A&M - seven come eleven

A&M Records was founded in Los Angeles by Herb (the "A") Alpert and Jerry (the "M") Moss in 1962, with a small catalogue centred around Alpert's MOR instrumentals - a clear reflection of the state of pop music at that time.

By 1970, the U.S. record boom had more than doubled the retail record market there, and A&M was about to emerge as one of the giants of '70s rock.

That year, just on the eve of the big record boom in Canada, A&M opened its second foreign office and, as they had done in England, they quickly established a major record firm - signing local artists and working to exploit their product around the world.

Now A&M (Canada), voted top major Canadian record firm in this year's RPM Readers Poll, has enhanced its presence in Canada by unveiling a new, 27,000 square-foot national headquarters in Toronto.

A&M (Canada) president Gerry Lacoursiere feels that the completely renovated building, designed by Los Angeles architect Harry Newman, captures the feel of what A&M has been doing; and "anytime you have a real nice place to work in that you can be totally proud of, it's got to show in your performance."

Seven years ago A&M Records opened a Canadian branch with a staff of 12 people under Vice President Gerry Lacoursiere.

In five years the record firm had been established as one of the fastest-growing among major Canadian labels. At that time Dave Hubert, then A&M's international top major record company in Canada, Best Sales Team and Most Aggressive Promotion Team.

Lacoursiere got the ball rolling in Canada by releasing a series of "greatest hits" packages of known A&M artists like Herb Alpert, the Sandpipers, Wes Montgomery and Phil Ochs. By the end of their first year they had charted A&M's first Canadian hit, Band Bandit.

Now some of the Canadian stars brought along by A&M - like Valdy, Charity Brown, The Hometown Band - are breaking into international markets and Montrealer Gino Vannelli who is signed to A&M in Los Angeles, is already an established international recording act.

A&M sales and promotion have proven they don't just ride a wave of spillover publicity on product in their international catalogue, now sporting about 300 titles. National Sales manager Joe Summers told RPM that his policy has been to shoot for Canadian sales equalling around 10 per cent of their U.S. sales totals, but they've often reached 20 and even 30 per cent on records from groups like Nazareth and Supertramp.

A big factor in these proportionally larger record sales in the smaller Canadian market (normally on big U.S. hits Canadian sales equal between 5 and 8 per cent of their total U.S. sales) is A&M's success in French Canada.

To follow that success A&M is taking another giant step this fall with the establishment of a French-language A&R department, and signing and recording two

Dear Joe:

Remember we told you there's never an idle moment over here at your advertising agency?

Well, to be honest, we lied.

Every couple of months we run into a few minutes when there isn't very much to do. One day last week we were free for 56 seconds, so we drew up a list of things we'd like to see happen now that you're officially in your new headquarters.

Our President requests an invitation to play tennis in your boardroom. And because your new building is big enough to hold a gallery, he'd like to bring along 1,500 of his best friends.

We've heard your new place is full of beauty. Our creative guys want to know if it's all married.

And our Media Director says she can get you more time. Between 7:00 and 7:30, any evening, at her apartment.

Finally, we'd all like to congratulate you and hint around for a tour of the place. (If Gerry Lacoursiere's office is to be included, perhaps we'll have to make it a week-long affair.)

All the best in your new location,

French-language groups. A&M recently released its first Canadian, French-language single, by Michele Deloire.

real group is cutting their first LP in English and their second in French. Claude Palaridy, who last year became head of A&M's publishing wing (Irving-Almo), is now also heading up the new French-language A&R department.

Lacoursiere feels that moving into French-language product is simply part of his desire to build a total record company in Canada:

"We want to be totally involved in Canada, and part of it is the French market, plus if you look around the world, you have some pretty big French-speaking markets."

In the area of non-Canadian product A&M is well ahead of earlier years. The current Peter Frampton double-LP is breaking bigger and faster than anything they've ever handled. Though it was released only last January, it's already the 10th best seller ever for A&M Canada, surpassed only by the biggest LP each for Supertramp, Nazareth, and the Carpenters, two by Cat Stevens, three by Herb Alpert, and A&M's all-time biggest seller, Carole King's Tapestry.

A&M opened 1976 with a new branch in Calgary to go along with their Montreal eastern branch. This gives the company a complete in-house distribution and sales system with three distribution points, and three additional sales points - through Richard Broden in Vancouver, Ron Sinclair in Manitoba and Saskatchewan, and a representative to handle sales in the Maritimes, to be appointed soon.

When Summers took over sales for A&M (Canada) four years ago he had a sales staff of four; now he has 13 salesmen under him.

A&M's Montreal branch, now with a staff of eight, was set up in 1972.

"50% increase? . . . easy!" - Summers

At this year's national sales meeting A&M national sales manager, Joe Summers, told his staff; who had taken this year's RPM Music Industry Award for Best Sales Team:

"The day of the order taker is over. Social stops are of the past; marketing is here today. The day of the glorified roadie and executive mailman is over."

When Summers talks about marketing he says he means a sales program geared to moving product to the consumer, not just the racks.

A&M's fall sales push realizes this policy. It emphasizes the total picture of record selling by supplementing normal dealer-incentive discounts with a retail-advertising allowance based on a percentage of a dealer's initial fall order plus a percentage of the total net purchases during the 1976 Stop Look And Listen fall program. The discount, in effect, must be used to advertise A&M product.

"Straight discounts," Summers told RPM, "puts money back in the dealer's pocket. But you have to ask: how is that money going to be used to reach the consumer?"

