

Mahogany Rush could do it

How do you measure the importance of talent in a country that lacks a "star system" and one that is plagued by critics who constantly catagorized "all Canadian talent" as garbage? It's a problem, one that we are aware of and the biggest factor in minimizing all efforts of a national breakout to "regional action". Canada just may be unique, in having rock and roll artists who never fade away — they just get older. Longevity seems to be the barometer of success for groups in Canada.

One such group, if you consider three years a long time, is the Montreal-based Mahogany Rush. It all began for the leader of the group, Frank Marino, three years ago when, at the age of fifteen, he apparently developed a guitar pickin' talent very close to that of the late Jimi Hendrix. Rather than going into too many lurid events of the past couple of years, suffice to say that Marino gathered the extraordinary talents of Jimmy Ayoub on drums and Paul Harwood, on bass, out of which came Mahogany Rush.

Marino was convinced he had talent. Many Montreal record people scoffed at a take-off on Jimi Hendrix — with the exception of Bob Nickford, a well-known promotion man. Nickford was so convinced that he had the next world's happening that he gathered all his shekles (about $300) a few friends, among them Pierre D'orsonnens, and launched Kot'ai Records — and Mahogany Rush. Their initial single, "Buddy" and "All In Your Mind" was released in May of 1972 with a follow-up album. The excitement at the Kot'ai camp was "unbelievable". On the local scene the Star, Le Devoir, La Presse and The Gazette were almost spontaneous in their show of hands for the Marino, Harwood, Ayoub trio. The rest of the industry —

ZILCH. It was obvious that manager Paul Levesque had a job on his hands but, like so many Canadian groups, time was obviously on their side.

NEW LOGO FOR CRIA

The Canadian Recording Industry Association which represents 19 of the major recording companies in Canada has introduced a new design for its logo. The logo is based on the CRIA letters and was designed by Carleton Cowan Public Relations Limited.

"The total visual and graphic program for the Association has been restyled", says Arnold Gosewich, President of the CRIA. "The new logo has been created to give a stronger visual identity for the Association and to mirror the innovative and forward looking image of the Association and its members".

CHESTER SIGNS AGREEMENT FOR AMERICAN PUBLISHING

Axanon Music, a Canadian Company which publishes material written by Quality recording artists Chester, has signed an agreement with Robbins Music Incorporated in the U.S. The deal was negotiated by George R. Struth, Vice-President and General Manager of Quality Records Limited.

Robbins Music Inc. is an ASCAP company and Axanon Music Ltd., an affiliate of Quality's Shediak Music Ltd., is a CAPAC company. Shediak Music also works as Axanon's publishing agent throughout the world.

Meanwhile, Chester themselves have wound up a successful gig in Barrie, Ontario where they were extremely well received. The first arrival of their single in that town quickly sold out at the local record store. After the Barrie gig, the boys return to the studios for some recording work.

Ron Scribner at Music Shoppe is engaged now in planning an Eastern Canadian Tour for Chester involving the college circuit and one nighters in various towns.

FOLK SINGER CATHY YOUNG SIGNS WITH GRT RECORDS

Toronto based singer Cathy Young has signed a solo recording contract with GRT of Canada, through Sheldon Safran Productions. Her first album for GRT, "Travel-Stained" will be released soon.

Cathy, though best known as a folk singer, has changed her style to what she likes to call "funky originals". At present she is busy with her own material as well as doing studio work with many different bands. Recently she has worked with Pagliaro, Dan Hill and has done the vocal direction for Abraham's Children.

Cathy began writing folk songs and playing

MUGGY DAY FOR FOLK AT TORONTO CITY HALL - AUG. 26

Mother Nature was on hand for the Folk Concert recently held in the Square in front of the Toronto City Hall. She dug into her bag of tricks and came up with an ingenious natural sauna. One of the organizers of the day informed me that the humidex reading placed the comfort level at about 105. Suffice to say it was hot and muggy.

The weather didn't seem to hamper the crowd on hand or the music. At one point during the afternoon the crowd swelled to around 5,000. This figure is somewhat down from the over 50,800 that have gathered at times to see rock bands perform in the square, but the weather was somewhat of a deterrent. Also, folk music does not draw the crowds that rock does. A folk crowd is more select and tends to be into the music far more than being into making the scene.

Those on hand were exposed to a fine array of upcoming and established talent. Opening the afternoon was RCA recording artist Robert David whose solo guitar and voice gave a nice gentle start to the concert. I think that gentle is a good keyword for the entire show. The music was never hard and allowed the people to sit back, relax and enjoy. Folk can be kept at a low volume and still maintain its impact. This is ideal in the

QUALITY TO DISTRIBUTE GROOVE MERCHANT LABEL

Quality Records is pleased to announce the signing of a distribution agreement with the New York based Groove Merchant Label. Quality's George R. Struth negotiated the deal with Sonny Lester of the Groove Merchant organization. The official signing took place on June 14 of this year. The Groove Merchant line represents some of the finest contemporary jazz performers including such notables as Groove Holmes, Reuben Wilson and Jimmy McGriff.

The acquisition of the Groove Merchant series is a valuable addition to Quality's Jazz catalogue and the initial release on the label, "Giants of The Organ Come Together", featuring Jimmy McGriff and Groove Holmes, has met with impressive dealer and consumer response.

An extensive merchandising and promotion campaign is slated for the outstanding Groove Merchant releases.

the guitar at age 15. From there she joined a band called Nucleus, then contracted to Mainstream Records of New York. Mainstream released her first solo album, "A Spoonful Of Cathy Young" late in 1967. Between then and now she has travelled throughout Canada and the U.S. working as a solo performer in clubs and in concert.

The GRT album was recorded at RCA studios in Toronto and George Semkiw handled the board duties. Six of the nine tunes on the album are Cathy Young originals and one of them "Coming Home", will be released as a single at the end of this month. The single is backed with Cathy's arrangement of Rod Stewart's "Maggie May".

situation of the City Hall Square which is surrounded by tall buildings. When a rock band cranks up the sound and starts to go the sound is sent bouncing and careening off a myriad of hotels, office buildings and other concrete giants.

Next up on the stage was Valdy (A&M) accompanied by Claire Lawrence and Cathy Stack. Valdy is the best known of all the performers on hand and his easy country-folk tunes were received extremely well by the crowd.

Valdy seen during recent folk concert at Toronto City Hall.

The one thing that springs to mind on viewing the Creemcheeze Goodtime Band (MCA) is their youth. The drummer is only 14 and though the remainder of the band is in their early 20's, they look like they should be hanging out at the hamburger joint near the high school. Their music is youthful, fresh and fun with a down-homey country twang to it.

Wrapping up the afternoon was Smile Recording artist Tony Kosenic who constituted my personal highpoint of the show. His unique vocal stylings and his depth of material were projected well. Unfortunately a lot of the crowd had drifted away as the afternoon wore on and they missed one of Canada's most promising singer-songwriters of today.

Co-ordinating the concert was Jeff Burns of MCA Records and Jim Macdonald of London records. These two guys worked really hard getting this thing together and they deserve a tip of the old chapeau. I felt that the day was a success and I'd like to see more concerts of this type at the square.

CANADIAN RECORDING INDUSTRYGETS WHAT IT DESERVES!!!!

I'm glad that there are people like John Mackey who are still honest enough to say what everybody else seems afraid to... that most of the stuff that's coming out of Canada is substandard.

Since RPM obviously doesn't seem to think the rock press exists outside of Toronto (and I'm not sure it DOES exist in Toronto), and, since programmers and assorted jocks (and RPM, natch) seem to be dictating the musical standards and tastes of this country, I thought I might add one more little note of dissent.

Not long ago, when I worked on a Rolling Stones documentary for CKVL-FM, I had the pleasure of working with one Lester Bangs, of Rolling Stone and Cream, is an exceptionally aware person and certainly one of the best music writers around.

"... the prophets of doom, the messengers of mediocrity, will be overwhelmed by the new generation of competent, creative, confident artisans and by all those of preceding generations who have already demonstrated their freshness of mind, their talent and their capacity for inspired leadership."

I asked Lester what impressions he had from afar of the Canadian music scene. His reply rang true: "Judging by the crap that's making it across the border," he said, "Everyone in Canada must either be chewing bubble gum and into Scientology, or else they're sitting on the front porch of a deserted mining shack with a guitar."

Mackey and Bangs are dead on. Since coming up here three years ago, I've noticed that, if anything, the crap that's supposed to be played on the air (and reviewed) has, if anything, gotten worse.

I know it's a bad idea to generalize, but I can spot a formula record that's come out of Toronto a mile away. Or, as The Wackers' Bob Segarini put it recently, "Toronto is fast becoming the L.A. of Canada. Ugh." (Segarini is from California).

I also noticed in the same ish a little rewritten press release about how the Stampedeers were getting heavy exposure in Quebec. Not true, and their concerts here didn't draw flies. When Crowbar was booked in here last December, 18 tickets were sold. Yea, Canadian Top 40 talent is really booming here. Try to book Edward Bear in Montreal, and you'll have a crowd of 15,000—14,000 disguised as empty seats.

