Deja Vu rejects 'Super Group' label

by Keith Sharp

Skip Prokop does not believe in hype. He'd rather let a band earn a reputation than have one thrust upon it.

Yet the former Lighthouse drummer has run into just such a problem in leading Capitol recording group Deja Vu through a 10 day debut tour of Canada as a warm-up act for Joe Cocker.

Promotion material billed Deja Vu as the next 'Super Group' in spite of the fact they were on their first major tour and had just released their debut LP, A Song For Everyone.

Rush tour, live LP set

Polydor's gold recording artists Rush will be playing Toronto's Massey Hall in an unusual three night stand next month. The June 11-12-13 dates will be taped for a live LP set, to be released in the fall, Polydor's Lori Bruner told RPM.

Following the Toronto dates, Rush will play Welland (June 17), Oshawa (18), then move West to Winnipeg (July 5), Brandon (6), Regina (7), Saskatoon (8), Edmonton (9), and Lethbridge (11). Tentative Calgary dates are July 10 and 12.

Max Webster, recently signed to SRO's Taurus label, will open the Toronto, Welland and Oshawa dates.

The western bill will be shared with GRT's Ian Thomas, currently climbing the RPM 100 with his single Liars. The Legend group, Trooper will join the western tour.

Toronto's Max Webster group, openers for the Ontario tour of Rush, seen here with CHUM-FM's Rick Ringer who interviewed the Taurus group.

Yorke to PR

Van Morrison

Rock music author and journalist, Ritchie Yorke, has been appointed publicity representative for WB recording artist Van Morrison, the Belfast-born singer/songwriter.

The subject of intense cult following, Van Morrison has recorded seven highly-acclaimed albums for Warner Brothers since signing with the label in 1968.

Ritchie Yorke has been associated with Van Morrison since 1973 when he began to write a biography of the singer titled Into The Music - The Van Morrison Biography, the book was published by Charisma Books in Britain in the Fall of 1975.

Yorke is also the author of The Led Zeppelin Biography, a current best-seller in

"I know why those things are said, promotion wise, but there are other ways to say it. Anyone from Capitol reading this will be upset with me, and I apologize, but that one statement has really made the guys very uptight, right across the country.

"We've run into this problem in every single city with people from the press. They've asked us what we've done to be called 'the next super group'. I've had to say, 'Hey, we didn't say that.'

"It's been the same at the concerts. People hear that supergroup tag and say 'Oh Yeah, well do something to blow my mind.' I'd rather people go to the concert with a friendly anticipation about the band and be prepared to be pleasantly surprised."

Despite the hype and the lack of familiar material, band members Paul Gordon, Bob Bonnell, Cal Dodd, John Pimm, Wally Cameron, John Sheard and Terry Wilkins have responded well to the less-than-ideal conditions of their initial road venture.

Prokop, the band's producer, reports positive audience reaction, "with a few encores here and there."

Prokop told this reporter: "There was an astounding improvement every night. They (the group) earned plenty of reaction from audiences which was an achievement because they went on tour ahead of the album, which wasn't planned. In many cases, people had no idea who the hell they were."

(Keith Sharp is a freelance writer reporting to RPM from his Calgary base.)

Japan and North America.

In a press statement on his involvement with Van Morrison in the publicity area, Yorke said: "It's no secret that Van has been subjected to an immense amount of media conjecture and speculation, especially over the last year while Van has been maintaining a fairly low profile. In the course of the recent months, Van has developed a new perspective on his career. He's moving back to Britain for a while to get back to his roots and I'm sure this will be the catalyst for a burst of new creative energy."

Yorke will also handle media-related inquiries on Morrison's career and broad publicity liason.

Goodrich to produce more vinyl in Canada by

Alan Guettel

B.F. Goodrich (Canada) will soon be the first firm in Canada to produce the quality and quantity of polyvinyl chloride (PVC) resins and plastic record compound to meet the needs of the record industry here.

Currently, almost all of the more than $4 million worth of compound used in Canadian pressing plants is imported from the U.S., mostly from Kaiser and Teneco.

The use of Canadian-produced compound will save record manufacturers the 12 and one-half per cent duty they now pay on all imported vinyl. These duty payments now total hundreds of thousands of dollars annually.