A&M sales are in their biggest growth rate ever; Summers estimates sales increase of more than 50 per cent over last year.

Fifty per cent of total A&M sales for each of the past three years have been generated between September and Christmas, so Summers is expecting a fall boom to follow this year's growth already. August, for example, normally a slow month, was the second highest sales month in A&M's Canada experience.

Along with the advertising allowance, A&M sales are launching a radio time-buy program with a campaign designed to run

Joe Summers -National Marketing Director,
A&M Records of Canada

throughout the four fall months on 16 different radio stations in nine different cities. A&M reps in each city will encourage local retailers to participate in the program in exchange for dealer-identification tags on the radio commercials.

To beef up the in-store strength of A&M sales, prizes will be given to three dealers in each of A&M's nine Canadian sales areas for creative and effective use of display featuring A&M records.

A&M runs a straightforward everything-is-returnable policy with retailers. All singles are 100 per cent returnable for 120 days of release. LPs and tapes must be displayed for 90 days, then A&M will accept returns up to the value of 20 per cent of the dealer's net billing for the quarter.

All returned A&M product is destroyed: none of it is deleted and sold.

Press and promotion - most aggressive

Doug Chappell leads the A&M Canada promotion department - winner of the RPM award for Most Aggressive Record Company Promotion Team - from the press and promo office in Toronto. Reporting to him are six field men who are in charge of promo and related activities in their area.

"Each guy is responsible for his territory fully," Chappell explained: "getting airplay, running contests with stations, looking after artists. Once a week, every Thursday afternoon or Friday morning, they phone in, tell me what's been going on that week and give me all the airplay reports. Friday night we mail out the total airplay report; Monday morning every rep knows all the airplay, everywhere on any given record in the country."

David Brian is in charge of Ontario promotion, and he'll be moving under the same new Toronto roof along with the rest of the Ontario staff. Neil McGonigill handles promo for Alberta and B.C. from the Calgary branch office. Ron Sinclair has been taking care of sales and promotion for Manitoba and Saskatchewan, but will be leaving the company shortly. J.P. Guilbert has his hands full in Montreal with the Quebec market; it's continually been selling more than its share of the Canadian market for A&M. Chappell said: "We've been breaking more acts out of Quebec than any other territory of late."

Supertramp, Shawne Phillips, and Chris Deburgh are all doing unusually well in Quebec. Chappell suggests that listeners and programmers in Quebec "listen with their ears" and ignore the American star system more than the rest of Canada does. So is Quebec promoted any differently?

"We put feelers out on all our product," says Chappell, "and as soon as we get those feelers coming back positive, we step up what we're doing. Often that initial acceptance happens in Quebec, so we go into step two, of the promotion earlier there than in the rest of the country. It would appear there's more promotion in the Quebec market, but there's not really more effort going into it from the beginning. It's just that the reward seems to be there first, so the push comes harder and faster.

"The people we had working there told us these acts would do well in Quebec. They knew their territory and they said that Supertramp would be a success in Montreal - they said it when they first heard the album. Tastes in Quebec are unique, and quite often they're ahead of the rest of the country."

Now A&M will try repeating their Quebec success with French-language material. Three French artists have just recently been signed. "It's astounding to think," continues Chappell, "that we're selling so many albums to what must be a lot of French-speaking people. It doesn't happen the other way around nearly as much as it should. But now we're into French music, and we're not just looking at the Quebec market."

What made the success of the A&M promo department?

"We're not afraid to take chances, for one thing. Supertramp was brought into Canada as a headline act and they'd never appeared in North America before. It was a massive campaign in Montreal and Toronto, with entire store window displays and very heavy press campaigning. We spent a lot of money and energy on Supertramp."

Chappell also notes the Tubes, who are strongest out of Toronto because of their appearance there. Three days before their first show at Massey Hall, about 300 tickets had been sold.

"Then a Tubesmobile which was laid out with girls in bondage (that's the Tubes mentality) and other things were launched. The press was invited to see a videotape of the Tubes which convinced CHUM-FM to lean heavily into the promotion and got us a ton of newspaper coverage." The Tubes press party involved an unused section of the building which was dim and dirty. Wine flowed, and the tape was shown again with dry ice for effect.

"Everyone really got off on it. It drew everyone's attention, and I think that's what promotion is, drawing people's attention to the things out there. There's a ton of good things lying around, and it's a fact that it can't all be played."

"Promotion is gaining attention for your product and letting people see how good it is. They're not going to buy trash, but even if it's good, it can still go right by. You have to keep reminding people, holding it up in front of them to let them know how good it is."

lengthy stint with Gino Empry's public relations firm. Monaco figures he's one of about a dozen people in Canada who is a member of the press agents' union in New York, and he takes the job of press relations seriously.

"It's a specialized field," Monaco said,

"and that's why A&M has a press department. A&M recognizes the value of complete and consistent liaison with the consumer press. They recognize the need to keep the public informed through the media and to generate a free flow of information."

Monaco believes that every major record company could use a publicist, but in Canada most people in the music industry believe they aren't really necessary.

"This is a huge country and we have a lot of talent that needs representation outside the country and inside, and of course we want to represent the acts from the outside who are coming in. The press people all over the country are receptive to the facts if the facts are presented to them, and on time."

Who exactly does Monaco deal with in his job? "You name it - daily papers, weekly magazines, consumer magazines, specialty magazines, TV - it's all media. More than a press department, this is a news department. Radio is generally in the hands of promotion, but I handle any radio news."

