be on the revival kick in North America, through Canada. His latest outing, "Jesus" and "Mister Cloud" issued on the Capitol label, through their parent company, EMI, has shown early indications of becoming a national hit. Much of the Richard strength would appear to come from the strong chicken-rock togetherness of the "Jesus" side which, of course, means a potentially powerful sales item with the combination of both MOR and MOT concentration. The flip, "Mister Cloud", which gives the Richard voice a front and centre spot plus a lush backing, has also picked up much interest from those programmers who obviously remember Richard and his early association with the Shadows.

U.S. interest in Richard has become a little more acute with the trend setting Canadian market now flexing its muscles on the world market. Seymour Stein of Sire Records (New York) is now looking seriously at the Richard deck with an eye to releasing the single across the U.S. They have had much success with previous EMI releases particularly with the Climax Blues Band. On deck and waiting for a release deck is former members of the Shadows, now tagged Marvin, Welch and Farrar. Hank Marvin was the founder of the Shadows group. It's expected their new single release could be "Lady Of The Morning" to be followed by the album. No Canadian distribution at time of writing.

Richards' "Jesus" single is now on the RPM MOR Playlist at No. 25 and jumped from No. 87 to 76 on the RPM 100 Singles chart (July 29/72).

tribute to what the talented trio had done throughout the world and for Calgary and then introduced station manager Tom McBride who presented the Stampeders with a specially cast plaque from Calgary's Youth, and Radio Station CKXL. The group was also presented with a plaque from the City of Calgary - a first. The presentation was made by a city Alderman.

Sunday afternoon saw the Stampeders headline a free concert at the Stampede Grandstand. When the emcee announced the Stampeders, the complete infield of the Grandstand was packed tightly by enthusiastic fans. This is an annual event and, Stampede officials, who hosted a reception after the show, commented this was the first year they had experienced such a large crowd and the fact that the majority of the audience stayed on for the Stampeders' show was a credit to the group.

Radio and newspaper coverage of the Stampeders was further enhanced by interviews and new coverage by CFAC-TV, arranged through the station's Wendall Wilkes. CFAC-TV also devoted several feet of film covering the special car that carried the Stampeders and their manager in the Calgary Stampede Parade. Their convertible carried banners reading RPM Juno Award Winners - The Stampeders, and drew wild applause and cheers along the parade route which drew a record breaking crowd of more than 350,000 plus several million via the CBC-TV network coverage.

The Stampeders' most recent Music World Creations' single, "Wild Eyes" has moved rapidly up the CKXL chart from first week on at 29 to 10. It's expected to become a chart topper within the next couple of weeks.

NAME CHANGE FOR KINNEY OF CANADA

Kinney Music of Canada has undergone a name change and will now be known as WEA Music of Canada, Ltd. The name change follows that of their parent company, Kinney Services Inc., whose name was changed a few months ago to Warner Communications Inc.

WEA reflects the initials of the Canadian firm's affiliate record companies - Warner Bros - Elektra and Atlantic.

In making the above announcement Gord Edwards, Vice-President Sales and Merchandising for WEA, further announces the expansion of duties for two of the company's top flight management personnel.

Mike Reed has taken on duties as Merchandising Manager for all product, and Tom Williams as National Promotion Manager will also handle promotional matter for all product under the WEA banner with regional promotion men reporting directly to him.

THUNDERMUG GETTING IT TOGETHER - NATIONALLY

Thundermug, the most recent acquisition by September Productions and who release on the Axe label distributed by London Records, have moved into the sales and play ballpark. Their initial single release, "You Really Got Me" and the album from which it was culled, "Thundermug Strikes", have both become strong chart contenders. The album, now being programmed extensively by MOT stations across Canada, has out-thundered the single, with several programmers playlisting the "Africa" cut and pressuring Axe's Greg Hambleton to release this as their next single. However, the Kinks' oldie "You Really Got Me" has turned into a sleeper and Hambleton and London are currently putting together a national campaign to bring it more into focus.

Both Canadian consumer pop papers, Grapevine and Beetle, were high in their praise of the Thundermug album.

A London Ontario-based group, Thundermug is comprised of James Corbett, bass; Joe DeAngelis, lead guitar; Bill Durst, keyboard; and Ed Pranskus, drummer.

The group has been busy with appearances throughout Ontario and Quebec with dates at McGill in Montreal with the Strawbs and Toronto's Palais Royale (27) to name a few. Their hometown station of CJOE has leaned heavily on both sides of their current single with neighboring CHLO applying the most pressure for the "Africa" cut. Other stations giving extra heavy play include CKFH/Toronto, CKWS/Kingston, CJOM/Windsor, CHOM and CJMS/Montreal, CJCS/Stratford and campus radio stations: Western, Dalhousie and Waterloo.

PROCOL HARUM AND EAGLES AT O'KEEFE

On July 20 Procol Harum and Eagles were scheduled to play Toronto's O'Keefe Centre. Procol Harum are currently enjoying their greatest success ever with their "Live With the Edmonton Symphony" set and the first single, "Conquistador", pulled from it. The Toronto date is the last in Procol's current North American dates which has seen them play numerous Canadian dates including Winnipeg, Calgary, Edmonton and Vancouver.

Eagles, the Asylum Records group, are currently hitting with their "Take It Easy" single. The group is comprised of former members of the Burrito Brothers, Poco, Dillard and Clark and Linda Ronstadt's group.

DRAPE A FLAG ON THE ROCK

One thing some radio stations never have to do is talk about how much they have done for Canadian music. Actions speak louder than words, and a radio station living up to the spirit of the Canadian music ruling can easily fall back on its programming to prove its point. The whole idea of the ruling was to create a legitimate Canadian culture. Flag waving for Canadian music is a poor excuse for overstating the case.

If the ruling works, the music industry will be productive and successful. The stations will benefit from an increased flow of quality product. There will be no reason for a radio station to tell their listeners of their "Canadianism". They will have done it quietly and the results will be obvious.

As soon as a radio station tells us how much they are doing for Canadian music, we take it as an indication that they probably aren't doing all that much, or that they are so borderline that they need to convince us and themselves that they are doing a good job. More often than not, a radio station is living a lie. It almost becomes policy to talk about how much they are doing to compensate for the reality of the situation. I really can't think of a station which has done a good job on Canadian material and then been modest about it.

What is even more offensive and unprofessional is the station that announces the nationality of the discs it plays. What difference does it make?

So, in effect, we may assume that the CRTC ruling is working. Or at least we can assume that it is since the Commission has been unable to unearth one offender. Radio is living by both the letter and the spirit of the ruling and the Canadian production industry is just humming along. What more could we ask for?

Although the occasional artist or promotion man complains, the companies have not voiced any dismay with the way the ruling is working. No complaint has been made to RPM, or, as far as we know, to the CRTC. Everything is cool.