I'm sure as hell not going to review Canadian records until you can at least criticize them on the same basis as any other recordings. There ARE good bands in Canada and mucho good talent, but Canadian record companies generally don't have a clue—Mahogany Rush, Roger Rodier, The Wackers come to mind immediately, three acts that could perform anywhere without the "Canadian" prefix, As long as you need that prefix, you're leaning on a crutch.

The sooner the 30 per cent rule is abolished the better: then the quality stuff will start receiving the support it needs.

And, as for RPM, one can only say this: the Canadian recording industry gets exactly what it deserves.

COCKBURN/NICOL SET NEWFOUNDLAND DATES

True North recording artist Bruce Cockburn has set Sept. 17 for an engagement at St. John's Arts Centre. Cockburn has picked up a sizeable following throughout the Atlantic Provinces. An album is expected for release to coincide with the Newfoundland date.

Also on tap for Newfoundland is Dave Nicol. He appears in St. John's Aug. 29 and 30. His current Columbia single, "Goodbye Mama" has made strong moves up the RPM 100 singles chart and is particularly popular along the Atlantic Seaboard. Nicol is originally from Newfoundland. The Cockburn/Nicol dates are being coordinated by Columbia's man in the field, Jim Bradley.

RICK DEEGAN PITCHES TO RECORD COMPANIES

Last year on many of the cable television outlets in Toronto a music show called Out-A-Space ran for twenty-six weeks. The show was produced, written and hosted by Rick Deegan and earlier this year he was given a cable TV award for the most professional program.

Many months of preparation for a network proposal fell by the wayside when both of the major television networks turned Deegan down. He decided that the best thing was to get his show back on the cable stations and he needed some support.

He approached 10 of the major record companies and asked them to underwrite the proposed new season of 26 Out-A-Space programs. Deegan held a screening of the final show in last year's season on Tuesday August 14 at the studios of Metro Cable where the show was produced. On hand for the screening were representatives of six of the companies invited, as well as members of the press. It was mentioned at the time that failure to show was not necessarily indicative of no support.

Last year Rick Deegan's show reached into 60,000 homes and his proposal for the new season hoped to increase this number substantially by making the show available to other cable companies.

The companies elected not to support Deegan on a further 26 weeks. Out-A-Space has been permanently shelved and Rick is now looking for a new gig.

CANADIAN GOLD FOR ELTON JOHN

MCA Canada have certified Elton John's recent chart topper, "Daniel" (40046) for Canadian Gold.

The single first entered the RPM 100 Singles chart April 14 of this year, making it to No. 1 June 2nd where it held for two weeks. He is currently represented on the RPM 100 Album chart with "Don't Shoot Me" (2100). He is now showing chart strength with his single, "Saturday Night's Alright For Fighting" (40105).

On his upcoming North American tour his only Canadian date will be at the Coliseum in Vancouver (Sept. 10).

ALICE COOPER SETS PLATINUM RECORD

Alice Cooper has scored a first for Canada, by carting away four Canadian Platinum Awards. WEA Music of Canada have certified the following albums for Canadian Platinum: "Love It To Death" (WS 1883), "Killer" (BS 2567), "Billion Dollar Babies" (BS2685), and "School's Out" (BS 2623).

With the exception of "Billion Dollar Babies", all Alice Cooper album product has been previously certified as Canadian Gold, a fitting tribute to an American group "first recognized in Canada before their U.S. success".

The Cooper group move into Toronto and recording sessions at Nimbus 9's new studios with Bob Ezrin looking after production chores, the week of Sept. 3 at which time the Platinum Awards will be presented.

DAMRON/PROPHET GERMAN RELEASE

The Dick Damron album, "Countryfied" and "Judgement Day Express" by Orval Prophet have been scheduled for release by CBS (Germany). The deal was firm by Columbia Canada's A&R Chief John Williams and Juergen Kramar of CBS Germany.

Damron is currently touring Germany in conjunction with the Alberta Government, and is showing good action on his Columbia deck, "The Prophet". Prophet will shortly set out on a round of dates that will take him through Ontario and into the U.S. His single, "Champlain & St. Lawrence Line" has shown strong sustaining power on the RPM Country Playlist.

MASONIC TEMPLE: ROCK PILE IS GOING TO SWING

The Masonic Temple at the corner of Yonge and Davenport has been the site and sound of many a musical happening in Toronto for many years. At one point it was called the Club 888 and moved to the R&B sounds that were so big in the early and mid-sixties. With the birth of Rock in England and on the West Coast the late sixties saw the Masonic Temple re-incarnate as a Fillmore Hall of light shows and pulsating high volume.

Now the Masonic Rock Pile 888 is undergoing another musical change and this one is a step back. Nostalgia being what it is today, this is an interesting situation. John Mahoney, a former RCAF fighter pilot during World War II, believes that there's a revival of the big-band music of his younger days. He believes this so firmly that he has undertaken the job of renovating the Masonic Temple and presenting dances featuring the big-band sound.

He hopes that a lot of people, both young and old, will come and dance to his extensive record collection. He says: "I think the big bands really had something. The music of today is very loud and people are getting fed up with it." He plans to charge $2.75 for admission but will not serve any liquor or beer because he wants people to dance; not drink.

GRT A&A RECORDS SUMMER PROMOTION

First phase of the programme began July 23, when GRT and A&A's began co-sponsoring the new Ace Trucking Company Series on CKFH Radio. This advertising featured two new GRT albums, Barry White and James Leroy with Denim. The new Dr. Music, Horn and Downchild Blues Band albums were added to complete the summer line-up.

Phase two involved print advertising between the two companies in the Toronto Star. Once again the new summer releases were advertised as available at all A&A locations.

The final section of the promotion involved a large, in-store display in A&A's Yonge street location. Featuring all the new albums, and multi-coloured showcard posters, the display gathered many interested customers. Larry Willmott has reported that sales on all the advertised GRT product increased substantially during the promotion.

ARTIST PROFILE —JOHN LAUGHLIN

John Laughlin and his producer Jay Telfer moved from Vancouver to Toronto where they hoped they could find more work and exposure. Laughlin's single release, "Do What You Can", has been an excellent vehicle for attention to his album,

"Morning Moon". The young folk singer was born in Montreal where he found he was influenced by both French and English languages — much of which is carried over to the compelling lyrics that have become a trademark for the young Stamp recording artist. His sessions were produced by Telfer in Vancouver's Studio 3.

His Stamp album, (ST 3-3) received the following comment in RPM's New Albums (July 21). "A fresh new voice from the west coast that sits nicely with country and adult contemporary folk. Soft but strong lyrical content that should melt away part of the Rockies' apathy. Lots of character in 'Come Autumn' with excellent accompaniment from piano, harmonium, tabla and bayan. Joni Taylor and Ann Mortifee supplying vocal backup."

GUESS WHO AND SCRUBBALOE CAINE ROCK TORONTO FAIR

Talk all you want about Canadian Content this and Canadian Artists that but at the Toronto Fair Grandstand on August 26 you heard Canada rockin'!!!

The Guess Who only play Toronto once a year. Every year in the past it's been an event and this year was no exception. The wheatfield rockers dug into their travelling hitbag and fired one after another into the huge crowd. I'm lousy at estimating the size of crowds but if this one wasn't a sell out, it was pretty damn close. And the crowd were there for the Guess Who. They shouted, cheered and applauded every tune as the five guys wailed through a tremendous set featuring "These Eyes", "Undun", "Bus Rider", "Orly", "Glamour Boy", and of course, a devastating performance of "American Woman".

What more can you say about Canada's numero uno rock band? They took the stage, dominated a large mass of people with their music and again proved why they are Canada's number one rock band. The whole evening got off to a great start and was punctuated by some great moments, like when a large Canadian flag with the Guess Who's grinning beaver emblazoned on the Maple leaf in the centre was raised from the stage and hung as a back drop for the entirety of the set. The good vibes from the concert carried over to a reception at Sam the Chinese Food Man, where band members, friends, record company people and press partied till the early morning hours.

Though it has to be called Guess Who night in Toronto, you can't avoid the big surprise of the evening. That surprise was delivered by a group called Scrubbaloe Caine. They opened the show admirably and really deserve credit as the warm-up group of the evening. I imagine that most of the people in attendance had never heard of Scrubbaloe Caine before this gig but they'll probably

CAPITOL RECORDS RENEWS ASSOCIATION WITH LOVE

Capitol Records is happy to announce that an agreement has been signed recently with Love Productions to extend the association between the two companies for a further three years. Capitol will continue to manufacture and market all product of Love's Daffodil and Strawberry labels. The agreement will apply to Canada only; Love will continue its policy of negotiating separate contracts for its artists outside Canada.

Love President, Frank Davies, looks forward with enthusiasm towards the prospects: "I am happy to renew my association with a company which has put so much financial support into the development of Canadian talent. Capitol has maintained its far-sighted attitude in this respect since early 1970 when our association began, and I am confident that both Love and Capitol will prosper from the relationship."

Capitol president, Arnold Gosewich added: "I am extremely pleased that Capitol and Love have agreed to extend their ties. It is final proof that the relationship has been on a strong base. Capitol is committed to being as intelligent and aggressive in marketing Love product as Love has been in discovering and developing their artists."