Monaco finds some differences between his work with Gino Empry, who publicizes entertainment in general, and his work with A&M.

"The music business is ultra contemporary. It's only about 20 years old, which is young compared to radio, theatre and film. So it's brasher and bolder, and there's more ground to be broken - although a lot of people think everything's been done in the music business. It's very easy to get excited about things in the business because it's so young. And it's still not completely respectable among some people in the entertainment industry; they don't regard it as legitimate entertainment."

Monaco and Chappell are happy to be working under one roof in the new building. Press and Promotion departments now share the same large office. "The communication is amazing," Chappell said. At one time we had three operations going in this city, now its down to one. We work on a more immediate basis. This is an urgent business."

Vannelli and deBurgh team for tour

Gino Vannelli, after problems within his band, has embarked on a 65-date North American tour with Chris deBurgh, also on A&M. Press officer Jim Monaco reports that Vannelli's newest (his fourth) LP, The Gist Of The Gemini, is A&M's fastest-selling Vannelli disc yet. The album appears at 34 on the RPM chart this week. Featured in the July 3 edition of RPM, The Gist Of The Gemini drew the comments, "Gino Vannelli's music . . . contrasts his sex symbol stage image. It is heavily jazz influenced in its structure and is unique and innovative . . . Vannelli's voice is in good form and gives the music its commercial appeal, helped by some irresistible percussion work . . . This could be the LP Vannelli needs to break him into superstar status."

Early this summer, drummer Graham Lear and keyboard player Richard Baker left the group. Vannelli and his brother Joe, who is co-arranger, found drummer Casey Scheuerell to replace Lear and two new keyboard players instead of one (Bill Meyers and Chris Rhyne, who also plays bass. All three have played in other unrecorded bands, but this is their biggest stint so far. Scheuerell and Rhyne are recent grads of the Berkeley music school in Boston.

Other members of Vannelli's band are John Mandel on percussion, who also handles some keyboards; and one more percussionist who goes by the name of Dido.

Vannelli will be using Supertramp's sound system on this tour. The system, built by Supertramp and owned by A&M, was loaned to Vannelli since Supertramp are not touring currently.

The Canadian Academy of Recording Arts and Sciences is hoping to have Vannelli perform at this year's Juno Awards. He appeared last year on a pre-recorded videotape.

Accompanying Vannelli on the tour will be singer Chris deBurgh, another A&M artist who has broken in Canada, mainly through tours with Supertramp. Spanish Train And Other Stories is his second LP, and it has been receiving FM airplay for its short stories set to lushly-produced music. deBurgh writes the music and lyrics.

He was on a national promotion tour recently, and did the radio and print media route (see RPM, the Programmers, Sept. 4). His following is particularly strong in Montreal where he recently played a week-long stint at a local club for fans. He has sold more records in Quebec than in the whole U.K. The only place where his following is as intense is in Brazil, where a single called Turning Round from his first album stayed at the top of the charts for over three months and sold 400,000 copies.

The Canadian dates of the Vannelli/Chris deBurgh tour are as follows: Sept. 14 in Guelph, then London (15), Toronto (17&18), then dates in the States, back up to Vancouver (Oct. 26), then back to the U.S., until Hamilton (Dec. 17 & 18) and Montreal (19).

Symphonic Slam - a new sound for A&M

A&M and Canada together are producing some artists genuinely unique on the international market - like Gino Vannelli, for example. Another is Symphonic Slam, a brand new A&M signing whose first LP, Symphonic Slam, reached the racks last week. Slam manager Terry Shepherd told RPM that CHUM-FM, after devoting an hour of on-air time to preview the whole LP, playlisted the disc at 'medium' exposure immediately. Meanwhile, Montreal's CHOM-FM has also been playing cuts from the LP and gave the band an on-air interview.

Leader of the band is Timo Laine, a landed immigrant from California who was born in Finland. He came to Canada about two years ago with one of the first 360 System Polyphonic Guitar Synthesizers, designed by Bob Easton and an engineer named Oberheim. Only six such instruments exist. In Canada, one would cost about $24,000. It's an electric guitar with special synthesizers hooked up to each string, each of which can be separately programmed. David Stone adds bass synthesizer and keyboards, and Los Angeles drummer John Lowry completes the trio.

Laine and the group spent about three months in rehearsals, then another month in Phase One Studios to record the album.

Laine told RPM that he plans to find a big, secluded house in the Montreal area and rehearse for another six weeks with the band to prepare for a national tour, and he hopes that he won't ever have to play bars. Laine claims that the dense synthesized wall of sound on the album can be reproduced on stage. The device requires the manipulation of a series of foot pedals, and he says he's not weighed down by any more equipment than the guitar itself. The same team that built his guitar is also working on more developments for him. One device is a vocal synthesizer which involves a throat mike hooked up to a synthesizer, which will allow him to add another melody line on stage. Another experimental idea involves three 72-note digital sequencers which can be pre-programmed to repeat any synthesized musical patterns. Laine has a memory device already for his guitar synthesizer which can be preset 16 ways and activated with more foot pedals.

Symphonic Slam have received the blessing of several industry people, not the least of which are at A&M. Slam manager Shepherd says the company is working on the LP as "an international project" and are working on deals which will push the disc into the States and England and Europe as well.