Recording studios are well booked (and there are many of them). Music publishers are discovering that Canadians can write fine material. Even the foreign tipster who is so opposed to Canada's "30% censorship of American product" and the Canadian "garbage" on American charts, must admit that Canada is affecting the American scene . . . not at all.

Canadians anti-American? Hell no. We are still giving our best talent with the exception of only a rare few, to the United States. We still give away co-publishing and split publishing. Canadians are still being booked by U.S. agents and about 90% of the money paid to artists performing in Canada leaves the country.

The state of the industry in mid-1972 is just fine. It's exactly what we wanted and it's exactly what we deserve after all these years of fighting for a music industry in Canada.

A&M SIGNS AGREEMENT WITH HAIDA RECORDS

Gerry Lacoursiere, managing director of A&M, has announced the signing of a long term agreement with Keith Lawrence for exclusive distribution of product of Haida Records in Canada. Headquartered in Victoria, Haida will initially release product by Valdy, Spring and Stallion Thumrock. To be released immediately is Valdy's first single, "Rock and Roll Music" f/s "Hello, Mr. Record Man".

Former west coast promotion man for London Records, Ray Pettinger, will handle national promotion for Haida, based in Winnipeg. Brian Coombs, A&M's national sales manager, will handle all sales of Haida product through A&M's Toronto offices.

In making the announcement, Lacoursiere said "Keith Lawrence has shown he has a keen ear for talent and can direct it to its full potential. A prime example is Chilliwack, who after years of recording received their first gold album (Gold Leaf Award) in December, two weeks after its release date".

FIVE TORONTONIANS WIN ERTROGS

Five residents of Metro Toronto, F. Bell, R. Niedra, C. Hill, M. McGuire and A. Edington, have been presented with medallions, designed by Toronto sculptor Sorel Ertrog, by the Toronto Symphony. The medallions, valued at fifty dollars and cast in sterling silver, were presented in conjunction with the Symphony's subscription campaign for the year.

The campaign itself is moving strongly, having already surpassed last year's to-date figure in spite of the fact that the campaign was three weeks late getting underway. It is anticipated that this year's final subscription figure will surpass last year's of 15,942.

SSE PRESENTS STRAWBS/ THUNDERMUG

Sheldon Kagan, head of Montreal's Superior Sound Enterprises, presented England's Strawbs and Thundermug, from Toronto, in concert at the McGill Student Union Ballroom in Montreal last week (14). The gig came as a follow-up to the group's Toronto appearance the week previous. The group's label, A&M, recently released a new album, "Grave New World" to immediate programmer response.

Thundermug has been meeting considerable success with their first Axe set, "Thundermug Strikes". Kagan is one of Montreal's foremost bookers.

BOOK REVIEW

by John Watts

OUT OF HIS HEAD

Richard Williams
New Press
$6.95

Whether or not you like this book is easily determined. If you admire Phil Spector as a major influence on the course of recorded rock and roll, you'll like it. If you regard him as purveyor of disposable culture and the ruination of the Beatles you'll hate it. If you think he did do a lot for recorded rock at one point and then came along and ruined the Beatles, like me, you'll like some parts and hate others.

For the most part, "Out of His Head" sticks to the basic rock book format; a little bit of editorializing here, a little bit of disjointed dialogue there, but what it does do is provide a good step by step history of Phil Spector, from the days of the Teddy Bears, the Specters Three, the Crystals, the Ronettes, the Righteous Brothers, Ike and Tina Turner and into Beatledom with "Let it Be" and the John and Yoko albums and singles.

Although I suppose it's the author's privilege one thing really turns me against this book, and that is the unending glorification of Spector as a demi-god of rock. Okay, so Williams was born and raised on the Crystals and the Ronettes, his life developing to the rhythmic beat of beep-she-doo-wah's or other near things but to visualize the flack which resulted from Spector's hatchet job on "Let it Be" as being on the same level as the Crucifixion may be stretching it just a little far. Williams doesn't go so far as to make the comparison directly, but the implication of momentous martyrdom is there.

It doesn't make particularly exciting reading, but it does provide some insight into the producer's role and for that it is of value.

RESHAPED DR. MUSIC TOURS WEST

Dr. Music, the GRT group which underwent a considerable reorganization last month, is in the middle of a hectic tour of western Canada. Dates include Banff, Calgary, Edmonton, Regina and many others. The new group now consists of Doug Riley, keyboards; Steve Kennedy, sax, flute and vocals; Doug Mallory, guitar and vocal; Barrie Tallman, trombone; Michael Kennedy, congas and vocals; Wayne Stone, drums; and former Light-houser, Keith Jollimore.

Although rumours had it that the group was on the verge of collapse, Dr. Music now seems stronger than ever. Their "Sun Goes By" single is their biggest to date, and reports from the west indicate that a very favourable impression is being made on the tour. They enter Toronto Sound Studios in August to lay down tracks for their second GRT album.

AVENUE OF AMERICA OFF WITH 1ST SINGLE

Avenue of America, who have experienced much success with the bowing of their budget priced "Rock On" album, have moved into the singles race. Initial release is "Hot Love", by Capt'n Midnite's Dirty Feet, penned by Paul Gross who also wrote material for Wishbone. Gross lent a hand in the production session as well. Avenue of America flew Alan Caddy, formerly of the Tornadoes, into Toronto to produce the session at RCA's Toronto studios with George Semkiw on the board. The Tornadoes, a British group, hit the charts with "Telestar" a few years ago and then promptly faded out of the picture.

Jack Morrow, manager of the Capt'n Midnite group (formerly Just Us), has launched a nation-wide promotion campaign to get their first record off the ground. Avenue of America haven't, at time of writing, set up national distribution, but it's expected they will work with independent promotion firms in the initial stages of their entry into the singles field. He is currently negotiating for several Western Canada dates, the first through Bill Jewel of Attraction Ticket Offices in Winnipeg.

The Midnite group is comprised of Brian Cotterill, drums; Bob McPherson, organ; Ron Bartley, guitar; and Jim Bertucci, bass.

Their first introduction to Toronto audiences, under their new name, came when they appeared at a special "free concert" at Toronto's Centre Island, put on by Avenue of America, at which more than 30,000 people packed the stage area.

Dear Vince:

I know you are used to sending out promotional material and albums and never really expect to receive anything in reply, but I wanted to express my thanks for the GILBERT O'SULLIVAN album "HIMSELF" ...

I am really knocked out by this man. As a matter of fact I have played it over several times, dubbed it onto cassette and still find a new measure of excitement each time I play the album.

He has a strange but really fascinating music-lyric structure coupled with a voice that compares with a few pop artists but still manages to surface as a rarity.

Thanks again for thinking of me and introducing me to a compelling new artist!

Kindest Regards,
Pat Murray

A RECORD MAN SPEAKS OPENLY

There is a growing band of us so-called Canadian music industry critics and we are meeting with varying success. But each of us can only be as good as our perspective allows us to be. Unfortunately some of us would appear to suffer from chronic narrow vision, but that is another problem.