VANCOUVER ISLAND SITE OF MAJOR RECORDING COMPLEX

Henry Saskowski, Vice-President of Timbre Sound Industries Ltd. said, "The company will build a multi media recording complex on a 110 acre resort known as Yellow Point Lodge, approximately eight miles south of Nanaimo, on Vancouver Island."

Saskowski being an Electronic Design Engineer, heads his own company, Miter Productions of Los Angeles, and is also consulting engineer for Wally Heider Company of L.A. He designed and engineered the building of Thunder Sound studios in Toronto, along with Bill Snow who is now president of the newly formed Timbre Sound Industries.

The plans for the complex show an artistically designed, rustic looking building with a total floor space of 8,500 square feet. One large studio of 2,400 sq. ft. will be equipped for film scoring and will be able to record large orchestras. A cinema screen and projection equipment will be installed in this studio.

Another studio will occupy 1,200 sq. ft. and is designed to accommodate smaller groups. Both studios will be housed in the one building along with three control rooms. The office will be in a satellite building with intercom connections to the studios. The whole complex is designed so that audio, power and VTR jacks are extended to the outside of the building allowing for hookup with video trucks or mobile recording facilities.

The company has made arrangements for two 3M-M79 recorders with 24 track capacity. The consoles will be built by Delta Systems of Los Angeles to Timbre Sounds specifications. They will use automated computer mixing, making use of the computers memory bank for control settings on the mixing consoles.

This alone will be a great time saving device and allows for simultaneous recording and precise mixing.

It is hoped that the studio will be operating by early 1974. Any further questions should be directed to Timbre Sound, Board of Trade Tower, 1177 West Hastings Street, Vancouver 1, B.C.

never forget them and I'm sure that we'll all be hearing big things about them and from them in the not too distant future.

The six members of Scrubbaloe Caine took the stage without a big fanfare and received the polite applause that an opening act often gets. Before their set (unfortunately too short) was over they had the majority of the crowd on their feet stomping and clapping with the good sounds. There is an incredible amount of electricity given off when a huge audience and a band get off together. It transcends a mere live concert and becomes an event! Scrubbaloe Caine were the cause of this electricity. I can go on and on talking in all the cliches of how good they were, but suffice to say that I can't wait to see them perform again.

With Scrubbaloe Caine and the Guess Who, the August 26th Grandstand Show was 100 per cent Canadian and you could just feel the maple vibes in the air. It was just so great to see all those people getting off on being Canadian and digging Canadian sounds. The concert ranks in the top five of any shows I've seen since the early days of the first big rock concerts. — Peter Taylor

CANADIAN PLATINUM FOR GRT'S LIGHTHOUSE

Lighthouse have become the first Canadian group to certify for industry Platinum, which represents album sales in excess of 100,000 units sold. GRT has certified the Lighthouse album, "Lighthouse Live" (9230-1018) for the RPM Platinum Award. The set qualified during the month of August.

The Platinum Award will be presented to Lighthouse at their upcoming Toronto City Hall concert.

This marks the fifth industry recognition of album sales for the group. Their four previous album releases all qualified for Canadian Gold.

Ready for release is a new single, "Pretty Lady" (1230-63) featuring Skip Prokop on vocals. The song was written by Prokop as well. Also ready for release is their album, "Can You Feel It" (9230-1039) from which the single is being culled. This new album serves to introduce the group's new drummer, Billy King. It is also a policy of the group to showcase several members doing lead vocal.

Excitement is mounting in the U.S. where Lighthouse product is released on the Polydor label. A large-scale promotion campaign is now being readied to launch the new album.

Current Lighthouse lineup as follows: Skip Prokop, rhythm guitar and drums; Billy King, percussionist; Don Dinova, electric violin; Ralph Cole, lead guitar; Dale Hillary, sax; John Naslen, trumpet; Rick Armin, cello; Rick Stepton, trombone; Al Wilmot, bass; and Larry Smith, keyboards.

Tony Kosinec : Some things come from waiting.....

Tony Kosinec doesn't like the business of music.

By his own admission the 25-year-old writer, musician and singer would rather make music than deal in it; contracts and management labyrinths hold no interest for him. Currently etching an upward-bound path on the RPM singles chart with "All Things Come from God", Kosinec has also just released his first album for young Smile Records.

CONLON'S CORNER
patrick conlon

"Consider the Heart" is an inventive collage of moods united by fine, adventurous writing and occasionally awkward but always interesting musicianship. Kosinec, like many artists who resent the gap between recording and release, already places the album in his creative past. He claims he has moved beyond it and is far more excited about what he is doing now. In fact he is equipped with the material for another album.

We spoke recently over a Toronto lunch and, in person, Kosinec is hesitant and self-effacing. He conserves most of his energy for his performances and is reluctant to talk about his work because the task requires a clarity that eludes him offstage. He often speaks like someone who's been writing music for a week instead of eleven years: when you're young in music, purity and integrity are easy to guard. But Kosinec has been there, wherever "there" is. His self-protection leads from his own experience and not from a naive desire to avoid violation. The mechanics of music bore him outside the studio and, in an exposure situation like an interview, he tends to be cautious and withdrawn.

His album for Smile is the third in Kosinec's career. The first two were Columbia releases and the first of these, called "Processes", was produced by Paul Hoffert in the days when the Lighthouse luminary was a rootless jazz musician. Says Kosinec of his debut:

ITALY'S RANIERI READIES TOUR

Massimo Ranieri has scheduled three Canadian dates for his upcoming North American tour. He appears in Windsor Sept. 29, Toronto, Oct. 7, and in Vancouver Oct. 14.

Other dates on the tour include Boston (Sept. 28), New York (30), Hartford, (Oct. 5), Chicago (6), San Francisco (12) and in Hollywood (13). Tour organizer is Vincent Fragale.

Ranieri's latest album, "Erba Di Casa Mia", has just been released and should become an important promotion vehicle for his Canadian dates.

"It was a disaster all around. I didn't know what I was doing. I was serious about the songs but I knew nothing about how to communicate them. Even while I was making the record I wanted to quit."

Kosinec is somewhat happier with his second album, produced by Peter Asher and titled "Bad Girl Songs", which apparently shortened the distance between what he wanted to say and how he said it.

But the road has been bumpy since its beginning for Kosinec. He cut his first demo in a studio at 16 but it wasn't until three years later in 1968 that he was able to lure Eric Anderson out the back door of the Riverboat in Toronto to hear some of his songs. Erstwhile Talent Hustler Murray the K also listened that night and signed Kosinec to a five-year Columbia contract. Kosinec then made his first album in New York, toured the U.S. with Blood, Sweat & Tears, appeared in a Montreal movie with John Lennon and Yoko Ono, starred in some front-line coffee houses and concerts and then watched his career grind unhappily to a halt in 1970 with the release of his second album.

He shook hands with Columbia, when both sides exercised their exit options, and began a two-year silence. The Columbia/Murray the K experience had soured him and he was drifting into obscurity when Independent Record Producer Syd Kessler persuaded him into a Toronto studio for "Consider the Heart".

Although Kosinec relegates it to history, the album could easily be called one of the best of this year's Canadian output. Vocally, Kosinec displays incredible stamina and versatility. His lyrics are clean and simple and he serves them well. But he's impatient to return to the studio with another album:

"I really like recording but a year out of the studio is like doing nothing for me." Of his songs now he says: "I can't tell you how they're different from the ones on the album. I won't know until I get into a studio and really start working on them."

One of the songs on "Consider the Heart" is "Youngblood Alan", written for Kosinec's writer friend Alan Mayer. Although Kosinec admits the event described in the song is fictitious, it is an honest and unalloyed tribute to their friendship — and almost anachronistic in an age of veiled emotion. There is one line ("Alan, you get next to me") that destroys the territorial imperative with refreshing simplicity and positive conviction.

For Kosinec allows few people to come close, partly by choice and partly by inhibition. Although "All Things Come from God" may possibly make him a star, he stammers when discussing the tune. It's not a bone thrown to the Jesus movement but is rooted instead in his personal beliefs; out of all his negative experiences he has managed to salvage some inviolable principles and he protects them carefully.

He now faces the uneasy challenge of building his career all over again, with the success of the single and the album. He now manages his own affairs, a curious decision in the face of his reluctance to discuss business. He would rather choose the sequel to "All Things" himself although he grudgingly concedes the need for a group decision.

But all things are about to come to Kosinec from waiting and he is not about to surrender his creative freedom to popularity. He is one of Canada's most talented performers and the country will soon know it. If Kosinec can achieve stardom without the compromises that have plagued his career so far, he knows he will be happier in himself.

It's a balancing act that's as old as music itself and nobody knows better than Kosinec how easy it is to tip.

PERSONNEL ANNOUNCEMENT

Mr. Bob Rowe, National Sales Manager, and Mr. John Apsitis, Director of Operations, have announced the appointment of Mr. Harry Cunningham to the position of Western Regional Manager. This appointment is effective as of August 27, 1973.

Mr. Cunningham has several years of sales and distribution management experience with Canadian Pittsburgh Ltd. and comes to his new position with excellent qualifications.