Goodrich is expanding its Niagara Falls resin plant to more than double its current annual production of nearly 200 million pounds.

The largest share of the increased product will be what the industry calls suspension resins, used for products such as house siding, wire covers, plastic piping and rubber baby pants, but expansion has already enabled Goodrich to install compounding equipment at its Kitchener home-plant exclusively for preparing record vinyl.

Previously, a major record manufacturing manager told RPM, Goodrich compounded on the same machines used for preparing lower grade PVC, leaving traces of contamination in some of the record compound.

Hans Klopfer, recently appointed to head Capitol's new manufacturing plant, says he is experimenting with PVC from a number of suppliers and is testing the Goodrich product quite carefully.

Martin Keyes, of Columbia's pressing plant, says his firm will use the Goodrich product if it is up to the standards of the Kaiser compound Columbia now imports. There's no problem with the Kaiser product, he told RPM except the import duty.

Capitol's plant will be in operation late in the fall, and Klopfer is planning for production of 4.5 million LPs and 3 million singles annually.

There is approximately 115 grams of compound in a typical LP, and 36 grams in the typical single. At current PVC prices (39.5 cents a pound) that's slightly more than 10 cents worth of compound in every LP pressed and slightly more than three cents per single.

Goodrich PR man Trevor Jones told RPM from his Kitchener office that the compound production there will soon be in full swing: he looks forward to the time when there literally will be 100 per cent Canadian content in Canadian-manufactured records.

...as gov't curbs slow health hazard

In the past two years there has been great concern, by environmentalists, labour organizations, and occupational health branches of governments, about the toxic effects related to the production of polyvinyl chloride (PVC) and PVC products (for example, records).

Recent studies and subsequent government standards, experts agree, have made great strides to improve what had been regarded as a dangerous condition, especially for those employed in the manufacture and processing of PVC.

Continued exposure to PVC bi-products has been associated with skin, liver, vascular, stomach and heart disturbances.

PVC is made from vinyl chloride monomer (VCM) a very toxic, colourless, flammable gas at normal temperatures, but usually stored and transported in a liquid state. The sole producer of VCM in Canada is the Dow Chemical plant in Sarnia. Dow ships VCM primarily to Sarnia's Esso Imperial Oil plant and Niagara Falls' B.F. Goodrich plant, where it is used to produce PVC (polymerised).

Ideally, the process of producing VCM, and subsequently PVC, can be totally enclosed, with no leakage at any point of processing or transporting; that ideal is difficult to reach. But a spokesman for the Ontario Occupational Health Protection Branch reports progress.

It used to be, he told RPM, that processors didn't worry unless they could smell the gas. But, the odor is detectable at a relatively high level of exposure: at around 2,000 parts per million (ppm) a ratio of VCM to other substances in the air. Four thousand ppm has been known to cause dizziness: higher levels, unconsciousness and even death.

Recent standards are quite strict. In Ontario the allowable limits for VCM contamination are: 10 ppm, measured over an eight-hour day (a time-weighted average), or 25 ppm measured over any 15-minute period. The allowable levels in the U.S. are one and five respectively.

In Germany however, no VCM emissions are allowed, assuming all processing can be done in a closed system.

There have been charges that PVC manufacturers are shifting production to Canada because of laxer standards here, but health spokesmen told RPM that inspections revealed, because manufacturers here were using the same processes and equipment as their parent firms in the U.S., VCM levels in processing plants here generally approaching one ppm.

Still, because of the short time PVC has been studied as a possible health hazard, its effects are a relative mystery. It's well proven that exposure to VCM causes liver cancer, but in rats studied, it was unclear whether that alone shortened longevity.

On the other hand, researchers have been unable to determine exactly when possible dangerous emissions from PVC products ceases. Anytime the PVC resin or any of its compounds are mixed, molded, transported and even stored, they may emit VCM.

Outside of immediate exposure to VCM, caused by an accident or leakage, the most dangerous contact with the substance has been in the process of cleaning the vats in which VCM is "polymerised" into PVC (the process which is carried out at the B.F. Goodrich plant in Niagara Falls). Until recently, most of these vats were cleaned by workers who actually entered the vat to clean off residual product. Of the 35 known industrial deaths in the world attributed directly to VCM, 28 were of people who manually cleaned the vats.