The subject at hand concerns trying to find out more about what ails our industry. And who better to diagnose the ailments than someone who is a practitioner within the Canadian music business.

For several months I have been trying to find a prominent executive who would be willing to lay out the current problems. I emphasized anonymity but I still had a lot of trouble tracking down someone who knows but is not afraid to tell.

I felt it was important to find a successful executive because it would seem that he would be in absolute command of the facts.

The gentleman who has compiled this two-part account of the Canadian music industry circa now is known to all of you and has been a heavy in the scene for years. I have sworn that I shall never reveal his identity. The only way this article's kind of honesty can emerge is through absolute protection of the source.

So proceed knowing that you are reading what one very experienced top executive knows to be the complete truth. I can only hope you will all -- everyone of you -- learn and gain a greater understanding of what we are all up against by reading this series.

I might add that it has my complete endorsement.

Dear Mr. Richard:

It has been most interesting to observe the comments, praises, criticisms and objections that have been made and discussed by all segments and divisions of the Music Industry in Canada over the past few years and more particularly in these last two years, since we entered a new decade.

I have been meaning to document my own appraisal of this, our music business, for these two years now and I find myself suddenly forced into doing it.

I have not agreed with or liked a great deal you have written about in your various capacities and under your numerous pseudonyms but feel that you have, in your rather excessively sensational critical fashion, come near to pointing out the one reason that for me sums up the only real problem we, in Canada, face in entering the world record market .....

WE ARE ALL TOTALLY UNPROFESSIONAL

Let me make my analysis of the Canadian Music Industry, if you will bear with me. I will divide it into six main headings and then deal with the more specific points of these main headings under sub-headings.

SUMMARY

THE ARTIST

The artist is the focal point and starting line for all our efforts. We can allow him more mistakes than we can ourselves because he is, after all, an artist and has a much shorter life in this business than we do. All one can say is that the Canadian artist can be as talented, real and marketable as any in the world and he has waited longer than most for his chance. We must just ask the artist to be patient, understanding and aware that we should have to work as hard to make him successful, as he does himself. He should be a professional artist and therefore should meet us as professionals and take our advice in each of our specialised fields - the same way as we should take his advice in his field. Nothing that lasts comes easy for any of us, no matter what anybody tells us. There is no such thing as an "overnight success".

THE ARTIST'S MANAGEMENT

1) There is hardly a single artist's personal manager I have yet met in this country who has really filled me with pride. There are nice ones, loyal ones, hard working ones, as well as their opposites, but they plan like amateurs and so succeed and fail like amateurs. The personal manager can do much to guide and advise both the artist and his hopeful believers (the record companies, booking agents, media, and many other). All he really needs is some common sense and perseverance. Is that too much to ask?

2) If I had to choose three sections of this industry that are the worst run and holding us back the most, the booking agent would have to be one of them (I will come to the other two later). All he needs to be is a believer, a salesman and relatively honest. There is not an agency in this country that can boast having even two of these essential qualifications!

3) The impresario and promoter of concerts, gigs and personal appearances has a dual role. He must please his artist and the public. In so doing he helps and advances our whole industry. He needs to be a good organiser and extremely conscientious. At the moment he tends to be neither.

This management section can, if run well, turn out to be one of the most lucrative members of the industry and for that reason alone cannot be excused its shocking state at this time.

THE RECORDING PROCESS

We now reach the point where the artist needs to have his talents spread and documented by means of the phonograph record.

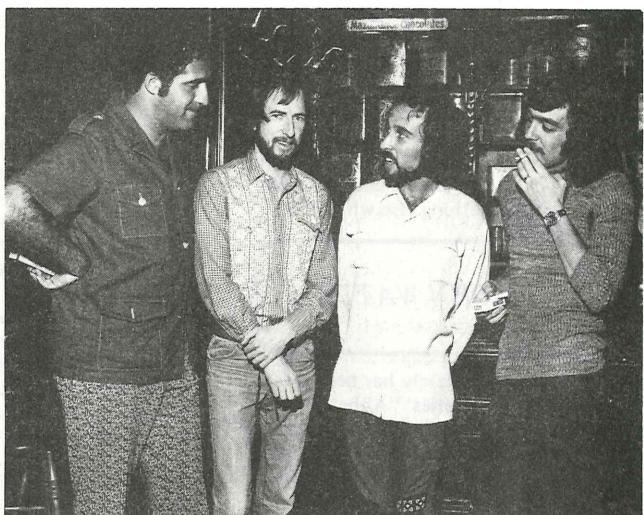

1) Building a recording studio is a long and costly affair. To make money, a studio must last longer than the artist and the manager. To last it must have business on a regular basis. I have been in and inspected, at close quarters, over twenty recording studios in this country and can only say that one matched up to U.S. or U.K. standards of operation. The studios either lack equipment (which in this time of difficult financing is almost forgivable) or they lack the servicing and professional skill that is vital to a studio no matter how much or how little equipment they possess. "Dirty pots", "bad echo chambers", "damaged mikes" and many, many more complaints, large and small, due to sheer inefficiency, are just too common to be excused. I would advise you record companies and producers to document, very carefully, hours spent in time-wasting due to faulty equipment and other unnecessary costs that are named on your bills and charged to you. Deduct these hours and refuse, point blank, to pay for them. The studios need your business. Remember it.

2) A recording engineer is a person of technical ability in producing the sound required by artists and their producers. He must be alert, technically knowledgeable and very demanding on his management for equipment improvements and other needs that only he knows the customer (record company or producer) must have to be happy. Like a surgeon he should not and cannot work with second-rate equipment, particularly to record first class artists.

3) The producer has a strange function. He must be a diplomat, a semi-technician, have a strong overall knowledge of music and he must be very demanding of his artist and engineer. He carries the key to the recording success of his artist and the record company which releases the artist's recordings. He cannot expect to get a drum sound or piano sound in ten minutes that will stand up against the similar sounds produced by his U.S. and U.K. contemporaries. He cannot take a half hour to mix a sixteen track single or album cut when he possibly should spend six hours. The producer must not rely on his engineer to the point of

PRODUCERS CREATE THE CRAFT

While doing the book review on "Out of His Head" which appears elsewhere in this issue, I started to do some serious thinking on the importance of the producer to the end product. Something else which has been influencing me lately has been an eight track of the Beatles' "Abbey Road" which has been playing in my truck for the past few weeks to the exclusion of more recent releases. For me, it's been a rediscovery of the Beatles' greatness.

The Beatles have never been equalled as far as popularity goes. No one, including Elvis Presley, has more gold records (audited variety) to their credit. I don't believe there is any single act, or even any combination of any number of acts, which could draw half of what the Beatles could if they were to play one more concert as a group.