RPM FEATURE ALBUM

SYMPHONIC SLAM
A&M SP 9023-W

RPM readers may have noticed over the past several weeks a series of teaser ads like "SSSSLAM." They were part of the effort A&M has invested in the first album by Timo Laine and Symphonic Slam. The company seems to have had a lot of confidence in this landed immigrant from California, and indications are that its paying off. Toronto's CHUM-FM played the LP in its entirety the day of its release - unusual for a relatively unestablished Canadian artist.

The title of the LP and group says it all. Timo Laine, John Lowry (not from Deja Vu) and David Stone construct a sound which often seems the product of a dozen musicians or more - and not all of it is studio trickery, because Laine claims that his group can reproduce those sounds fully on stage. Laine utilizes one of the few 360 Systems Polyphonic Guitar Synthesizers in the world. This allows him, in combination with the facilities available in a first rate studio like Phase One, almost limitless audio possibilities.

Helping out are Stone, who handles the bass chores on a synthesizer and adds conventional keyboards and drummer Lowry.

Laine writes all lyrics and music. It's mostly progressive stuff, although side two offers some singles possibilities. Our favorite cuts overall include Fold Back, I Won't Cry, and Days.

Produced by Laine and George Semkiw, who also engineered. Mastered at JAMF. The cover art is by Mati Klarwein from a book called Mil 'N' Honey.

Mother's Finest
Epic PE 34179-H

A unique and powerful synthesis of rock and R&B from a six-member band that doesn't even use a horn section. Strong sales and FM item with some AM potential. All cuts are strong, but we like Fire in particular, and we figure Niggizz Can't Sang Rock & Roll will be heard by everyone. Buzzy Linhart "appears somewhere on the record."

JOAN ARMATRADING
A&M SP 4588-W

West-Indies-born British singer-songwriter's third LP is produced by Glyn Johns. The production is basic, and her voice is the featured instrument of expression. There are cuts for FM and perhaps MOR. We like Love And Affection and Like Fire.

The release of this album in Canada was slightly late, which resulted in no one having heard of the group when they opened for Kiss in Toronto recently. They're another brash band produced by Jack Douglas, who has helped make a lot of noise lately with Aerosmith and Starz. Best cut here is Dandelion.

ABBA

This group is very popular in Europe, and they've been floating around the number one spot with this album in Britain for several weeks. An AM and MOR programming library of ABBA - includes SOS, Mamma Mia, I Do I Do, Waterloo, Bang A Boomerang, and Fernando.

They're back, that passionate commercial jazz team. This time they're produced by Roy Halee and are assisted most impressively by Billy Cobham and violinist Greg Bloch. They have established fans and cultists among record buyers and FMers who know what they like, but we like Here Comes The Rain and One More For The Road.

Goldrush validates belief of Mulligan

In late August The Great Canadian Goldrush celebrated the airing of its 100th show on the CBC Radio Network. I'm elated that it has survived and flourished. More than anything else, its success has validated host Terry David Mulligan and his belief as to what rock programming should offer an audience. I first met Mulligan on a snowy Vancouver day in 1971 and even then the belief was evident. That day, the local rock scene was in low gear - recovering from a last minute cancellation of Lee Michaels and Crowbar. Mulligan was also recovering - from psychological wounds delivered from the hands of his superiors at CKVN (now CFUN). During the preceding year, there had been an exciting experiment on CKVN and Mulligan had been the architect for most of it. Along with the city's most attuned broadcasters, he had charted a path of free form singles - a path which ultimately forced CKLG to retaliate with the airing of album cuts. There wasn't an instantaneous increase in BBM ratings. The brass at CKVN became dissatisfied. Prior to a first anniversary they decided to terminate the experiment. The turnaround occurred while Mulligan enjoyed a vacation in Hawaii. Upon returning to Vancouver he found himself jobless. He had violated the one rule of AM radio 'Thou shalt not gamble'.

The origins of Goldrush go back to the early summer of 1974. At that time, the show lay on a CBC planning board with Claire Lawrence designated as its producer. In search of a host, Lawrence chanced upon Mulligan in English Bay, cooking a fish for his supper. Aware of Mulligan's talents as a broadcaster Lawrence offered him an audition.

From day one of the program, Mulligan stuck to some principles. "Claire and I were both raised on CBC radio. One thing we both agreed on was to make the show as un-CBC as possible". Mulligan admits that part of this involved giving the show some rough edges. But these edges reflect an effort to bring personality across to the national audience. Mulligan desperately wants to be more than just another voice gifted with flawless speech - the typical CBC host.

Along with Mulligan and Lawrence there are engineer Gene Loverock and assistant producer Susan Englebert to get the show on the air. Englebert looks after the little details of Goldrush - the correspondance, the editing of interviews and the contacts with freelancers. This has allowed Mulligan to concentrate on the core of Goldrush, the presentation of his points of view with selections from deserving albums, interviews with artists which probe instead of glorify, live concerts and studio sessions.

Claire Lawrence talks about the studio sessions: "There are a set of rules we have to go with. The CBC negotiates with the A.F. of M. and with their own technician's union so that anything broadcast must be recorded by a CBC technician". (The one exception is completed packages purchased from freelancers.)

"Our primary aim is to give exposure to Canadian artists that are in some way creating or writing their own music. The only way to do this is to have the quality of their recording as close to a commercial recording as possible. We're putting them up against the very best records. People don't understand the lengths we go to for one radio broadcast. The same kind of studio project that some people do for a record, we do for one short radio broadcast."