PVC resin, such as is produced at Goodrich's Niagara Falls plant, is useless unless it is mixed with the other substances which give various PVC products their particular characteristics (flexibility, transparency, colour etc). RCA is the only record manufacturer which mixes its own compound. Others buy from Goodrich or import from the U.S.

The resins and the additives are mixed to form a particular compound (record compound is different than, say, baby-pants compound). In the compounding process there is danger of VCM emissions as in the moulding (record pressing) process.

Health officials recommend efficient ventilation and exhaust systems to protect workers, but ultimately, all safety hazards will not be removed until production of "...the prophets of doom, the messengers of mediocrity, will be overwhelmed by the new generation of competent, creative, confident artisans and by all those of preceding generations who have already demonstrated their freshness of mind, their talent and their capacity for inspired leadership."

PVC is developed to minimize the amounts of active VCM in the resins.

Ventilation may not be enough, recent critics in Ontario's opposition New Democratic Party have charged. Though it may help the workers, it causes VCM pollution in the atmosphere, party spokesmen have charged. Opposition leader Stephen Lewis recently questioned the government on high levels of VCM monitored around the Sarnia Imperial plant.

An officer from the Ontario occupational health branch told RPM that the branch was worried about in-plant VCM levels in record pressing plants and feels they may have been unsafe in the past, but can find no record of undesirable levels of VCM since most plants recently improved ventilation and other systems.

Clark to OAC art/ed post

The Ontario Arts Council has appointed Norma Clark to administer its Creative Artists In Schools program and receive requests from professional groups performing in Ontario schools.

OAC executive director Louis Applebaum announced the appointment of Clark, whose official title is Arts/Education Officer. Clark has been a council touring consultant and associated theatre officer.

Beatles disc-surge to hit Canada too

Following EMI's great success with re-released Beatles' records in the U.K. (at one time just recently, 24 of the British top 100 hits were Beatles' oldies), Capitol Records in the U.S. is launching a heavy Beatles push for the month of June and the waves are expected to hit Canada as well.

Capitol-EMI Canada PR Mike Docker told RPM that Capitol will release a specially priced Beatles double album in June, following a single release of past Beatle album cuts, Got To Get You Into My Life, and Helter Skelter. The $11.98 (suggested list) four-side collection of upbeat Beatles, called Rock 'n' Roll Music, features hard-core cuts such as Twist and Shout, I Call Your Name, Slow Down, Get Back and Taxman.

Dan Davis, Capitol (U.S.) ad promo VP is quoted as saying this campaign will be the "largest ever developed by Capitol and perhaps the biggest ever seen in the business."

Capitol in Canada has budgeted to buy into the U.S. campaign for posters and promo aids for a campaign which, at present, is planned to peak in June.

Foldy has new manager, single and label(?)

Peter Foldy, who's second Capitol-label single Roxanne, will be released in June, recently signed a management deal with Music Marketing International in Los Angeles. Foldy will be going back to Los Angeles soon to discuss future plans including a possible new U.S. disc deal.

Foldy is now working on an original film script, and last month he learned that a jingle he wrote for Elk's Pant Place took third prize in the 23rd U.S. Retail Advertising Conference Awards.

Garfield's first single, Old-Time Movies

Polydor has announced Garfield's first single release, titled Old Time Movies. It has already been playlisted as an album cut, by stations such as CKOC Hamilton, CKOY Ottawa, CHYM Kitchener, CHOM Montreal, and CHFI-FM and CHUM-FM in Toronto, before its official release May 17.

Polydor's promo rep Lori Bruner reports exceptional action on the LP, which was shipped May 1. Strange Streets takes the number 82 spot (with a bullet) on the RPM LP chart this week.

New Arista eastern rep

Jean-Marie Heimrath is the new Eastern Region rep for Arista records. Before being appointed to his new post by Capitol promo chief Bill Bannon, Heimrath was on the sales staff of A&M Records. Heimrath will work out of Capitol's Montreal office.