Mahogany Rush began a tour of Quebec and the U.S. and Nickford planned a promotion barrage on record companies with D'arsonnens trying to get his promotion foot into the doors of radio stations. The group struck pay dirt first. They pulled such fantastic crowds and notices in the U.S. that Nickford was bombarded with offers. Their kicker was a sharing of the Eastbound Theatre stage (Detroit) with Bloodrock. An audience, who had never seen the group before, gave the Quebecers a standing ovation. One young fan got so caught up in the excitement of "the second coming" (Hendrix) she had to be hospitalized. Bernie Mendelson, president of Nine Records and Armand Boladian, president of Bridgeport Music, made Nickford an offer "he couldn't refuse". If you take all the side deals, the signing could amount to roughly $250,000. The Detroit firm is committed to produce five albums over the next thirty months. They have publishing for the world with Kot'ai retaining Canadian rights only — a nice deal for Mendelson and company. For the group, they'll be set up with sound equipment amounting to about $25,000 and, about $30,000 for their initial album plus publicity.

Radio stations are now showing an interest in the Mahogany Rush single. CJOM-FM in Windsor and the giant CKLW have discovered the record. According to Boladian, CKLW was so impressed with the record they aired the acetate — with product not yet in the stores.

Well, that was "Buddy"/"All In Your Mind" and their "Maxoom" album. A transition occurred within Rush. They taped several sides (enough for an album) at Montreal's Tempo Studios with Marino sharing production duties with Bob Segarini of The Wackers, and Nelson Vipond looking after board chores. Marino no longer sounds like Hendrix. He's himself — a great improvement over his initial waxings. He has developed into a smooth rock virtuoso with a writing perceptiveness that should, in time, number him among the best in Canada. On stage it's Frank Marino who commands the situation. On wax, he's out front as well but his sound is enhanced by two of Montreal's better rock musicians, Jimmy Ayoub and Paul Harwood.

The Gazette's Bill Mann recently wrote: Frank Marino commands attention, so impressive are his natural gifts." Juan Rodriguez, leading Montreal rock columnist penned the following in the Montreal Star: "He (Marino) is still experimenting and the ideas are flowing at a rapid rate on stage. Whether what he pours forth on guitar has any permanence is not an important question now. He is genuinely exciting as a musician, blessed with the kind of strange charisma that rock stars are made of." With this kind of press awareness — Mahogany Rush will be big time in Montreal, and hopefully the awareness will spread nationally.

Alice Cooper is a big baseball fan and the Yankees are his team. He expressed hope that the snake would give the team luck in their American league pennant race. Two days after the presentation in front of the Yankee dugout on home field, August 13, the Yankees took two straight from the California Angels.

CTV'S SHAKE ROCK AND ROLL IS FAR TOO SLICK

The next sound you hear is yet another mounting of the bandwagon as CTV joins the ranks of the nostalgic. Being presently produced for a September 15 debut is a half hour series featuring the sounds of the fifties. It's called Shake, Rock and Roll and from what I observed during a visit to the CFTO studios in Agincourt, Ontario it looks to be far too slick.

And what's wrong with being slick, you ask? Nothing, if slickness is what you're after, but rock & roll is not slick! It's gutsy and it's basic. Most of the rock & roll from the fifties is very simplistic two and three chord stuff. So why present this basic sound within a gaudy, television special-like format?

I ventured to the CFTO studios at the invitation of the producers to interview Bill Haley, who was in town to tape a segment of the show. After waiting for about 1½ hours I was informed that Mr. Haley doesn't like to do interviews because interviewers approach the rock revival thing as a put-down. That's unfortunate, but let's examine any kind of a revival. Nothing ever comes back. Not even rock & roll. People always look for something new and when that isn't available, something old will fill the gap nicely for the time being. Interest in a given era returns, but the sounds and sights never again can take precedence.

I'm not putting down rock & roll. I like rock & roll. It's good, fun music that you can get up and dance to, but it is dated as hell. Who knows how fads get started? Who knows how they end, but end they do. Someday the 1970's will be nostalgic because time passes and we progress, but we still like to remember the good times from the past.

Back to Shake, Rock & Roll. The show is slated for the early Saturday evening time slot. Bobby Curtola is hosting and along with special guest artists the show is filled out

CANADIAN BRASS TEAMS WITH O.F.S.O. FOR SCHOOL GIGS

The Canadian Brass has long been recognized for its innovative approach to in-school music demonstrations. Through its association with Prologue to the Performings Arts, the group has achieved an exceptional success in this field. Prologue is a non-profit organization which send dance, drama and music into Ontario Schools, with the assistance of the Ontario Arts Council.

Because of the Brass group's experience over the past three years, the arts council and the Ontario Federation of Symphony Orchestras approached it recently to be among the featured participants in a series of workshops which O.F.S.O. hopes to launch in the fall of 1973.

The aim of the workshops, according to Kenneth Winters, Executive Secretary of O.F.S.O., is for the musicians who are involving themselves in school presentations to come together for an exchange of ideas and techniques, with the Canadian Brass as the catalyst in the discussions and the fulcrum on which they turn.

with regulars Shirley Harmer, Robbie Lane, Sylvia Murphy, Ray Hutchinson and everyone is backed by the Little Big Band. Special guests already signed are the Coasters, Bo Diddley, Chubby Checker and Bill Haley & the Comets. Also on the show are four dancers who call themselves the pedal pushers. Executive producer for CTV on the series is Gerry Rochon.

So if you like your rock & roll slick and gaudy, you'll like this show. Personally, I would have preferred it taped in a high school gym replete with straight blue jeans, leather jackets, a few fist fights and the odd obnoxious drunk kid. Now that's rock & roll . . . "yakkity yak, don't talk back!!"

DAVE BROADFOOT OPENS NEW REVUE IN TORONTO

Canadian satirist Dave Broadfoot along with Susan Keller have put together a new revue that is playing a limited engagement Upstairs at Old Angelo's. The show is called "Take A Beaver To Lunch" and presents an array of comedy sketches that promise "to cover everything from Consumerism to Xavierism!" The revue will run until September 22.

NEW DIVISION ANNOUNCED FOR DOUGLAS MAXWELL LTD.

Douglas D. Maxwell, president of Douglas D. Maxwell Limited, a Toronto based Public Relations firm, announced the formation of a new division — Artists Canada Management, to handle the business affairs and promotion of Canadian musicians.

The move grew out of the management of the Festival Singers of Canada by the firm. Over the past three years, the choir achieved a fully professional status. For the past two seasons, the firm has also managed New Music Concerts, a Toronto series of contemporary music.

According to D. Robert Pugh, a partner in the firm, the decision to expand was made because of improved opportunities for serious musicians in Canada. Artists Canada Management will offer two types of services to its clients; a total personal management service and an agency service. Musicians will have the option of either service or may secure both.

Account executives for the new division will be Bob Pugh and Christine Smith.

QUINCY JONES: THE MAN'S MUSIC CONSTANTLY GROWS

Quincy Jones was in town to kick off the series of big band concerts at the Toronto Fair Bandshell. The concerts were free and came about with the co-operation between Coca-Cola Ltd. and the CBC. The series of concerts are being taped by the CBC for future broadcast on the national radio network.

Leading Guido Basso's orchestra, supplemented with some of his own musicians, Quincy Jones gave the 3,000 people in attendance an hour-and-a-quarter of his fine music. The selections represented a quick thumb through of his musical career which began in Seattle where he played in a group with Ray Charles.

With the help of A&M Records I was able to meet and spend a couple of hours talking to Quincy Jones. Over breakfast, in a leisurely atmosphere we spoke of many things in general, but of course music in particular. I was warned beforehand that Jones didn't like to be questioned on the past. It turns out that this warning was unnecessary. Quincy Jones is a man that is so full of creativity and new projects that just talking about what's happening to him right now could fill many hours.

I did manage to get him to step back just

RECORDING STUDIO NEWS: THUNDER SOUND, TORONTO

RPM is now in close contact with the recording studios around Toronto and will report on studio activity on a regular basis.

Recent action at Thunder Sound has been brisk. They report a big flow of jingle work for various agencies and production houses.

On the record scene they had Edward Bear in to do their latest LP for Capitol "Close Your Eyes" as well as the follow-up single, "Walking On Back". Kanata Records Peter Foldy has been receiving good success with "Bondi Junction" which is being released in the States on Playboy Records. An album by Foldy is in the works now.

H.P. & Bell have been busy at Thunder producing Bill King's new single "Canada" f/s "Give Me Love" and Flying Circus' new album "Last Laugh". From this album will come the single "Jabber Jabber". Next month will see Capitol releasing Bob McBride's latest 45 "Treasure Song" f/s "Straight Ahead".

Presently in the works is an initial album by bluesman Jeff Adams which is under negotiations with several major labels at the present time. Producers Chuck Aarons and Jim Ackley for Kushmier Productions are hoping for a Fall Release for this one.

Dennis Murphy is in the studio producing a new album for the Irish Rovers on Potato Records. He will then produce Bonnie LeClerc a newly signed artist with Warner Brothers.

Thunder Sound will also be wrapped up in producing soundtracks for the new Country Music show that is being produced for Global Television due for airing in January.

a little and talk about the soundtrack to Sam Peckinpah's film "The Getaway". The film had a soundtrack which didn't work and Peckinpah was frantic. He got hold of Quincy Jones and in a matter of weeks the soundtrack was composed and recorded. Quincy Jones is no lightweight to the soundtrack ring. Almost everyone is familiar with his music in such films as "The New Centurions", "In the Heat of The Night" and his phenomenal work on "In Cold Blood". His music is heard every week on television as it opens and closes "Ironside", "Sanford And Son" and "The New Bill Cosby Show".