This leads to the question of whether Goldrush can be seen as a placement centre for aspiring artists with private recording companies? "We can provide exposure and a copy of the tape which can be used for a pretty good demo. Bim recorded for us and I took what he did to Ray Pettinger at Casino Records. Small Wonder did something for us. I guess our show does help."

Many in the industry might ask where the audience is for a show like Goldrush. Based on mail-in response, Mulligan has found it to be a rural audience with a particularly large following in the Maritimes. He recognizes a responsibility. "We might get panned for not making huge inroads into city ratings. But for rural Canada, the CBC is it!" Part of the show's communications with the hinterlands has been the staging of special shows which are also recorded for future broadcast. Pied Pumpkin String Ensemble, Bim and the Wade Brothers have all been presented in northern B.C. locales. Assistant producer Englebert was especially vocal on these sorts of activities. She feels that the CBC has a duty to stage shows in the artistically-starved regions of Canada. Lawrence adds, "You take entertainment to where it might be difficult to get otherwise".

September should see Goldrush moving into a new time slot - between 8:30 and 10:00 PM on Monday nights. Mulligan is happy about the development. "It's an interesting concept putting together a strong package like As It Happens, Doctor Bundolo and Great Canadian Goldrush". He also adds, "We set out to be a good alternative. We haven't modified that to any great degree. In fact we're going to try for a larger audience". Imagine that, someone at the CBC actually talking about getting a larger audience!

Peter Pringle emerges as solo artist

Peter Pringle recently returned to Toronto for the first time since his Warner Brothers (U.S.) LP was released last May. WEA Music (Canada) has released a Pringle single, Going To Get A Lady.

Pringle (his real name) has composed hit songs for Mary Travers and Anne Murray under the pseudonym Peter Cornell. When Murray and her producer, Brian Ahern, shifted their base to Los Angeles, Pringle kept in touch, and eventually followed.

Peter Pringle

"Did they help out?" he remarked in an interview with RPM: "She was supporting a whole army of us up here."

Pringle, who has been in the business on the East Coast, Toronto, New York, and now Los Angeles, got together with Ahern in the summer of '75 and began taping an LP in Ahern's famous sound truck. Emmylou Harris, Linda Ronstadt, Anne Murray, and Dianne Brooks supplied backup vocals.

Pringle had written most of the songs he recorded with Anne Murray's voice in mind; two of them she had already recorded.

"When you write for anyone else, you adopt their attitude when you sing those songs," he explained. He's looking forward to working on his next LP soon: using material he has written with his own voice in mind.

"I'm a producer type of artist," Pringle stated. He's signed directly to Ahern's Happy Sack Productions.

Pringle is managed by Todd Shoffman (associated with Iron Butterfly, Loggins and Messina, Janis Ian, The Doors) and he has a five piece band that plays regularly on their own in California.

Canadian TV with tapings set for CBC's Tommy Hunter and Bob McLean Shows, have been lined up for Pringle.

Mahogany Rush tours with A&M's Nazareth

Columbia's Mahogany Rush will be accompanying Nazareth on their upcoming Canadian tour. Mahogany Rush released their fourth album on Columbia this spring, and the flip of the single I'm Going Away, Dragonfly, has been gaining airplay nationally, especially in Quebec where the group originated. They will accompany Nazareth on all dates except Montreal, where they earlier headlined a concert for a sold-out crowd of hometown fans.

Nazareth, meanwhile, is a Scottish group that has built a Canadian following similar to that of another A&M group, Supertramp. Both groups sell more records per capita in Canada than in the U.S., and both broke in Quebec. Love Hurts is A&M Canada's biggest single seller, with sales in excess of 150,000, and it has outsold the Captain & Tennille's Love Will Keep Us Together. 600,000 units of Canadian sales represents

Gene Autry back in the saddle with new releases

RCA Canada has acquired distribution rights for the Gene Autry-owned Republic Records in the U.S. RCA will release four classic Autry albums, all this month. These are the double-LP set South Of The Border/All-American Cowboy, Gene Autry Favorites, Cowboy Hall Of Fame, and Live At Madison Square Garden.

The Canadian distribution deal coincides with a massive surge of activity for the label in the U.S. A six-figure promotion budget has been quoted, money which is being spent on 60 and 90 second national TV spots, stocking western film festivals with Autry LPs, and 10,000 posters which have been placed in record stores and head shops. Apparently the head shop market is responsible for the movement of a lot of Autry product. Sales and FM airplay are strong in the east - New York - as well as the south and midwest.

There are a number of other releases on the label either pending or available now. RCA Canada has just released the single Someday Soon by Kathy Barnes, which had earlier success for Ian Tyson. This week the group Munch was in Toronto, coinciding with the release of a single, Comin' and Goin'. The group reflects a slight leaning by the label to commercial pop as part of its new surge of activity.

Some other Republic artists are Roy Rogers, Rex Allen, Tex Ritter, Eddie Dean, Jimmy Wakely, John Wayne, Larry Barnes, Kathy Barnes, David Rogers, and Nate Harvell.

Republic Records President Gene Autry, who made his first movie in 1934, has quietly amassed a fortune since his movie retirement through personal appearances, and broadcasting and hotel investments of his earnings on the couple of Columbia million-sellers, like Rudolf The Red Nosed Reindeer and Peter Cottontail.

a gross, at list prices, of about $5,000,000.

Two years ago, they did their first North American tour by playing to sold out crowds across Canada without performing in the U.S. at all, becoming the first British group to do so. This will be their third Canadian tour.