PROMO CALLS

rob means

Apparently A&M in the U.S. have been having a few problems convincing U.S. programmers to playlist Styx's new single, Light Up, due the apparent suggestiveness of the title and lyrics. Dennis De Young, lead singer, explained that "light up" is not a dope reference but an address to audience members who hold up lit matches to bring on their idols. Similarly, the phrase from the song, "one hit to get us by" simply refers to the kind of single. Meanwhile, the station in Texas that broke Nazareth's Love Hurts, has had Scottish band Gallagher & Lyle's new single, I Want To Stay, riding the top of the chart for four weeks. A&M's Doug Chappell figures there's some kind of line from Texas to Scotland and is waiting for the station to make Gallagher & Lyle as big here as Nazareth. Love Hurts is now selling more copies than Love Will Keep Us Together. Nazareth have now released a new single, Carry Out Feeling. The group will be going into Quebec's Le Studio in Morin Heights this summer to record and they'll commence their tour in September.

Engelbert Humperdinck's week long stint at the O'Keefe in Toronto was sold out two weeks before the show opened. The London crew who distribute his Parrot label, have been promoting the date heavily.

Laurie Marshall advises that his GRT disco single, All Day, All Night, is taking off in Montreal as well as Toronto, even though the official release date was delayed. He sold 700 singles in a week in Montreal and he's going to remake the song into an eight minute 12" disco disc. He's off to New York to produce an album to be mixed by Gotham's disco king Tom Moulton.

Randy Edelman stopped by Toronto on his way to Los Angeles from Britain, where his 60's hit Concrete and Clay recently hit big on the charts. He's been doing a lot of composing and film scoring over the past few years (he scored Executive Action). GRT is running with his current album, Fairwell Fairbanks, and Edelman helped out with several radio interviews.

GRT has signed John Ellison and The Soul Brothers Six. New single for Brutus is Who Wants To Buy The Song. Shooter's latest single, Hard Times, will be used with a promotion by Kodak for their new camera, the Super Shooter. The single will also be good promo for the band's cross-Canada tour. Dan Hill is still in the studio, while Downchild's new single, One More Chance, should appear shortly. ABC's Rufus and Freddy Fender will both be releasing new singles very soon.

A delegation of Canadian radio and press people were flown into the wonderful world of Disney (Disney World) courtesy of T.K. Records. Purpose of the trip was to catch K.C. & The Sunshine Band in action. Chaperoning the Canadian contingent were RCA's vice-president and general manager, Ed Preston and his promo sidekick Johnny Murphy. More on this junket later.

Neill Dixon, a partner in the Dixon/Propas management firm, dropped by to hype the Good Brothers' single, That's The Kind

Of Man I Am. The RCA single is doing very well on the charts.

Polydor's western promo, Mark Hodes, has launched a "Steppin' Out With Neil Sedaka" promo with Vancouver's CKLG. The promo is being run in conjunction with Sedaka's Edmonton concert, May 31 and, of course, to bring attention to his album, Steppin' Out, ten of which will be used as prizes. Grand prize will be a trip to Edmonton to meet the star at a ceremony where Hodes will present Sedaka with Gold for his single, Bad Blood, and his albums, Sedaka's Back, and The Hungry Years.

Capitol's Bill Bannon reports that their new pressing plant will open June 1st. Bill Amesbury's new album guests Shawne Jackson. Promo reps are currently working new singles by Steve Miller, Eric Carmen and Suzanne Stevens.

Rubber Bullet is zeroing in on promo campaigns for two new singles, Taking It All In Stride by Robin Moir and Mike Lehman's Magic Of A Feeling. Moir is set to hit the road with a new show. Gail Dahms has captured a large gathering of fans on her recent tour.

Wednesday, Skyline recording group distributed by Quality, are off with a new single, Doing The Best That I Can. The group's Last Kiss album has been re-serviced. Quality's Kenny Marco, formerly of Motherlode, recently taped a single at Sounds Interchange. To add the sound of "happy voices" on the session, industry people were invited to a 1AM session and their fees (non-union participation) were apparently supplied by local breweries. Daniel Gagnon has been promoted to office manager at Quality's Montreal office.