But after listening to "Abbey Road" over and over again, then going back to the white album, "Sgt. Pepper" and "Magical Mystery" tour, it becomes increasingly apparent that the magic of the Beatles has little to do with John Lennon, Paul McCartney, George Harrison or Ringo Starr, but rather, it has a lot to do with a former producer of comedy records, George

Given my cynicism on most things in life, including the process by which records become popular, a conflict develops. Did the Beatles become what they are because they and George Martin are good, or did the Beatles become popular because EMI created a worldwide conspiracy to make them popular? My answer is that as far as success of that magnitude goes, it was probably both. I'm quite sure that EMI could make any group, no matter how out of tune and unimaginative, world-wide success for a couple of singles.

But I don't think that EMI, or anyone else, could keep that act alive for a decade, and influence an entire generation. After radio does its brainwashing and the kids head for the stores to buy the albums, there has to be something there, and for them to head back eight, ten or twelve times, there has to be something there of value.

It's my belief that in the case of the Beatles it was George Martin who provided that something. Martin epitomizes, to my way of thinking anyway, the great worth of a good producer. But Martin's abilities went beyond that, he didn't merely sit back and direct the settings, he arranged, invented, experimented, and provided the Beatles with the best, most imaginative sound to occur since the invention of the phonograph.

Perhaps one of Martin's greatest assets was his British sense of humour. As related to the Beatles' music, this is amply evidenced by the semi-classical backing to "Piggies", a delightful study in contrasts, it is a combination of music-hall humour and angry-young-man-ism, with the self-mocking harmonium tinkling Bach-like in the rear. Martin invented acid-rock with "Sgt Pepper". He led the swing of the musical pendulum back to simplicity with the white album and topped it off with what is, in my humble estimation, the best album I have ever heard, "Abbey Road".

The difference between Martin and your stereotyped rock producer is present for all to hear in "Let It Be". The original Martin production was a classic. In many ways, the spiritual, and surely that is what it is, was the zenith of contemporary music, an ideal of lyrical beauty and immaculately conceived and executed production. It was the last singles release under Martin's control and it was their best. Phil Spector, filling the stereotype of our American "rock producer, took "Let It Be" and clouded and obscured it with gross overproduction. Where Martin would bring in a symphony orchestra to play one chord, Spector would be determined to get his money's worth by using every note they played. The result was so incredibly tasteless that Rolling Stone magazine said that Spector

U.A. RECORDS CELEBRATES SIX MONTH ANNIVERSARY

U.A. Records has now been in operation as an independent for six months. In that time, the company has managed to rack up some pretty impressive accomplishments. U.A.'s sales to date, for the six month period, have exceeded the sales of U.A. product in any previous twelve month period. U.A. credits their distributors, Capitol, Waldale, Rathwell, Acklands and Johnston with the improvement. The forecast for the next six months is bright, according to president Stan Kulin.

Product upcoming includes releases by Don McLean, the Cornelius Brothers, Bobby Goldsboro, Del Reeves, War, The Ventures. U.A. is now into Canadian material with releases by Pinky, David Wiffen, Peter Thom and Claudia Valade. The label will shortly release the soundtrack from "Man of La Mancha" for which there has been considerable demand as well as material from the Blue Note jazz catalogue.

MCA's PAINE RETURNS FROM WESTERN JUNKET

MCA Records' national promotion manager, Barry Paine, has returned to Toronto after an extensive two week tour of the western provinces. The tour took in all major centres including Winnipeg, Regina, Saskatoon, Edmonton, Calgary and Vancouver. While in the west, Paine met with radio personnel and the firm's distributors. Paine reports that reaction to MCA's latest Cancon release Andy Kim's "Who Has The Answers" has been "extremely favourable". The deck has received considerable airplay in the west and is now charted at CKXL, CJME, CHED and CKRC.

While in Vancouver, Paine met with Sonny and Cher during their Pacific National Coliseum showing. The duo drew an astounding audience in excess of fourteen thousand.

STRAWBERRY ACQUIRES SAINT JOHN

Strawberry Records, a division of Love Productions, has signed an all-black Rhythm and Blues band, Saint John. The group is headed by Wayne St. John, an active figure on the Toronto music scene who is known for his leading role in Hair and his duties as lead vocalist of the Inner City Mission. The Mission drew attention last year with their recording of "Get Back John".

Currently engaged in a string of personal appearances throughout Ontario, Saint John's first Strawberry single is "Stand Up (Baby)".

The disc is completely Canadian.

GRT'S LIGHTHOUSE PLAY CITY HALL

GRT's top group, Lighthouse, played on in spite of rain on June 24th for an exuberant crowd at Toronto's city hall. The free concert, sponsored by CHUM-FM and the Toronto Musicians' Association drew a crowd of between fifty and sixty thousand according to Brian Ayres, GRT's national promotion manager.

The repertoire consisted of some of the group's best known numbers as well as some new material, set for inclusion on their next album, to be recorded at the end of the month at Toronto's Thunder Sound Studios. GRT has just released "Lighthouse Live" to immediate programmer and consumer response.

AMPEX STEPS UP DOMESTIC PRODUCTIONS

John Driscoll, A&R Director for Ampex Music of Canada, has been burning the midnight oil with Canadian productions. Their initial single release for the label, "Sit In The Sun", was penned by group member Eric Baragar. The flip, "Reason" was written by Roger Plant. The session was produced at Toronto's Manta Studios with Dave Greene on the board. Baragar wrote "I've Got A Feeling" for the Sands of Time, which became a chart item for the Ampex group last year.

Driscoll is just putting the finishing touches on an album session for Young, utilizing both Manta and RCA studios. The group is

BRUCE BISSELL BACK IN PHOTO SCENE AGAIN

RPM hasn't had a photo of Bruce Bissell in its pages for several months - not since he left Kinney and Toronto to take up duties as western regional promotion man for A&M with headquarters in Vancouver, his hometown. Bissell, the bantamweight (he's a friend of George Chuvalo), held the record of being the most photographed promotion man in the business, which did much to promote his acts as well.

A singer in his own right with several television appearances under his belt, Bissell moved into the promotion field repping Kinney in British Columbia. He was posted to Ontario to take over similar duties about a year later but decided to return to Vancouver this year with A&M. He is working closely with the label's distributor, Taylor, Pearson and Carson and can be contacted at (604) 879-1229.

MIKE WHITE & ALBERTA TEAM UP FOR YOUTH

This year's Edmonton Klondike Days has more of a blessing, in government dollars than ever before in its four years of operation. The Alberta Government has allowed a grant of $45,000.00 to the Youth Pavilion and their Here Comes The Sun production which is being presented by It's Somethin' Else. Actually the battle for youth recognition goes back four years when the Klondike Days' executives decided to allow a small corner of the Fair grounds (120' by 54') to be given up to entertainment, exhibits etc. that would be youth oriented. One of the fifteen teenagers appointed to the Junior Board of Directors was Mike White. The group had the responsibility of putting together a youth package of talent and overseeing the running of concessions. The first year they concentrated on local talent and a few groups from the West Coast. It was an experiment and no one really expected to make any money out of it. They didn't and they haven't, for the past four years. Last year's deficit amounted to $6000.00. White is still deeply involved in the youth scene and is regarded as a "connoisseur" of today's sound.