At present they are working on their next album, the second that they have recorded at Le Studio at Morin Heights in the Laurentians. Close Enough For Rock 'N' Roll was also recorded there.

Nazareth's following is currently biggest in Alberta, where more records of theirs are sold (per capita) than anywhere else in the world, according to A&M.

Edmonton, therefore, has been chosen as the place to present the group with their

New Chamber Ork brings classical to pop

Bill Phillips, whose trumpet solo on the Beatles' big Penny Lane hit makes him the most widely-heard Canadian trumpeter ever, is heading up a project to build Canada's only full-time, professional chamber orchestra.

New Chamber Orchestra

To do that, he has to bring the intimate, classical music of his New Chamber Orchestra into the realm of popular music - through concerts, records and a host of innovative presentations.

Phillips, originally from Guelph, Ontario and the University of Toronto, broke into the business as first trumpet with both the Hamilton Symphony and National Festival Orchestra (Stratford) in 1961. He played for five years as first trumpet with the BBC Orchestra in London and returned to Canada in 1970 and founded the Canadian Brass, which had a successful recording experience.

Now he plans for his 13-piece orchestra to provide full professional employment for all its members in three to five years.

Currently the musicians earn almost half of their income with the NCO. Next year he hopes that NCO's core quintet will be working full time with the orchestra.

The key part of Phillips' plans is a record to be produced this fall with the support of Berandol Music and to be released on the Berandol label. Phillips plans to record a radio-oriented LP at Soundstage studios. One side will be aimed at progressive FMers and the other will be a mix of easily recognizable classical themes in soft Bach-rock arrangements.

The NCO has a growing list of concert engagements throughout Ontario. Phillips estimates that to be fully active the orchestra will have to play 250 dates a year.

The group is supported by a funding organization with a board of directors and individual and institutional sustaining members.

The Toronto branch of the Bank of Montreal at University and College has extended a generous line of credit, and some of the major music publishers have chipped in by allowing the orchestra to delay some of the royalty payments owing. Phillips figures the NCO will reduce their almost $30,000 debt by about $5,000 by the end of the year.

Album inner sleeve is ad space for RCA

RCA has started using album inner sleeves on Canadian releases as advertising space for other Canadian releases. The one currently used features 24 English and French albums. Under a shot of the cover and the title is a list of all the songs on each album.

Featured albums are in the field of pop, country, and classical. Changes will be made to allow for new releases and additional catalogue items.

London is distributing Philo English line here

London Records of Canada will distribute the English product line of Philo Records here. London has been distributing Philo's "2000" series of French-Canadian traditional music for the past two years.

London will kick off Philo's "1000" series of English titles with Mary McCaslin's Prairie In The Sky LP, and will schedule further releases to fit their promotional activities.

Set for future release are Doris Abrahams' Labor Of Love, The Boys Of The Lough's Lochaber No More, and works of Canadian John Lutz.

numerous awards: gold records for Rampart, Hair Of The Dog, and Close Enough; platinum for Razamanaz and Loud And Proud, and double platinum for their Greatest Hits LP, as well as gold for Love Hurts.

The Nazareth/Mahogany Rush tour begins September 10 in St. John, then moves to Moncton (11), Halifax (12), Montreal (14) (another opening band will be chosen) Toronto (16), Ottawa (17), Sudbury (18), Winnipeg (20), Regina (21), Saskatoon (22), Lethbridge (23), Edmonton (24), and Vancouver (26).

Mac Davis received the CBS red carpet treatment on his trip to Toronto's CNE, seen here with Ed Colero and Bert Dunseith.

McLean Show 2nd season has new ideas, sounds

The Bob McLean Show, CBC's "live", noon-hour talk and variety TV show, opened its second season last week to mixed reviews. But for the music industry, the news is good.

Bill Casselman, the new executive producer, is taking the head-on approach to brighten the daily, "minimal budget" show, which debuted last year to replace the very popular Elwood Glover Show.

Casselman and director-producer J. Edward Shaw (who recently did the Lightfoot et al Olympic special) have revamped the set, the band's musical style and the show's approach to featured guests.

A new sound board and set structure at the show's Cumberland Terrace location, where each show is taped before an audience to be aired the following day, make for a TV production atmosphere rather than just a spot for a noon-hour chat. The old set and sound system were acoustically poor for singers. Last year all broadcasts were live.

Casselman is mellowing the live band to create more of a daytime sound; critics of last year's band performance were not happy with the club-style sound the band often ripped into.

Casselman has taken a long look at the show's approximately 300,000 daily viewers; mostly mothers with young children, retired couples and, in small towns, some children and fathers who come home for lunch but certainly not a rock audience. By phone and written response, they say they didn't like last year's heavy dose of folk-style soloists with guitars.

Casselman feels that these middle Canadians favour MOR, pop and familiar standards. He's working a once-a-week show-music feature into the format, for which he wants to develop four resident vocalists to sing selected medleys and up-front favourites with the show's versatile band, led by Jimmy Dale. He's also planning to lean on musical features spotlighting various styles from throughout the entire history of popular music.

Leslie Cunnian is booking guests for the show. She's had experience as talent co-ordinator for such shows as The David Frost Show and This Is The Law. She and Casselman expect to fit a lot of Canadian music acts in the 10 spots per week to fill until June 1977.

"We're not here to showcase visiting American acts," Casselman told RPM. "There has to be a balance - a character - of the show, and that balance should favour Canadians.