Rising Records has released three new singles they are currently promoting. They are: Everyone's Gone To The Movies by Rockgarden; Old Time Movies by The Lisa Hartt Band; and Kidstuff's Let The Games Begin.

There'll be a triple header concert in Kingston May 29 with the Stampeders, Ian Thomas and Wednesday. Don't know who the promoter is.

Ronnie Kartman has joined the CTI roster.

Peter Allen's new A&M single, The More I See You, features Herb Alpert on trumpet. Five new Horizon (A&M) albums due this month include: Ira Sullivan's first solo set in 10 years. Bruce Miller has a western Canadian tour with extensive dates in B.C. and plans to record a new album this summer. A&M will have the soundtrack of the flick, Mother Jugs & Speed, a 20th Century effort starring Bill Cosby, Raquel Welch and Harvey Keitel. A new Valdy LP and a Carpenters' single are being scheduled for a June release. There are a couple of cuts on the Carl Graves album that are Cancon. Watch this column for the big news.

Dieter Radeki's 20 years in the record industry wasn't overlooked. Polydor's President, Tim Harrold, presents the firm's Vice-President, Sales & Marketing with a gold record, which was inscribed with "Dieter Radeki's Greatest Hits".

LEADBELLYOriginal Soundtrack
ABC 9022 939-T

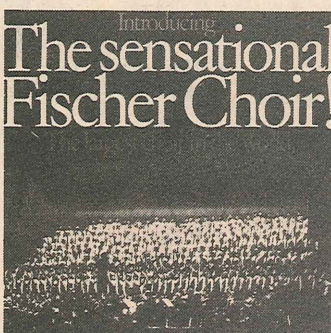

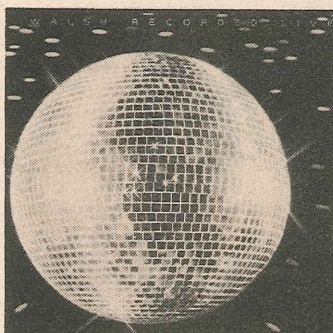

You didn't have to see the movie to appreciate the early blues used on the soundtrack. Everyone will recognize Leadbelly songs like Cotton Fields, Goodnight Irene and The Midnight Special (popularized as the theme from the rock show of the same name). Vocals by HiTide Harris, guitar by Dick Rosmini and David Cohen; guest performance by Sonny Terry and Brownie McGhee.

THE MONKEESRe-Focus
Bell 6081-F

From out of the past comes a great collection of The Monkees' Greatest Hits, with the songs by Neil Diamond and Boyce & Hart and others that made them famous. The group was a corporate creation, perhaps, but here we are reminded that the boys made a valid contribution to pop. Included are Last Train To Clarksville, Pleasant Valley Sunday, I'm A Believer.

JOE WALSHYou Can't Argue With A Sick Mind
ABC 9022 932-T

Ex-James Gang guitarist reminds us why he went solo by bringing out a live album of some of his best material. Everyone's favourite guitar toy, Airbag Vocal Distorter, is featured on the classic Rocky Mountain Way. FMers might also like Turn To Stone, and some may be interested in Help Me Through The Night, a song which musically explains his association with the Eagles.

THE FISCHER CHOIR

Polydor 2371 656-Q

An MOR happening from 1500 voice choir, formed in Germany, 20 years back. Fischer choir have 10 LPs to their credit, sales in the fatherland averaging 60,000 units per disc. Smooth pop standards and "old chestnuts" include Amazing Grace, Drunken Sailor and When The Saints Go Marchin' In.

TODD RUNDGRENFaithful
Bearsville BR 6963-P

"The Runt" has recorded not interpretations, but exact reproductions of several 60's classics, like Strawberry Fields Forever, Good Vibrations and Hendrix' If Six Was Nine, if nothing else, demonstrating his studio genius. This talent is sometimes equalled by his songwriting ability, but this time it's eclipsed by his production antics. Should be a strong seller and FM item.