Currently in the works are three major projects and of these "Black Requiem" is taking precedence. It's a project based on a show done in Houston Texas three years ago with Ray Charles. Jones describes the project this way: "It's an evolution musically and sociologically of Black People from Africa to the United States at the present time. It's almost a chronological anthology of black music. It will be dramatized through the premise of what the Requiem is all about . . . a prayer for the dead and hope for the living."

Through the Black Requiem, Quincy Jones hopes to make both white and black people aware of the history and the culture that underlies the present image of black people. He especially wants to heighten the awareness of young blacks who really have a hard time relating to the past experiences of blacks in America. This and the other two projects presently on the go are being written simultaneously as screenplays and recordings. The Requiem is to debut either on Martin Luther King's birthday or on the anniversary of his assassination, either January or April.

One of the other projects has been three years in the works. It's based on John Milton's "Paradise Lost" and promises some heavy visuals and some things that have never been seen on the screen before.

On top of these pet projects are a full schedule of personal appearances, concerts and recording sessions which all add up to Quincy Jones the artist. He's a man who refuses to stand still creatively. He's constantly growing and changing, expanding his musical horizons and personal goals.

INDIAN SUMMER BLUEGRASS FESTIVAL CANCELLED OUT

With the great success of the first annual Ontario Bluegrass festival held in Carlisle, Ontario from August 3-5, another similar event was planned for mid-September. Unfortunately the Indian Summer Bluegrass Festival slated for September 14-16 has been cancelled. The promoters felt that there wasn't sufficient time available to adequately promote the festival.

Right now the festival promoters are beginning work on a festival with a date for late spring or early summer of next year. They feel that the popularity of bluegrass music is picking up greatly in the last while. The music transcends any age barriers and people of all ages and backgrounds are becoming interested in the good-time sounds.

A&M SAYS WATCH OUT FOR PHONY MICHAEL MURPHEY

An unfortunate incident involving a bogus Michael Murphey has been reported to A&M Records of Canada by an irate Toronto record dealer. A customer claiming to be artist Michael Murphey used abusive and offensive language towards the store staff.

Upon receiving the complaint A&M contacted the real Murphey presently at work on his third album in Austin, Texas. At the time of the incident he was in the studio recording.

Even though this incident involved someone who bears a strong physical resemblance to Murphey, we advise you to contact the A&M promo office in Toronto as quickly as possible should you come in contact with someone claiming to be Murphey. Michael Murphey himself is planning a visit to Canada in the near future and has sent word that he would like charges pressed against the imposter. A&M has reported that a suspect has been picked up, but they believe he has been let off with a warning from police.

This is not the first instance of someone posing as a recording artist. Luckily this latest incident did not involve any theft, but it could happen again, so be advised.

SINGERS BRING SUIT AGAINST ABC-DUNHILL

ABC-Dunhill Records is coming under fire from former Mamas and Papas members John and Michelle Phillips. The singers have filed a $9 million civil suit against the company claiming that their royalties were withheld. The suit also named the parent American Broadcasting Co. and three of its music publishing subsidiaries.

Phillips claims that ABC pressed records without authorization and without payment being made to him and the rest of the group. He further claims that ABC sold "returned" records at discount prices after telling the group that they had been destroyed.

BILLY PRESTON JOINS ROLLING STONES TOUR

A&M Recording artist Billy Preston has been set to join the Rolling Stones on their upcoming international tour. Preston will perform with his own band as the opening act and then join the Stones on keyboards for their set. Though this marks the first time Preston has toured with the Stones, he has already recorded with them on "Sticky Fingers" and their forthcoming album, tentatively titled "Goat's Head Soup", to be released in early fall. The tour will begin on September 1st and run through the end of October.

Preston is a respected session man and a vibrant stage performer whose past credits list playing on later Beatles' albums and appearing with George Harrison and other assorted heavyweights at the two Concerts For Bangladesh. Preston, along with the others involved in the historic concert to aid the Bangladesh people, won a Grammy for the live album recorded during the event.

NEW ALBUMS

LONGDANCER If It Was So Simple MCA 339

Another release from the Rocket Records family with Ian Matthews lending a hand on the production of the set. All four members sing and exchange lead vocals with great ease. The harmonies also add to the clear clean and soft feeling of the album. The guys really put themselves out on "Crying Out Loud" and you can tell.

THE NEW YORK DOLLS New York Dolls Mercury SRM 1-675-Q

The toast of the New York Underground comes above ground for their first album. They have been receiving a lot of press due to their flashy, outrageous stage act. The music is bitchy and hard with a 1967 acid rock edge to it. And this is yet another Todd Rundgren production . . . A finger in every pie for the runt.

NAZARETH Razamanaz A&M SP 4396-W

The British Isles send forth yet another hard rockin' group of lads, this time from Scotland. This is the group's third album, but the first for A&M. It contains their big hit from over 'ome "Broken Down Angel". You might notice the Deep Purple influence on the album and likely so as it's produced by Roger Glover.

HELEN REDDY Long Hard Climb Capitol SMAS-11213-F

This lady has a fine voice and uses it well as she wends her way through tunes by John Sebastian, Paul Williams, Buffy Sainte-Marie and others. Not one rough edge on this album . . . easy listening. Contains the big, smash, monster hit "Delta Dawn".

SCRUBBALOE CAINE Round One RCA APL1-0263-N

New group . . . new album . . . good sounds. It's rather difficult to pin down the sound of Scrubbaloe Caine. The dynamics of their music defies pigeon holing. I guess it's best to call it funky blues-rock. Nine great tunes. Most notably "Crazy 'Bout A Blues Guitar" and a dynamite version of Elvis' "Trouble".

CHEECH AND CHONG Los Cochinos Ode SP 77019-W

More funny stuff for all you counter culturalists out there with an extended cut of over 12 minutes being devoted to "Pedro and Man At the Drive-in". Also included is a song that features numerous heavy-weight musicians as back-up, entitled "Basketball Jones". The song is already listed as hit-bound on CKLW.

GARRARD INTRODUCES ZERO 100C TURNTABLE

Some time ago Garrard brought out a turntable that featured zero tracking error. It was named the Zero 100 and Garrard engineers have been busy improving on the design. They've come up with the Zero 100C, which is everything its predecessor was and then some.

A built in record counter has been added, which automatically records the number of records played. Basically, it is a stylus life timer. The total scale registers 1600 plays, or about 550 hours of stylus play. Also on the Zero 100C, cueing has been damped upwards, for a smooth lifting motion, even if activated too quickly or by strong pressure.

The new improvements, though extremely valuable to play, only constitute a minimal price increase over the Zero 100.

NEW ITALIAN GROUP DEBUT SINGLE ON A&M

On a recent trip to Europe Herb Alpert heard the record of a new Italian group called Drupi. He negotiated the North American rights to the single, entitled "Vado Via", for A&M and it was just released here last week.

The song, in Italian, has wide range appeal and would fit easily into an adult contemporary or MOR format. In France the song is a solid number one and also occupies a berth in the Italian top ten.

The song is quite long (4:03) but is structured so that it may be cut to suit time limitations.

BOBBY GRIFFITH SINGLE RELEASED IN ENGLAND

The release of "The Badger's Song" by Bobby G. Griffith in England marks the fourth European release of a Quality distributed artist in the past month. "The Badger's Song", Bobby's newest single is slated for release by the Philips organization later in September and a concentrated promo campaign is planned to establish Bobby in the continental market.

As a result of heavy consumer demand in France, Bobby's previous release, "The Sound Of Peace" is being re-released in that country.

Bobby G. Griffith is now touring Western Canada, visiting stations in personal promotion of his current single.

GRAND FUNK/LEE MICHAELS VARSITY STADIUM AUG. 16

I'd like to try a different approach to reviewing Grand Funk Railroad, who last week headlined the wrap-up show of the Music at Varsity series. Adjectives always play an important role in any type of review and often a writer has to grope for the right ones to fit the situation. I'm going to reverse the process and use words that don't describe Grand Funk. Words like . . . subtle . . . intricate . . . innovative . . . complex . . .

Though none of the four members of the group are any of the above things, they are highly successful and this success has made each of them very rich. Grand Funk began with Mark Farner on guitar and lead vocal, Mel Schacher on bass and Don Brewer on drums. Brewer has to be one of the dullest drummers I have ever had the misfortune of hearing. Every rock show has to have "The Drum Solo"! I have really come to hate "The Drum Solo", especially when it is being played by a drummer who lacks the ability to pull it off. The group has recently been augmented by Craig Frost on organ, who's job I believe is to fill up the holes left by the other three. He doesn't do it. This stems mainly from the fact that he is drowned out by the other three. But, when you find yourself number four on the Grand Funk pecking order, I guess you just have to try harder.

But, it's their massive success that you just can't argue with. Somebody out there likes Grand Funk Railroad. Actually, millions of somebodies out there love Grand Funk Railroad and have laid down many of their hard earned shekles to help the boys attain an impressive collection of eight gold records.