"American performers are too often over-exposed on U.S. talk shows anyway. A lot of them have a sleazy, night-club appearance - joking about ex-wives and bragging about their alcoholism. Some have treated the show as part of a bush-league run. That won't be tolerated."

Bill Casselman (r) the new executive producer of the Bob McLean Show, chats with the host as a guest on one of last year's shows.

Joe Owens to Quality; Gene Lew is promoted

Quality Marketing VP Jack Vermeer has announced that the firm has promoted Gene Lew, formerly Director, National Quality's Nick Panaseiko and Gene Lew with Frankie Valli after his CNE performance.

Promotion, to the newly-created post of artist relations Director. Joe Owens, former partner in the publicity firm Charles Dunn and Owens, has been appointed to the post of national promotion Director.

Lew will co-ordinate artists' receptions, interviews, and special projects.

Owens, who in the past has been a Quality promo man, sold his portion of the highly-successful publicity firm to his partner, Bob Charles-Dunn.

Nashville deck is debut for John David Redmond

John David Redmond went to Nashville as a songwriter, and came back to Canada with his own album through Acuff-Rose.

Redmond, a classically-trained musician who played rock music throughout his school years, was signed by Nashville studios to polish his craft, changed his plans, and emerged with an LP set to be released here by London Records in October.

The first single off the set, You Can't Stop Me Dancing, was recently released to favourable reaction.

With A-R's top pop producer David Kastle (who produced Neon Philharmonic) and Nashville musicians from a number of top country bands, Redmond cut a purely-pop disc. A-R is waiting to close a U.S. record deal pending the success of the first single up here.

With the support of his publisher, Redmond has been able to handle his own career: "I talked to some of the big managers in Canada, and when they explained what they did I realized I was doing all that myself. That's what the big stars do; I learned it from Roy Orbison and Don Everly (both with A-R)."

Redmond is putting together a band in Toronto (three keyboards, bass, drums) and wants to perform a 50-50 top-40 and originals show.

Charles, Jones and Peacock to speak at Big Country

Confirmed as feature speakers at this year's Big Country meet in Edmonton are: Dave Charles, Frank Jones and Tom Peacock.

Dave Charles, Program Director at CFGM Richmond Hill, has acquired a wide knowledge of programming which began in the early 60s at CJBQ Belleville. He moved up and into larger markets over the years including CKOC Hamilton, CHUM Toronto and CHQT in Edmonton before taking over programming duties at CFGM. Although a relative newcomer to country, Charles has been outspoken about country music, particularly the domestic brand.

Frank Jones, Vice President and General Manager (Country) for Capitol Records Inc., has been a highly respected member of the Nashville recording community for many years. The Toronto-born Jones, along with Bob Pampe, served to bring Columbia into the distribution business in Canada. He organized promotion and A&R activities and was one of the original producers of Canadian recordings. Mr. Jones is well aware of the Canadian country market and just recently signed Colleen Peterson to his Nashville roster. The native of Ottawa and a former member of 3's A Crowd, has already shown signs of a U.S. breakout for her Jones' produced single, Don't It Make You Want To Dance.

Tom Peacock, Program Director of CKWX, Vancouver's country giant, has been dubbed "the giant builder". A programmer with many years of experience, on both sides of the border, in the rock and MOR field, Mr. Peacock groomed CKWX for its entry into the country field. His new country format literally shook west coast radio. Observers believe that it was because of Mr. Peacock's varied experiences in the programming profession that CKWX can successfully present a format of progressive, folk and outlaw country - and it's obviously gained listeners to what was already a top-rated station. CKWX, namely Tom Peacock, has opened the door for many domestic country artists as well.

Westmount's Tony White scoring national points

Tony White, one of the wonders of Edmonton, jetted into Toronto for a round of talks with radio, record, press and television people and left for home with a feeling of accomplishment. Many doors had been opened for the good natured 300 pounds of talent.

White is currently listed on both the RPM Country and MOR Playlists with his Westmount single, Travelling Road Show and How Great It Can Be, self penning and published through his Tone-ite Publishing house (BMIC).

In the can and ready for a release is his new album, produced by Larry Kunkel at Doug Wong's Sound West Studios in Calgary. The session included some of the best talent available: John Bird on steel, Roy Barnes on piano and strings from the Calgary Symphony Orchestra. No decision has been made, at press time, on the single to be culled from the set but pressure has been exerted for the release of the cut, I Would Like To Sing A Sad Song.

White's versatility has been recognized throughout the west where he has worked as a single and with groups. Club owners, in particular, appreciated his ability to measure his audience and give them a potpourri of entertainment from rock to country and right down the middle of the road.

The Edmonton-based White is expected to play several dates in Ontario before the end of the year.

CTL's Lyman Potts honoured in Toronto

Pierre Juneau, Special Assistant to the Prime Minister and former Chairman of the Canadian Radio-Television Commission, presents a beaming J. Lyman Potts with RPM's Canadian Music Industry Hall of Fame Award.

Almost 200 people from the broadcast and recording industries gathered at The Hotel Toronto September 13 to honour The Canadian Talent Library and its founder Lyman Potts.

The highlight of the RPM-sponsored evening was the presentation to Potts of the RPM Canadian Music Industry Hall Of Fame Award by Pierre Juneau, former head of the CRTC and now a special assistant to the Prime Minister.