HARRY CHAPINGreatest Stories-Live
Elektra 7E-2009-P

A double, live, greatest hits LP. Fans will love it. There's lots of material here for any format, and programmers can take their choice of the hits or the lesser-knowns which are just as strong. Effective audience reactions. Includes everything. Will probably be his strongest seller so far.

JOHN SEBASTIANWelcome Back
Reprise MS 2249-P

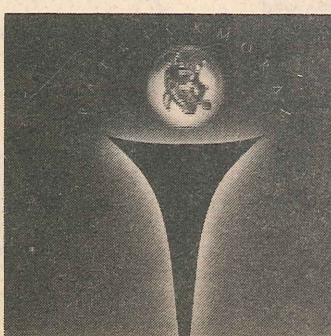

Riding on the huge success of the title song from the hugely successful TV show, young sentimentalist Sebastian has brought out a new album, full of the same highly saleable material. A crossover country hit might be made of You Go Your Way; MOR programmers might like Let This Be Our Time; while FMers might like the 30's blues feel of Warm Baby.

BRYAN WAYWhere Do You Go
Quality SV 1927-M

Ten songs composed by the Cornerbrook Nfld. artist on his debut LP, a mixture of contemporary folk and country sounds - a good, friendly voice with well-paced production. There's fare for soft country (Paper Boats) and the released single, One Of These Days, can be a crossover. Produced by John Capek at Thunder Sound. Chappell's big on his songwriting.

JETHRO TULLToo Old To Rock 'n' Roll,
Too Young To Die
Chrysalis CHR 1111-P

Apparently one more rock star has begun to feel his years. A collection of songs strung along the plot line of a dated English rocker who wakes up one day to find that the world has regressed to his level. An introspective and cynical LP, progressive FMers have probably found their favourite cuts already.

PATRICK MORAZ

Atlantic SD 18175-P

Establishing an apparent tradition for Yes Keyboard players, Moraz has intro'd with an incredibly elaborate concept LP. Recorded in Brazil, the set is heavy on the percussions as well as keyboards. An immediately hot progressive FM item, the album will no doubt be aired in its entirety for a while and will remain a front-rack seller even longer.

TOM MIDDLETON
One Night Lovers
Columbia ES 90326-H

Tom Middleton's first single release, It Wouldn't Have Made Any Difference, was a great success, from the standpoint of longevity, remaining charted for 30 weeks and riding to the Top 10 on the RPM 100.

More recently, Middleton recorded One Night Lovers by Paul Davis. The single also achieved similar national success.

The time seemed ripe for an album and the One Night Lovers album was released May 7, 1976.

The album, recorded at Manta Sound in Toronto, is a Bob Gallo production; Gallo also handled arrangements. Dwayne Ford is featured on keyboards, Don V. Lorusso's guitar shines on Danny McBride's penning of Marie and Gary Holt and Jorn Anderson complete the rhythm section.

Middleton's soft but subtly penetrating vocals have been packaged for a mainly MOR market, with obvious crossover potential. His single, I Need A Harbour For My Soul, a self-penned contained here, has been playlisted nationally on MOR stations and is beginning to show signs of crossover action.

Other outstanding cuts like Dwayne Ford's Sweet Virginia, Marie, Bill Danoff's She Won't Let Me Fly Away, make this set a strong sales item and a good source of MAPL MOR material.

Mya Lange sets tour

London's Mya Lange recently made a promotional tour of Ontario to expose her single and LP.

The LP, titled simply Mya (a recent RPM feature), was recorded at Canbase studios in Vancouver on Terry Jacks' Goldfish label.

The cut Snakebite is the current single release, intended for top-40 action.

Positive response has been received from several MOR stations on album cuts Easy Lady and Sister Willow, but no plans for an MOR release have been made, as Lange doesn't want to be known as that type of artist.

Following the completion of her promo tour, Lange began rehearsals with a four-member band, then hit the road towards the East. At the end of May she'll start a tour from Edmonton.

Are there TV tracks to international stardom?

The 1975-6 TV broadcast season is finished. The two Canadian networks have assessed their programming, shot pilots for next year and, not least important, checked their budget books.

CTV, a private corporation, can't afford to lose money; the CBC, a public corporation, operates under tight budgets and tighter public scrutiny, with stricter standards demanded by the CRTC. Both networks look to foreign sales to make the difference in their variety ledgers' bottom line.