White has been hounding the Alberta Government for more funds so as to present a good drawing card for the ten day event (July 20-29). However, there was always the argument that Alberta's strength lay in its rural youth and what White was proposing was directed strictly at urban youth. The Lougheed government completely ignored the Music of Today groups when they recently bestowed honours on Alberta entertainers who had brought attention to the province. Country and middle of the road-type entertainers were presented with suitably engraved plaques from the Alberta government. White immediately launched a "Look at our MOT groups" campaign in an effort to point up the unfairness of excluding such a large group of Alberta citizens - now eligible for voting. It was through White that the Alberta Government became aware of what the Stampeders had contributed to the world of youth music and by their very name had brought world attention to the province.

of Alberta. That was the clincher. Shortly thereafter, the Government of Alberta set a first - they designed a plaque pointing up the contribution made by the Stampeders in bringing world attention to the Province of Alberta. This plaque was later presented to the Stampeders by CKGM's Donny Burns during their appearance at the recent Maple Music Junctet in Montreal.

The stage was set and, although it still took a lot of talking, White was able to convince the Government that youth, rural and urban had become an important part of today's life and should be allowed the privilege of expression. He got the extra dollars but was still confined to that corner of the Fair grounds. Next year he hopes to be allowed to expand according to his needs.

Talent lineup for this year's Here Comes The Sun is 100% Canadian and is being presented by It's Somethin' Else. Headlining the musical end of the events will be the Stampeders, who open the show (July 20) and return for another date (July 22). Also appearing on the bill are local groups: Sage, Spiny Norman's Whoopee Band and Red Deer's Griffin; Crowbar, Whiskey Howl, Dr. Music, Mainline, Brave Belt, Edward Bear, King Biscuit Boy, and Montreal's Push. It's interesting to note that unlike most Canadian fairs, Calgary, Toronto etc. there is no admission charged for the Youth Pavilion or for the musical entertainment.

The Minister for Culture, Youth and Recreation, The Honourable Horst Schmid, officially opened the Youth Pavilion and sat in while prizes were awarded to the winners of the 1972 Art Competition co-sponsored by the Edmonton Journal. Also included during the ten days was a Fashion Show in the Yellow Brick Road Restaurant, displaying teen fashions from Fairweather, Sweet Sixteen, Jean Joint, and Thom McCann. A film theatre is also included in the Pavilion. This year they will feature such films as "Alice in Wonderland" with W.C. Fields, National Film Board productions including the award winning "Synchromy" as well as Alberta Government promotional films, and the series of 4-8 minute films of varying subjects from the winners of the 1972 Film Competition sponsored by McBain Cameras.

The Yellow Brick Road Restaurant, constructed along the lines of Alice in Wonderland, the Wizard of Oz and the Hobbit and displaying a twelve foot mushroom, showcased Humphrey and The Dumptrucks, Paul Hann and Richard Harrow. There was also a "live" show with Tom K. Ryan's characters: Lotsa Luck, Limpid Lizard and Hildegard Ham-hocker.

An urban and rural youth gap - really!

CAPRICORN DAMAGE WORSE THAN FEARED

It was recently reported in RPM (July 8/72) that Capricorn Music Associates had been able to maintain business at their Yonge St. location in spite of the damage caused by the fire that almost gutted the three story location. However, on closer inspection, Sammy-Jo, who heads up CMA, has discovered that most of his contracts and files on contacts have been almost totally destroyed. This includes records he has kept over the past nine years.

CMA's operation has been moved over to Sammy-Jo's apartment temporarily until suitable office space becomes available.

POLYDOR RELEASES OLYMPIC SINGLE

Polydor Records has released the official theme of the 1972 Olympic Games. The disc, "Munich Fanfare March" f/s "Sapporo March" is performed by the Max Gregor Orchestra and was shipped by Polydor last month. The Gregor rendition has been declared the "official" version by the National German Olympic Committee and will be used for all radio and television broadcasts on the games from Germany.

Polydor is promoting the recording as an introduction piece to any reports on the progress of the games over radio or television. The 20th Olympic Games will take place during late August and early September.

DAFFODIL WITHDRAWS CROWBAR SINGLE

Frank Davies, head of Daffodil Records, has announced the withdrawal of Crowbar's latest single, "Ask Me No Questions". The single, taken from the group's Gold Leaf Award Album, "Larger Than Life" is being taken from the market in view of it being banned on numerous major market radio stations. Reason given for the banning is the word "goddamn" which is heard three times on the disc.

A new single has been immediately released, "Hey Baby" f/s "The Beaver and the Eagle", taken from the upcoming "Heavy Duty" album. It remains to be seen if "contemporary" programmers will ban the tune due to the word "beaver".

COVER STORY*FOOT IN COLDWATER BREAKS NATIONALLY

Formed of the remains of three Toronto bands, Lords of London, Nucleus and Leather, Foot in Coldwater have made an immediate impact with their Daffodil single release, "(Make Me Do) Anything You Want". The single is playlisted and charted from one end of the country to the other. At last count, more than sixty stations were on the record.

Personnel of the group is as follows: Danny Taylor, drums, original member of both the Lords of London and Nucleus; Hughie Laggat, bass, former member of the Lords of London and one-time bass man for Chuck Berry; Alex Machin, of Scottish origin, is the group's vocalist; Paul Naumann, former classical guitarist, was with Leather; and keyboard man, Bob Horne is also experienced on saxophone, guitar and clarinet.

The group plays a fairly sophisticated style which comes off extremely well on their album, "A Foot In Coldwater". Their single, which is included on the set, appears to be well timed, and a well executed excursion into commercialism for the sake of ultimately providing exposure for the rest of the set.

"would put a moustache on the Mona Lisa" if you gave him a piece of chalk. Even John Lennon, who had brought Spector to the Apple camp in the first place, was inspired to call it "fruity".

Martin sometimes used seemingly countless instruments on Beatles records, but there is not one that could be called overproduced. The ability to use a wide variety of instruments and styles and yet avoid clutter was basic to Martin's and the Beatles' success.

So far, there is no one who could replace him visible on the horizon. All Canada has been able to do so far is to refine average production into competent but unimaginative production. The Americans go their happy way, joyously churning out one piece of grooved vinyl after another, working within a set of self-imposed and unnecessary rules as to what will be "successful". If Martin had done that, worked within the rules, we would have had no "Sgt. Pepper", no "Abbey Road". The British are ahead of us in new ideas, but so far nothing world shattering has occurred. If we want to get something going in Canada, the best we can do is follow Martin's lead, throw the rule book out the window and create our own rules.