"Inspiration always comes from people, it never comes from legislation," said Juneau referring to the CRTC's 30 per cent Canadian content radio ruling; "We felt that something was happening, and that was represented by artists, creators and songwriters. This was personified by people like Lyman Potts."

Potts and executives of Standard Broadcasting founded the Canadian Talent Library in 1962 to create broadcast quality recordings of Canadian musicians to be aired by member stations, whose dues supported the endeavor. In recent years CTL LPs have enjoyed a great deal of commercial success: Hagood Hardy's The Homecoming recently became both the first gold and the first platinum album for the CTL, which has now produced 201 LPs.

Other speakers during the meeting included Attic Records' Al Mair and United Artists' Stan Kulin, whose firms have been the primary licencees of CTL product lately; A. F. of M's J. Alan Wood; Sam Sniderman; CFTR President Don Hartford; CTL manager Mal Thompson; CRTC chief Harry Boyle; and host and chairman of the evening, RPM's Walt Grealis.

Potts closed the ceremonies with a speech outlining the hurdles he overcame to create a successful institution: especially the prejudice of some radio programmers and record companies against both Canadian music and the soft pop styles that characterize Canadian Talent Library Productions.

But he praised the radio stations for making the CTL a success: "We have some of the greatest broadcasters. Our stations are better programmed and better run than American stations." This, he said, puts a lie to the myth that Canadian recording artists have to break in, south of the border."

Former Chairman of the CRTC, Pierre Juneau (centre) with Phil Mackellar of CKFM (r) and RPM's Walt Grealis

Al Mair, President of Attic Records, a label that has had much success with CTL product, pays tribute to the Library.

Harry Boyle, Chairman of the CRTC and a guest speaker at the CTL banquet, praised the Library and its founder Lyman Potts.

Stan Kulin, President of United Artists Records (Canada), tells the audience about his success with CTL product.

J. Alan Wood, President of the Toronto Musicians' Association, tells the audience how it all began for the CTL.

Mal Thompson, manager of the Canadian Talent Library and the right hand man of Lyman Potts, addresses the gathering.

Hagood Hardy, who parlayed his CTL production of The Homecoming into an international hit, pays tribute to the Library.

Sam Sniderman, the first retail believer in the Canadian Talent Library, explained how the consumer attitude has changed.

After receiving his Hall of Fame Award, J. Lyman Potts left his audience with a bit of CTL nostalgia and future plans.

Heart gets gold and encores in Montreal

Mushroom's Heart, openers for Loggins and Messina on their farewell tour in Canada received the very rare compliment of being asked back for two encores in Montreal August 22. Coinciding with the event was a presentation by Mushroom president Shelly Siegel of gold record awards to the Heart band, producer, manager, Mushroom executives, and others. The gold record represented Canadian sales of over 50,000 for the first Heart LP, Dreamboat Annie.

United Artists releases Jackie Richardson single

United Artists has signed a new singer named Jackie Richardson, and have released her first single entitled My Prayer - a recent RPM pick.

Richardson most recently worked with the Platters, whom she joined in 1970 and toured with in Europe, Australia, the Far and Middle East, and North America. Her career dates back to the Tiaras, a vocal group that did the club circuit around Ontario some years ago. Other group members at the time were Shawne Jackson and Brenda Gordon. She went on to studio work with Dianne Brooks and David Clayton-Thomas among others, in New York and Montreal.

This year she was noticed by producer/arranger Milan Kymlicka who offered to record her himself. U.A. liked what they heard, and My Prayer was released.

Royal Alex treatment for Charlottetown hit

Ed Mirvish has booked the current Charlottetown musical hit By George into this season's subscription series of his Royal Alexandra Theatre in Toronto. By George is set for a four-week run opening October 25.

By George is a musical salute to George Gershwin, created for the 1976 summer Charlottetown season by artistic director Alan Lund with Gershwin's music arranged by John Fenwick.

Earlier the same week, the Mushroom office in Los Angeles had announced that Dreamboat Annie had achieved gold status there as well, with sales in excess of 500,000. Their new LP Magazine should be released soon.

Awards were presented to band members Anne and Nancy Wilson, Howard Leese, Roger Fisher, Michael Derosier, and Steve Fossen; to sound man Michael Fisher and producer Michael Flicker; to Mushroom's Walter Vogel, Richard Vogel, Hunter Vogel and Shelly Siegel; to Donald Tarlton of Donald K. Donald; to Jehan Valliquette of Alta Distribution; and to Can Base Productions.

Since April, Heart has toured the U.S. with The Beach Boys, Elvin Bishop, and Loggins and Messina. They are currently continuing touring with Jefferson Starship and Jeff Beck.

At a reception in Toronto following Heart's appearance with Loggins and Messina, it was announced that Charles-Dunne and Owens, who have worked with them in the past, would handle promotion and publicity exclusively for Heart in Canada.

John Allan Cameron busy with TV, folk festivals

John Allan Cameron spent the summer appearing at various folk festivals - Ottawa, Atlanta, London, Hamilton and Philadelphia. This month is also heavily scheduled, and began with taping an appearance on the Tommy Hunter Show for the CBC. He flew to Vancouver from Toronto to appear on the Al Hamel and Celebrity Cooks shows (on CTV and CBC respectively), and on the Irish Rovers special. He will perform at the Faro festival in the Yukon and at a concert in Winnipeg September 21. On September 23 Cameron will perform for the Canadian Education Association Conference in Halifax.

CBS is planning to release another single from his album Weddings, Wakes, And Other Things.