On the strength of this success they have anticipated their latest album which will shortly be gold standard and they have had the record pressed on gold coloured vinyl. The album, "We're An American Band", is on Capitol Records and contains the hit single of the same name also pressed on gold vinyl. The album jacket is done in a highly reflective gold foil and the package as a whole is very impressive and well done.

At the concert Grand Funk played a rather long set featuring most of their popular songs from past albums. Many groups refuse to play old stuff, but GFR know their fans and know what they came to hear. The crowd of over 12,000 people were predominantly Grand Funk fans who cheered, danced and clapped along. One dude behind me knew all the words to all the songs and accompanied the band throughout the set.

So, even if I don't like the group personally, I can't dispute the fact that other people do. It was a successful concert and the enjoyment of the crowd gave the evening a big boost of good vibrations.

Opening the show for the train was Columbia Recording artist Lee Michaels. Lee is a musician who has been around a long time and has chalked up regional fame and a kind of cult following. His fame is growing now as are his musical horizons. Unlike his contemporaries working on the Railroad he doesn't like to play the old bag. He wants to constantly change and grow musically. Primarily known as a damn good organist, Lee Michaels now has switched completely to the piano, which itself is being phased out in favour of the guitar.

He played a strong set that featured some of his better known tunes but basically kept to new material. He has expanded his band to three members by adding bassist Joel Christie to himself and Keith "Brown Rice" Knudsen on drums. The music was good and delivered well, but as I said before, the crowd were there to see Grand Funk Railroad and Lee's band only received polite response. — Peter Taylor

LUIGI BOCCHERINI Six Symphonies Op. 35
I Filarmonici di Bologna conducted by Angelo Ephrikian
TELEFUNKEN SKH 24-T/-3 Three discs

The vast instrumental and orchestral output of Luigi Boccherini has suffered extreme neglect and it is only in this year that the situation has shown signs of improvement with the recent release on Philips of the six Symphonies Op. 12. Following close enough to be tail-gating, the Telefunken release features refined, sensitive, performance of the Six Symphonies from Opus 35 played by I. Filarmonici di Bologna under the direction of Angelo Ephrikian. The works are performed here from the original manuscripts and the conductor Angelo Ephrikian is preparing the works for publication. Therefore, the performances can claim a high degree of authenticity.

BEETHOVEN'S CLAVIER

Jorg Demus - pianist
BASF KHF 20328 (two discs)

This most interesting two record set was recorded in the Beethovenhaus, Bonn on Beethoven's Hammerflügel, which was built by Conrad Graf. The instrument was acquired by the Beethoven house in 1889 and was restored in 1964. Pianist Jorg Demus here performs the Sonata No. 24 in F sharp Op. 28, the Rondo in G Op. 51 No. 2, the Sonata No. 30 in E Op. 109, the Sonata No. 31 in Ab Op. 110 and the six Bagatelles Op. 126. The instrument produces a sound of remarkable character. Loud, rapid passages which sound merely brilliant on a modern grand have a positive animal ferocity here. One also notices a distinctive change in tone when the soft pedal is employed. This produces a very muted, lute like effect totally different from that of a modern grand. Jorg Demus' performances are outstanding and he seems thoroughly at home with the instrument and its unusual tonal possibilities. This disc is available in Canada through BASF Canada Ltd., 5850 Cote de Liesse Rd., Town of Mount Royal, Quebec.

ALEXANDER GOEHR Violin Concerto Op. 13
IAIN HAMILTON Violin Concerto Op. 15

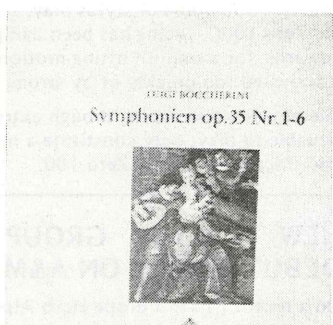

Manoug Parikian
Royal Philharmonic Orchestra conducted by Norman Del Mar
Scottish National Orchestra conducted by Alexander Gibson
EMI ASD 2810

I cannot urge you strongly enough to seek out this import which contains a performance by Manoug Parikian, of the Violin Concerto Op. 15 by Iain Hamilton. This Scottish composer is rapidly gaining a reputation as one of the greatest living composers. His violin Concerto was completed in 1952 and was written in memory of his father who had died the previous year. This recording was made in association with the British Council and features superb playing by the soloist and the Scottish National Orchestra conducted by Alexander Gibson. It is great to discover that there are a few diamonds in the dung heap of contemporary music.

VIVALDI Psalm 126 "Nisi Dominus"
Magnificat

Soloists and Kammerorchester des Angelicum conducted by Carlo Felice Cillario
SCHWANN MUSICA SACRA AMS 2525

This exciting release provides further proof of the high quality of the religious music of Antonio Vivaldi which remained quite unknown to the musical world until very recently. Psalm 126 "Nisi Dominus" is written for Alto solo, Viola d'amore, string orchestra and organ and is performed here with great beauty and style by Anna Maria Rota. Side two contains the Magnificat in G minor for quartet of soloists, choir, string and organ. The music is florid and highly ornamental, with beautifully expressive solos and lively choruses. Performances and recording could not be better, and the pressings are a dream. The disc is available in Canada through the distributing firm Germandisc Import Co. Ltd., 4895 Dundas St. W., Islington, Ontario. Strongly recommended.

MONTEVERDI Lamento d'Arianna
Scherzi Musicali
Madrigali

Rodolfo Farolfi - Tenor; Genuzio Ghetti - Viola da gamba;
Mariella Sorelli - Cembalo
TELEFUNKEN SAWT 9591-A

This beautifully recorded disc opens with a performance of "Il Lamento d'Arianna". This brief ten minute aria is all that has survived from Monteverdi's opera "Arianna". This is followed by a selection of arias for solo voice from the collection "Scherzi Musicali", performed here by Rodolfo Farolfi. The disc concludes with a performance of the Madrigal "Bel pastor" sung by Rodolfo Farolfi and Karla Schlean. The text in Italian is included with the notes but no translation is provided.

COUPERIN Pieces de Clavecin
Rafael Puyana -Harpsichord
PHILIPS 6700 035 (Two discs)

A sumptuously packaged feast of harpsichord music by Francois Couperin Le Grand performed with formidable artistry by Rafael Puyana. Couperin's harpsichord pieces were published in suites or "ordres" and numbers 8, 11, 13 and 15 are presented here in their entirety. The instrument used here by Mr. Puyana was built in 1646 by Andreas Ruckers. The excellent brochure enclosed provides a description of each work in English, French and German and includes fascinating photographs of the interior and exterior of the harpsichord's ornately decorated case. It is to be hoped that further releases are planned with the same artist to complete this composer's vast and brilliant output.

Not much change in the Toronto BBM

by Dave Chadwick

Compared to the Vancouver market which we examined last week, the summer BBM in Toronto revealed few surprises. The top three stations remained CFRB, CHUM and CKEY.

However, there were two stations making surges in the ratings; they were CFTR and CHUM-FM. CFTR, the Rogers station newly re-programmed with contemporary music, was the only station in Toronto to record an increase in circulation (everyone else showed some sort of loss). Whereas the no. 4 spot was considered to be a three-way tie in the last book (CFTR, CBL and CKFM-FM), CFTR can now claim to have pulled out of this group to take number four position all alone. Declining even deeper into the lower levels of the BBM survey was CKFH (circulation dropped from 229,400 in March to 156,700 for this latest survey).

On the FM dial, all stations were shown with losses in numbers, but CHUM-FM lost the least. This performance enabled it to become the no. 2 FMer in town, behind CKFM. CHFI-FM slipped from no. 2 to no. 3 spot. The average quarter hour ratings shown in the table (since they are 7AM to 7PM only) have under-represented the evening performance of the FM stations, but as an explanatory note we can say that CKFM and CHUM-FM both become powerhouses at night and climb several notches higher than the 5, 6 or 7 slot that they occupy during the day. CHUM-FM looks especially good when you restrict the audience to just the 18-35 group.

The table on this page consists of July '73 figures supplied to us by BBM.

COUNTRY JOCKS! Get in on the BIG COUNTRY RADIO AWARDS

RPM's Big Country Communication Meet (see details elsewhere in this issue) will include an awards presentation to Canada's top country radio personalities. There will be one award for announcers with under two years experience and another for announcers with over two years. Even if you are not attending "Big Country", you can submit your aircheck. Follow the procedure below. Tapes must be AIRCHECKS, 15 minutes maximum at 7½ i.p.s. Edit your show to cut out the middle of songs and the middle of any commercials not done by you. No tapes can be returned. Mailing deadline is September 16. Enclose the following information attached to your tape box:

- (1) Name and address
- (2) Station and city
- (3) Your time period
- (4) Number of years in radio

The
ProgrammersMAJOR MARKET
ADDITIONS

Chartbuster of the week: Chester. Confirmation of total hit status came this week with four major chart additions, and enough sales reports to make "Brighter" one of the ten hottest-selling Cancon items of this year. Adding the side to chart over the last seven days were CJBK, CHED, Radiomutuel and CKGM. It had previous charted status from: CFRW, CFGO, CKLW, CKRC, CHED and CKLG. The only word for this record is CANADIAN SUPERHIT.