Capitol, have provided good backing for the group in the form of advertising, mailings, tee shirts and personal visits, and this activity seems to be paying off in a hit single, and possibly a hit album, the first time around.

ATTENDANCE RECORD SET WITH RAY CHARLES

An attendance record was set at Ontario Place with over 12,000 people gathering for Ray Charles and his group on July 8th. Preceding the Ray Charles Show was Rob McConnell and the Boss Brass who were very well received by the enthusiastic audience. One of the Ray Charles musicians commented the Boss Brass were one of the best bands he had heard.

Also appearing were the Rayettes, a five girl singing act, ventriloquist Aaron Williams and the Ray Charles band. Ray Charles had everyone participating in the mood of the show with such songs as Yesterday, "Georgia" and his closing number "Goin' Home". He also performed his latest single, "Look What they've Done To My Song Ma" on the ABC/Dunhill label distributed by RCA Records.

TEN GREAT CANADIAN OPERA STARS

London OS 26270-K

From seven of their complete opera sets, London Records have extracted arias and scenes featuring ten Canadian singers. Excerpts from Puccini's La Bohème and Mussorgsky's Boris Godunov are drawn from their Covent Garden Anniversary album. This will be

CLASSICAL RECOMMENDATIONS
by Lawson Cook

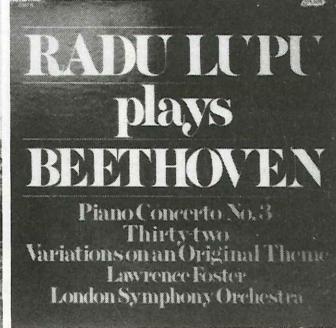

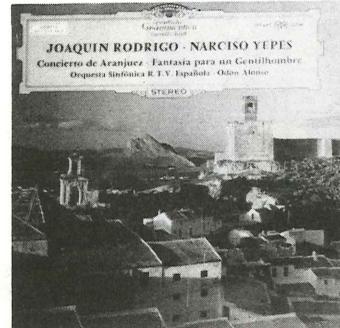

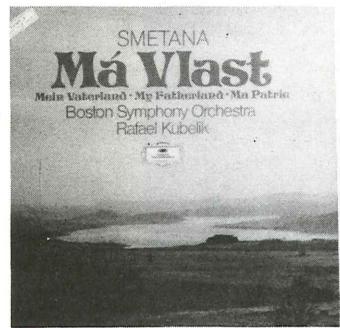

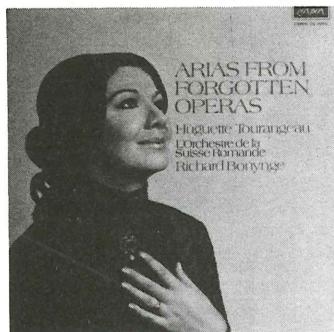

a most useful disc for classical programme planners seeking Canadian content. Most selections are complete.

The earliest recording is Raoul Jobin's beautiful performance of the cavatina "Ah! leve-toi soleil", from Gounod's Romeo et Juliette. This was recorded in mono originally, and has been electronically re-processed with satisfactory results. The rest of the album is true stereo and includes Leopold Simoneau's masterful "Dies Bildnis" from Mozart's Die Zauberflöte; Jon Vickers' fine "Celeste Aida", George London's "Die Frist ist um" from Wagner's Der Fliegende Hollander; and Victor Braun's "O du mein holder Abendstern" from the brilliant complete recording of Wagner's Tannhäuser, conducted by Sir Georg Solti.

SMETANA
Ma Vlast (My Fatherland)

Boston Symphony Orchestra conducted by Rafael Kubelik
DGG 2707 054-Q

Deutsche Grammophon continue their series of recordings of the Boston Symphony Orchestra with their most extended project to date - a sumptuous performance of Smetana's magnificent cycle of six orchestral Poems honoring his native Czechoslovakia. They include the popular "Moldau" and "From Bohemia's Woods and Fields".

ARIAS FROM FORGOTTEN OPERAS

Huguette Tourangeau - Mezzo soprano
L'Orchestre de la Suisse Romande conducted by Richard Bonynge
London OS 26199-K

The brilliant Canadian mezzo-soprano Huguette Tourangeau scored a great success in the roll of Urbain in the recent Joan Sutherland recording of Meyerbeer's opera "Les Huguenots".

I was particularly taken with the exotic "Nour-Eddin, roi de Lahore", from Bizet's "Djamilé" (could we have it all some day?) and the amusing "Air de Rose Fritquet" from "Les Dragons de Villars" by Maillart.

This valuable album boasts excellent liner notes by Richard Bonynge, and the lovely cover photo of Miss Tourangeau is by Karsh of Ottawa.

RODRIGO

Concierto de Aranjuez
Fantasia para un Gentilhombre

Narciso Yepes - Guitarist
Orquesta Sinfónica R. T. V. Espanola conducted by Odon Alonso
DGG 139 440-Q

The second movement of the Concierto de Aranjuez will be familiar to most, due to the many popular arrangements of it, including an extended jazz version by Miles Davis, and a vocal setting by Rod McKuen, sung by Petula Clark. Written in 1939, the Concierto de Aranjuez quickly found its way into the repertoire of most classical guitarists and has become the best loved of all Guitar Concerti. This is Narciso Yepes' second recording of it.

The Concierto is coupled with Rodrigo's "Fantasia para un Gentilhombre" for Guitar and Orchestra, composed in 1954 for Segovia. Its classical dignity contrasts well with the more romantic folk-like quality of the Concierto.

BEETHOVEN PIANO CONCERTO No. 3 IN C MINOR, OP. 37

Radu Lupu, pianist
London Symphony Orchestra conducted by Lawrence Foster
London CS 6715-K

I cannot urge you strongly enough to hear this recording. It will warm the hearts of those who have felt that most modern performances of standard classical repertoire were becoming clinical and de-humanized. Here is a performer of warmth, personality, humor and charm, armed with a technique that is all-encompassing.

BEETHOVEN
Symphony No. 6 in F major Op. 68 (Pastorale)

Vienna Philharmonic Orchestra conducted by Karl Bohm.
DGG 2530 142-Q

On December 22nd, 1808, the Beethoven Symphony No. 6 received its premier performance in Vienna, sharing the programme with the fifth symphony. That city's great Philharmonic Orchestra under the direction of Karl Bohm have recorded the nine Beethoven Symphonies and this recording of the 6th is the second of the series to be released. (The first being the fifth Symphony on DGG 2530 062).

Both performances rank with the finest Beethoven playing I have heard on records. The Vienna Philharmonic members play in their most beautiful classical style and are incapable of making a less than ravishing sound. In both works I was pleased to note that Bohm repeats the first movement expositions.