Super strong on charts this week is the Allman Brothers record, which (if it keeps up this pace) should be totally established by next week. Four major operations charted it to go with one station from last week (CKRC). The four to give it a number this week were CKXL, CKLG, CFRW and CKLW. There are seven more Allman stations under "major market playlist additions."

Edward Bear finally broke through with good chart action this week. It's been out for a while, but this was the week CFGO, CFRW and CHED said okay. Previously charted by CKOM, CJME and CKLW.

Edgar Winter looks promising these days. He was charted by CKXL, CFGO and CKLG this week (last week's chart cumulative was CKRC). And the record also has four more stations in "major market playlist additions."

Doobie Brothers are starting to happen. CJME charted "China Grove" this week to join the previous group of CKOM and CKLG. There are two other key stations in "major market playlist additions" who are on the record.

Stevie Wonder has eight stations playlisting "Higher Ground" (see playlist additions) but two stations have already given it chart positioning. They are CJME and CKLW.

Gary & Dave is one of your stronger Canadian singles now, though it took a few stations quite a while to see it. Added to CKOM's chart this week (previous stations charting the disc were CKXL, CKLG and CHED). There are three more biggies in the playlist additions section.

MAJOR MARKET
PLAYLIST
ADDITIONS

Airplay smash of the week is Stevie Wonder. "Higher Ground" was playlisted by CKXL, CHAM, CFGO and CFRW this week, and when you add our previous total (CJME, CHLO, CHED and CKOM) that gives you a total of eight key-station playlists. And there are two chartings as well (see "major market chart additions").

Equally deserving the title of airplay smash of the week is the Allman Brothers side. Onto CHLO, CKOM, CJME and CJBK this time around. The previous week's count was CFCF, CKXL and CFGO and there are five charts tallied in "major market chart additions."

Newly revived in Canadian airplay is Looking Glass. It's been out for almost three months, but major stations have largely been resistant. This week, the first action was reported (CKXL, CJME and CKCK playlisted it).

Edgar Winter is almost confirmed coast-to-coast, but lacks a couple of stations. "Free Ride" got the okay this week at CHLO, CKOM and CJME while last week at this time the only playlist it had was CKXL. Over the week it also gained chart numbers and has five chartings accounted for in "major market chart additions."

Gary & Dave was our strongest new Canadian airplay item this week, with three key playlistings, namely CFGO, CJBK and CKGM. See also "major market chart additions" for four more key stations.

Marvin Gaye is kinda slow these days, though he's big in the States. Added by CFTR and CKGM (from last week, CHAM).

Doobie Brothers are making progress. Playlisted by CKXL this week with CKOC from last week. Also see the chart additions section for three others.

Cliff Edwards has scattered Canadian play these days. Added by CHED; last week's RPM reports showed CFCF and CKXL.

Five other records are new, and possible. Time will tell ones have got it in the grooves: Bobby Goldsboro, Tom Fogerty, Joey Cee, Skylark, and Painter. None of these records had made an appearance in RPM's research before this week, when they all garnered two reports apiece. Here's you breakdown: Goldsboro onto CHAM and CFGO; Fogerty onto CHAM and CKOM; Joey Cee onto CFGO and CFCF; Skylark (it's not Canadian this time) onto CKOM and CKGM; and Painter's "West Coast Woman" onto CKGM and CKOC.

BREAKOUT MARKET ADDITIONS

This section of The Programmers recaps the new music added to the two-station markets of Canada. These programmers all operate in a competitive market situation, yet have shown that they can often "pick" a hit before the major markets are aware of it.

Motown product is pretty big this week among the two-station markets, namely Stevie Wonder and Marvin Gaye, each with three new stations. Stevie Wonder grabbed CKRD, CKWS and CKPT in its initial week; Marvin Gaye added CKLC, CKWS and CKPT to last week's tally of CHEC.

New, and looking hot pretty quickly, is Albert Hammond. From the advance record mailing, CHSJ, CHNL and CFJC put it on the airwaves right out of the box.

Early signs of acceptance this week for Cross Country and Allman Brothers. Cross Country added this week at CJIC and CKPT (from last week, VPCM) while the country-rocking Allman Band went onto CKWS and CKPT (from last week, CHSJ).

More records in the early stages to consider: Doobie Brothers, Spinners, Steely Dan and Marty Butler. Doobie Brothers got CKCY and CKWS this week (CKLC last week); Spinners added by CJIC (CKRD and CFJC from last week); Steely Dan went onto CKLC (CKWS and VPCM last week); and Marty Butler was added at CKRD (CFJC and CJIC from last week's reports).

Four records new this week, each with two stations to report off the bat. They are New York City, Painter, Bill King and John Denver. New York City's "Make Me Twice The Man" hit CJIC and CKRD. Painter went on air at CKWS and CKPT. Bill King's flip "Give Me Love" was played by CFBC and CHSJ. John Denver's LP title song was added at CHNL and CJIC.

The Programmers TRIBAL DRUM

Johnny Murphy, former program director of VOCM St. John's, is now the music director of CHML Hamilton. Murphy is one of the originals in programming/communications. It was his column in Cash Box, on a weekly basis, that first brought international attention to Canada.

Chuck Jackson (Shotgun Jackson) has left air staff at CKLW Windsor for WGRQ Buffalo's prime 6-10PM spot.

New CKGM Montreal staffer is Tom Watson from KSEA San Diego.

New program director at CHIC Brampton is Scott Cameron of CJRN Niagara Falls. Scott also brings Toronto, Montreal and Kitchener radio experience with him.

CHUM Toronto much in evidence at this year's CNE. The station "sponsored" the Wildcat, one of the most hair-raising roller coasters on the midway, and people leaving the ride had CHUM Wild Cat stickers applied to their clothes, providing walking advertisements all over the midway. Then, via a Capitol tie-in, the radio station presented a 12-hour rock concert on Youth Day. Appearing, at no charge to the audience from 10:30AM until 10:30PM, were: Fergus, Ronney Abramson, Buffalo Bob Smith & The Howdy Doody Show, Flying Circus, Christopher Kearney, Bill King, Fludd, Foot In Coldwater and Bob McBride.

New 6-11PM jock at CKPT Peterborough is Gene Stevens of CHYR Leamington.

RPM 25/8/73 carried the CRTC agenda for the September hearings in Ottawa. Now withdrawn from that list is the application of Kootenay Broadcasting for a four-station AM/FM network. That application had requested permission to broadcast a common all-night show on CJAT AM & FM in Trail, plus CKEK Cranbrook and CFEK Fernie.

Due to the heat waves hitting Ontario last week, CHML Hamilton played "snow songs", about three an hour, (while it was 98 degrees in downtown Hamilton). Examples: "Let It Snow", "Winter Wonderland", "Frosty The Snowman", and "Snowfall" by Doris Day.

New newsman at CJBK London is Rodd Banks of CKJD Sarnia. This brings the CJBK news staff up to nine people, second largest in London after CFPL. New heavier emphasis on information programming and local news seems to be paying off for CJBK in keeping it a strong No. 2 in the four-station market.

NOTE TO CAMPUS STATIONS: RPM's procedure for accepting your playlist additions is as follows (Please take note as there are a couple of changes from last year). Please.....no phone calls. Type or print clearly, your new records, in the week that they are first added to your music list. Above the titles, give your station name, campus and city, plus your (contributor's) name and the date. No other information need be provided, and there is a limit of ten titles (five LP and five singles, or any combination). While we can accept your complete music list for chart research purposes, just marking which records on the list are new will not get them published in the CAMPUS ADDITIONS section of The Programmers. They can only be printed if the ADDITIONS ONLY appear on a separate page of your playlist. And each title is only to be reported ONCE, in the week it is first aired over your station. Include any station gossip or news items along with your new music, if you'd like the industry to be aware of what's happening.

CRTC FIGHTS FOR BETTER TV PROGRAMMING

The Canadian Radio-Television Commission is fighting for better, more relevant programming on TV. This is the trend that has emerged from recent decisions on TV broadcasting in the Vancouver/Victoria areas and in the Edmonton market.

In Vancouver, three private companies had applied for channel 10, which would be an independent station, since the market is already served by CBC and CTV. But the CRTC decided "the three applications for the use of Channel 10 in Vancouver do not adequately reflect the potential of a rapidly growing city with the unique cultural possibilities inherent in its location and people. They fail to broaden the television programming services already provided so as to give greater scope to the interests, views and concerns of people living in the Vancouver area." The CBC application for Channel 10 in Victoria was denied, because firstly, "the Commission was not impressed by the programming plans proposed by the CBC in its application." Another consideration was that Victoria's existing privately-owned CBC outlet planned to switch to CTV, and the CRTC was concerned about duplication of service if several stations were to switch frequencies and/or networks. Since TV channels are getting scarce, the CRTC wants to look at the whole question of re-allocation of services in British Columbia.

In Edmonton, there were five applications for a TV licence for the third station in that city. Edmonton Video Limited won out over the four others, because "the Commission regards as an important commitment the applicant's intent to televise in prime time locally produced programs utilizing Edmonton talent and creative resources. These should provide real alternatives to the

BOYLE COMMENTS ON BROADCAST TRENDS

Harry Boyle of the Canadian Radio-Television Commission made some interesting remarks at a recent discussion on justice and freedom of speech in broadcasting, one of the topics at the Canadian Speech Association conference at Toronto's Seneca College. At one point he described the CRTC as somewhat of a "toothless tiger" and said he was pleased

TWO NEW FMers OKAYED BY CRTC

The Canadian Radio-Television Commission has announced approval of applications for two new FM stations in Ontario. One will be located at Big Trout Lake and the other in Kitchener.

The Big Trout Lake licence was given to Roger Christopher Cromarty on behalf of a society to be incorporated, and specifies English and Cree programming. Though the CRTC was a little concerned over the shaky financing arrangements for the station, it felt that the development of radio in isolated parts of Canada required special consideration and encouragement, and approved the application. The licence, however, is referred to as "on an experimental basis for a period expiring March 31, 1975." The CRTC also noted the CBC had offered to provide programming and equipment to the applicant, and planned eventually to bring the community and others in Northern Ontario, their first network radio. The CRTC "encourages the CBC to proceed as quickly as possible with this plan."

The Kitchener FM licence was awarded to Wired World Inc., a community organization, and lasts until July 31, 1976. The application proposed a non-commercial, experimentally-programmed radio station. Said the decision: "the Commission will follow with interest this experiment in facilitating community expression on radio and hopes that it may help develop a more meaningful role for community dialogue in the private broadcasting sector. It is the understanding of the Commission that if community support is not sufficient to sustain the project, the licensee will voluntarily surrender the licence. The Commission wishes to emphasize that although the service to be provided will be non-commercial, simple statements of sponsorship of an institutional nature will be allowed if the statements do not specifically promote the sponsors' products or services."

programming presently available in prime time from other television stations in the area." The independent, non network character of the station was seen as such a good thing by the CRTC, that Selkirk Broadcasting was directed to withdraw from the licensee company. The station will supplement its own programming by "purchasing programs from other Canadian sources."

The thrust of all the above? You'd better have some new and creative programming up your sleeve if you want a licence from the CRTC.

that the Commission's style was not one of total dictatorship, but rather one of consultation. He felt that, in a free enterprise system, broadcasters should be left alone as much as possible.

However, there still are several problems within the broadcasting industry, said Boyle. One is that broadcasters "diligently and resonantly cry out in the cause of human rights" without ever acting in terms of their "human obligations." However, the CRTC can't pressure them in this area, except in very general ways. The Commission will just have to accept that broadcasters, as corporate entities, will always tend to put private interest ahead of public interest.

FCC Commissioner Nicolas Johnson agreed with Boyle. "You can talk about integrity in advertising . . . but there's no such thing as integrity in advertising and if you insist on integrity, you're not going to have any advertising."

If Boyle doesn't think the CRTC is the one to keep tabs on radio and TV, who should? The answer is the public, who Boyle finds "too submissive" concerning broadcasting. As broadcasting becomes more and more corporate, it becomes more and more proficient in dealing with regulatory agencies. To protect itself, the public should have an ombudsman, or advocate. But it isn't up to the CRTC to dictate to either the audience or the broadcasters.

Boyle's comment on regulation: it's unnecessary. There were three rules he learned as a reporter and he feels they are sufficient today: place the carbon paper in the typewriter with the shiny side away from you; never try to borrow money from the managing editor; and don't spit on the floor.

LOU REED REHEARSING NEW SHOW FOR FALL TOUR

Lou Reed, RCA recording artist, has just returned to the U.S. after spending several weeks on a Portugal holiday. He is now in Stockbridge, which is situated in the Berkshire Hills of Western Massachusetts, busily rehearsing with his new band, leading to a major tour of the United States commencing in early October.

Reed has a new album on RCA set for release toward the end of September. It's entitled "Berlin" and was produced in England by Bob Ezrin and features such British biggies as Jack Bruce, Stevie Winwood, B.J. Wilson and Aynsley Dunbar.

The new tour group, which will be working for the first time as a unit in Stockbridge, includes former Frost and Ursa Major lead guitarist Richard Wagner, sharing lead guitar work with Steve Hunter, Peter Hunter, former bassist with Seatrain, and pianist Ray Colcord. The drums assignment has not been finalized as yet.

The new show which Lou Reed will be taking on the road will be similar in some of its content to the artist's more recent productions except, in the words of Reed's business manager and legal counsel Dennis Katz, "It will be tighter, with more colourful backdrops and it will be theatrically shocking."

ARTIST PROFILE: INA HARRIS

Almost a decade ago, Ina Harris wrote lyrics for one of husband Al's songs, made a demo of it, and although she hadn't sung professionally before, was invited by BMI to record an album of Canadian songs.

Shortly after, noted U.S. musician, Les Paul, asked her to work with him, but Ina chose rather to stay and work in Canada with Al, who is considered one of Canada's foremost guitarists. They formed a trio and were in great demand.

The group played many hotels and has become, virtually the resident act at the Valhalla Inn for the past four years. Ina has become known to Canadians through such CBC shows as Elwood Glover and Tommy Hunter.

Ina has a tendency toward the blues type ballad but is equally at home with any song from light rock to country, from jazz to gospel. Her versatility is more than amply displayed on her latest recordings now being released.

BIG FALL TOUR PLANNED FOR NADER'S R&R REVIVAL

Richard Nader, the man responsible for bringing back the great sounds of the fifties by the original artists, is planning a big fall tour for his Rock & Roll Revival. The show kicks off in the Lubbock, Texas Coliseum on September 13 and rocks its way through 23 cities before it wraps up in Detroit on December 9. The talent budget for the venture will exceed $350,000 and Nader anticipates a gross of over $1.1 million.

According to Nader: "The success of our movie, 'Let The Goodtimes Roll' will attract new audiences who have not responded to concert promotions in the past. This, coupled with an increase in the number of radio

TWO CANADIAN DATES FOR BLUESMAN JOHN MAYALL

As part of his present North American tour, legendary British bluesman John Mayall will be doing two gigs in Canada. They are: The Jubilee Auditorium, Calgary Alberta (Sept. 9) and the University of B.C., Vancouver, British Columbia (Sept. 13).

This year marks the tenth anniversary of John Mayall's career in the recording industry. In celebration of this milestone event, Polydor will shortly release a 2 record set by Mayall entitled "10 Years Are Gone". One record will be a live recording, the other a studio set.

Over the years Mayall has released many albums with almost as many different bands. These various bands have given starts to such outstanding musicians as: Eric Clapton, Jeff Beck, Mick Taylor, Jon Mark & Johnny Almond, Jack Bruce, and Keef Hartley.

HAMILTON IV SET FOR CANADIAN TV

George Hamilton IV has signed with Manny Pittson to do a twenty-six week television series to commence in the fall. The show will be taped at CHCH-TV in Hamilton, hopefully for a network pick-up. It will be syndicated at any rate. Featured regulars on the show will be the Mercey Brothers, Lynn Jones and the Lincoln County Boys and a heavy line-up of Canadian guest artists. Song material for the show will be totally Canadian, much of it taken from Hamilton's five RCA albums. Theme for the show will be Dick Damron's "Countryfied". This was also the theme for Hamilton's BBC-TV second series last year. He is also doing a third series for the BBC-TV with first guests being the Irish Rovers.

RCA has scheduled an August 25th release for Hamilton's newest single, "Farmer's Song", penned by Murray McLauchlan. Although the single was produced earlier this year, Hamilton had asked that the release be delayed so as to give McLauchlan's U.S. Epic single an opportunity for acceptance in the country market. McLauchlan had an exceptional all format run in Canada with his single which definitely established his presence in the U.S. market. A new True North/Columbia single, "Hurricane of Change" has been scheduled for release the latter part of August.

GREASEBALL BOOGIE BAND JOINS FORCES WITH GRT

Toronto's almost legendary Greaseball Boogie Band has been signed to record for GRT. The band is a throwback to the glorious stations who are now programming more "oldies" than ever before, should make for an even more successful tour than in the past".

The Rock & Roll Revival will include the talents of: Chuck Berry, Jerry Lee Lewis, Fats Domino, Chubby Checker, Bo Diddley, Bill Haley and the Comets, the Shirelles, the Five Satins, the Dovells, the Flamingos, Danny & the Juniors, Gary U.S. Bonds, Buck Ram's Platters, Shirley & Lee, the Del Vikings, the Belmonts, Freddy Cannon, the Moonglows and Roy Orbison.

fifties when brylcreem was king. Onstage they present one of the wackiest shows as their leather and denim bedecked bodies crash out some of that good ol' rock and roll. One can only hope that they can capture the excitement of their live show on wax.

Making up the band, which could conceivably double for a motorcycle gang, are five fellows who subscribe to the James Dean school of cool. On lead vocals and outrageous behaviour is Duncan "King Grease" White, pickin' the guitar and lapping up the cheap wine is "Animal" Mike Holman, the big hulk tickling the ivories is Ray "Rabbit" Harrison, pounding the skins you find Tommy "Short Ass" Frew, blowin' horn is Wayne "Pig Boy" Mills and ending the list as well as providing the big bottom for the band is Sandy White on bass.