LOCAL RADIO IS BETTER THAN EVER

In all our travels across the country, we listen to a great many radio stations. No matter where you are in Canada, you can dial-twist and find something Canadian. That something is the sameness of programming. In most spots on the dial you can find something almost indistinguishable from what you left at home.

One thing does vary, and this is possibly the most important aspect of radio: the voices and the information. Local news, information and talk give you some insight into the area from which the station broadcasts. This local flavour is, I suppose, the reason that a national programming service for private radio is not viable. Obviously each locale is interested in what is happening

RED ROBINSON DOES NOSTALGIA KICK FOR CKWX

Red Robinson, one of the big Vancouver rock voices of a few years ago (CFUN) returns to the airwaves via CKWX. Robinson, a Vice-President of Dickson Advertising, will team up with Tom Peacock for a three hour "Nostalgia Special", Saturday July 15, and will continue this Saturday gig through the summer with a possibility it may become a permanent feature for this easy listening giant. Format of the show will be 50% new and 50% flashback with interviews of the stars of 1957 right up to the present time. Much of the music will be concentrated on what was big during the summer months of 1957 and each year since.

in its own region. There is even less need for an international service of transcriptions that could be "dumped" into Canada. Local radio seems to be what the people want. There is no formula or service, originating from Toronto, Los Angeles, or any other major centre which could replace it. The bulk of the commercials are local and national, even if some of the goods advertised are international.

Radio is the town crier of the seventies. Local news and local names attract the listeners. Local events are covered from on the spot. Local politics and local issues get their due. Local traffic and local weather are covered. Sure local radio isn't always completely polished and professional, but it is what's happening, and that is the important thing. The national television news and the dailies keep the consumer aware of the outside world, but radio is still far and away the best bet for local happenings on a twenty four hour basis.

If local matters are of such importance to the listeners, could local talent be equally important? Not long ago, I sat and talked with an "average" man from an "average" Canadian city. At the mere mention of the fact that I was in the music industry, he brought up the subject of local "names" in music. He mentioned that some of them had

STIRLING NOT AN APPLICANT FOR MARCONI COMPLEX

Contrary to popular belief and many erroneous press reports, including one that appeared in RPM (July 15/72), Geoff Stirling, well known Canadian broadcaster, has never officially applied for the Canadian Marconi broadcasting complex. Jim Kidd, program director at CFCF, has found the potshutting and rumour mongering by the press with regard to Stirling/Marconi, disturbing to say the least and would like to put the record straight.

There have been three applications to the CRTC for the purchase of Canadian Marconi Ltd. which comprises CFCF-TV, CFCF-AM, CFQR-FM and CFCX shortwave. Two serious contenders were Canadian Arena Company, owners of the Montreal Forum and the Canadiens Hockey Club; and the Toronto-based Multiple Access Ltd. (Bronfman). Stirling, who owns CKGM and CHOM-FM in Montreal, has not submitted an application to the CRTC nor has he approached the Marconi people with a proposal of purchase.

The Canadian Marconi Ltd. have had their license extended until Dec. 31st. of this year.

made records, he told me of seeing them locally and that he had known the brother-in-law of one of the artists. It gave him great pleasure to talk of such talent in his own city. He said that he hadn't heard the artists on local radio but would like to.

Programming locally is important. It is as important, if not more important, than programming nationally. The feeling of the citizen of the town, city, county, province or country is something special. After all he pays your wages. Do something to make him happy.

The Programmers TRIBAL DRUM

Horrors! On the picture of the CHSC/Trillium folk bowing their new label in RPM we referred to CHSC-Trillium prexy as Robert Redwood instead of using his real name, which is Robert Redmond. If we'd said Robert Redford, who would have complained? Back to radio-land CHSC helped out with the very successful Poppy Family/Bob King concert. Station heavily into a Rolling Stones thing. Brian H. Master emceed a Battle of the Bands to coincide with St. Catherines' annual Jaycees Carnival.

CKBB looking for an experienced jock. Send tape and resume to Ken Drew, Box 950, Barrie, Ontario.

CHUM's weekend man, Don Reagan, now at WOR FM in New York City for similar duties. In addition to doling out 500 freebies to the Rolling Stones concert, CHUM ran a one hour documentary including some interesting interview material.

CFMQ FM, Regina looking for a good voice with pride in his production work, maturity and a fair bit of experience. Contact Ward Alan, Box 3360, Regina. Salary dependent on abilities.

Ed Murphy has moved from CKWX to CKNW.

CHSJ has a jock and two girls on duty at the Harbour Bridge giving free toll tokens to all cars of a chosen colour. Station looking for morning drive man, evening jock and a continuity girl.

CFCF has switched from MOR to MOT.

CKY's Ann Stark into Toronto (15) for the Rolling Stones concert. Station threw a Ray Charles day while he was in town for his Centennial Concert Hall appearance. Exposure helped considerably in the sell-out of the show.

CKLW giving away tickets to new Walt Disney movie. Alden looking for a jock.

CHED promoting free bicycle picnic. All bicyclists admitted free. Music by local group, Privilege. Free goodies. A ten speed bike will be drawn for.

CKLG's "I Can't Believe I Ate the Whole Thing" drew over 4,000 entries. Winner of five hundred bucks at a whole chicken in one hour. Other entrants included eaters of a swimming pool full of jello and whipped cream and a twenty-four pound pizza. Now running phone contest. Listener has to guess mystery phone number for jackpot building at one dollar per record from a fifty dollar base.

CHCH CJCH hosted two Mashmakhan/April Wine shows in Halifax. Both were sold out. Station baking gigantic cake to celebrate the city's birthday (26). "Note Secret" has listeners guessing correct serial number of a one hundred dollar bill.

Late Flash: CHUM FM has shuffled its on-air staff with John Donabie going to the 2-6 slot and Dave Marsden replacing Donabie between 10PM and 2AM. Brian H. Master has been lifted from CHSC to do swing shift.

The Programmers BREAKING & STIFFING

Have you ever noticed at a drive-in movie, it's always the married couples who complain if something goes wrong with the sound system.

If nothing is impossible - try to get your name off a mailing list.

If you line your shelves with newspaper everyone will know the date when you cleaned them last.

They hired a new Secretary here. She's not very intelligent at all. She hasn't paid any attention to (Jock) either.

There was a time when a woman had to ask the doctor if she could have a baby. Now she has to ask the landlord.

You know the vacation is over when the shore, the kids, and the wife all get crabby.

Two kinds of women wear bikinis - Those with the figure and those with the nerve.

Did you hear about the American who hijacked a submarine and asked for a quarter of a million dollars ransom and a parachute?

You know what they say: When in doubt -- be indecisive!

Insanity is a state of mind!

The day I go to a psychiatrist, I'll have my head examined.

One of the girls here at the station couldn't wait until she got married. As a matter of fact, she didn't!

You know what a gossip is. Someone who puts one and one together . . . even if they're not.

Oh what I did last night. I knew I'd hate myself in the morning, so I slept in late.

Did you hear the piano on that record? I've heard of playing by ear, but that piano player sounded like he was sitting on the keyboard.

When nudists greet each other down south, they say, "Glad to see you all".

They make fun of one of the jocks at that other station because he's bald, but one thing you can say for his head is that it's always neat.

(Jock) is a great man. If he were alive, he'd be very sick.

I have a surprise for my landlady. If you go to my closet, you'll find a package behind the door. Wash it!

(Jock) was telling me recently that he attended the coronation of King Kong.

(Jock's) wife must be a good cook. He came home the other night and found a truck driver eating there.

Only one man in a million really understands the international situation. Isn't it funny, you keep running into him.

VANCOUVER TALK WAR

CKWX, who recently lost the Vancouver prophet Jack Webster to CJOR (he reportedly gets $100,000.00 per year plus other station benefits), brings in heavyweight Judy LaMarsh to add a little political knowledge to the Vancouver talk war. It's interesting to note that another Vancouver talk show host (there are three), Ed Murphy, now at CKNW was successful in his action against Miss LaMarsh for comments appearing in her popular "handbook" on government and other political figures.

Miss LaMarsh, who makes her home in the Niagara Peninsula, was former Secretary of State in the Liberal Government under Prime Minister Lester Pearson. Her Vancouver stint will be shortlived however-a disappointing three months - just enough time to keep the summer hot.

overall production. We must remember that we have to put the producer in the hot-seat and therefore he must be in control of what he is doing.

MANUFACTURING & RETAILING

The record company or manufacturer is a large tree with many roots so we must take it step by step.

1) When the artist's finished master tape is received from the producer it is the record company's first job to get the tape "mastered", ready for stampers to be made and the record to be manufactured. Here is the next reason why our sound is so often tagged as "amateur". We have the facilities to cut perfectly good master lacquers in this country. But not when a mastering engineer spends a quarter of an hour to set up his cutting procedure for a thirty five minute album. I have also, on countless occasions, seen these same engineers listen to the first minute of a three minute single and set their cutting procedure on that, without regard to the fact that on most singles "the hot spots" where "overcutting" can occur almost always happens towards the end of the single (that is to say the climax of the song). Two points that should be noted by the Producer and the Mastering Engineer: firstly; an average album should take at least two hours to master properly (set up time only, not cutting time) and secondly; trial cuts should be made on every track of an album. Remember a record can be totally ruined in the mastering process of a lacquer.

2) Our pressing plants are the next source of my grudge at our amateur attitude. It is no good cutting back "the hold down" time of the stamper by five seconds so that you can press more records in each given day because soon, I hope, all these records will be returned to you without payment. It is no good using a higher percentage of recycled material then you should because those record noises will keep appearing and again the records will be and must be returned to you. Please help us help ourselves. You are one of our vital organs and you must realise it.

3) Now we have our finished and jacketed record and we have to sell it and here we meet the second of my three worst criminals in this business. The Director of Promotion and his team are often the most half-hearted and aimless wanderers this business has to offer. They are the purveyors of that crime ridden statement "if you throw enough mud against the wall some will surely stick". To them I advise a total appraisal of your position. Learn about spreading radio play, seeking rather than stumbling upon press reaction. Learn about working records, soliciting rather than

"wishing and hoping" for media comments. Establish contact rather than isolation with the people who play your records (both the media and the public). Have belief and a positive attitude towards your product rather than a sheepish indifference and a negative attitude. Have perseverance rather than apathy. And above all you must listen to the records you are promoting to promote them.

4) To the marketing men, merchandisers, publicity and advertising departments I can only stress one vital point: you are in a creative industry dealing with and selling a highly creative product. Please be a little creative.

a) The salesman is a man who depends on the rest of his organisation, as well as his own belief, to be able to sell his product properly. He cannot be expected to take a record into a retailer and sell it if it is treated as second rate product within his own company. Only take first-class product and then that is all your salesman will have to sell.

b) We must ask the retailer to be just a little patriotic for the long term interest of us all. With his help we can create an industry in which we could, one day, even support ourselves, without the product of others, if its on the racks to be bought. But we must remember that the retailer relies more on everybody else rather than

THE MEDIA

1) Television is not helping our industry at the moment. Its fault is its general fault. It never takes even a calculated risk. It provides plenty of country music shows but poorly. It provides occasional classical shows but both too limited in scope and too few in number. It provides basically no rock or contemporary music whatsoever. And contemporary music is the category under which 80% of all records sold fall. Like the retailer we must ask for TV to be what it is — Canadian.

2) The radio station is the last of the three great thorns in my section covering the Music Industry. Under force (the CRTC rulings) radio has been "made to aid". But it is still only aiding rather than pioneering and radio is a pioneer in this land. The radio station programmer must ensure that he has music directors that know about music. I have been into, spoken with and dealt with at least 250 radio stations in Canada and have met probably only three Music Directors who know enough about music to warrant calling themselves "Music Directors".

Most of you are content to be "un-groovy" and loud voiced fools, much like your disc jockeys. Even after all the talk that has centred around you of late, you are still happily allowing your jocks to talk over beginnings and endings of records (therefore still not allowing the public the chance to learn to appreciate such musical and creatively planned things as "fades" and "intros"). You still allow the tastes of your south of the border comrades, to dictate your own. You still have an inferiority complex about records made in this country. You are still unable to choose the good Canadian records from the bad ones, even though you spend most of your time assuring everybody that you will play good Canadian records, should you receive them. You are the real bottleneck that is stopping our industry from becoming what, in the long run, would be your salvation as Canadian programmers — A Professional Industry. The radio station is still living in the 50's and the early 60's. It is now the 70's and just as a matter of interest albums are outselling singles ten to one in the 70's.

3) The press has one great duty which it is failing to perform: to seek out and report fairly and honestly what is happening in our community.

MUSIC PUBLISHERS

To the music publisher I will offer a reminder. For your Canadian copyrights, written by your Canadian songwriters, extend your horizon. There are thousands of other talented writers and artists, creating their own words and music, in this country who do not need your songs. Outside of this country there are millions who do.

SUMMARY

My analysis has been a general one in which there are exceptions. But make absolutely sure you are one of them before you disregard it.

We cannot excuse ourselves because of our market size. We are one of the fastest growing countries on earth. We already have several artists who can match the record sales and "drawing" capacity of any U.S. or U.K. artist. This could be called too idealistic an analysis. I don't believe it is but if you do just live up to half of its ideals, you will become a professional. The working day for this Industry does not start at 8:30 a.m. and end at 4:30 p.m. with a two hour lunch break, five days a week. It starts and "rests" whenever you feel it can, which should be very rarely. To be a professional, you must care. Because if you care, you will succeed. And the question is not when it will happen but more, how long will it take?