Canada's two national TV networks are each working toward the 1976-77 viewing season with beefed up variety entertainment plans, and a growing maturity in the tough world of international syndication of TV shows.

CTV is spearheading its drive in TV variety (and syndication) with new network, unilateral productions; The David Steinberg Show, an Alex Trabek variety show on ice, a half-hour Julie Amato variety show, Julie, and a return of the Bobby Vinton Show, which the network co-produces with two U.S. syndication production firms.

CBC is heading its variety schedule with a U.S.-Canadian co-production, Pop Goes The Wolfman (RPM April 10), plus about a dozen big name Canadian music specials, suitable for syndication, to accompany a number of regionally-produced and network produced variety series.

The key to recovering some of the costs of these productions is syndication, although spokesmen from both networks point out that their programming is primarily for the Canadian audiences. Syndication, for the networks, is selling programmes to other countries, most importantly, the lucrative U.S. markets.

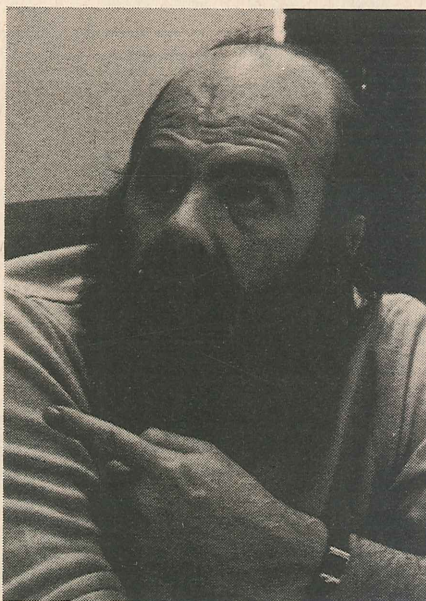

The key to syndication success in variety programming is stars big enough to sell the show: one area where the Canadian music business and TV production business speak the same language.

The TV syndication game for the Canadian networks (and, the emergence of the U.S. co-production deal) began to flourish, ironically, with the introduction of stricter Canadian content rules by the CRTC a few years ago.

Canadian TV broadcasters are required to broadcast 50% Cancon during the 6:00 pm to midnight hours, measured over the period of a year. After early and late-edition news and some public affairs are accounted for, there still remains, on the average, about one hour a night of required prime time Canadian programming, produced by the networks or bought from some Canadian production company.

At the same time, the U.S. Federal Communications Commission (FCC) has ruled that the programming by the three giant U.S. networks of their owned and operated and affiliate stations, could not begin until 8:00 pm. This, known as the "prime-time access rule" meant local U.S. stations have to program their 7:00-8:00 pm spot themselves. To meet these new market demands, new independent U.S. production houses sprung up; some looked to Canada for material.

These two factors - CTBC's Cancon ruling and the FCC's prime-time ruling - gave rise to the U.S.-Canadian co-production deal: Canadian networks, who need Cancon productions, co-producing with independent U.S. producers, who in turn own the U.S. syndication rights. World rights, outside of North America, are generally shared by the co-producers.

CBC sets Wolfman, new star-specials

CBC variety chief Jack McAndrew returned last week from Europe where he was a judge at the Montreux TV competition and participated in the Cannes television festival, the international marketplace of TV shows.

He told RPM he went to see what was happening, to look at what's available and get an idea of what kind of programming and what artists could be saleable fare on the international market.

His hottest sales item, of course, was the Wolfman Jack series, Pop goes The Wolfman. Nine countries bit and another ten were interested in the series when they saw the CBC-Chris Bearde-produced one-hour pilot. Bearde will not produce the series of half hour shows, aimed at the 7:30 pm spot in the U.S. and Canada. European sales on the show will be just icing on the cake, but McAndrew is quick to point out that CBC variety can well use the Wolfman income for the many variety series produced for Canada alone.

McAndrew became more optimistic in his plans to pick up foreign sales to bolster the CBC variety budget when he saw how little was available at Cannes.

He found the most saleable items to be performance-heavy variety specials, featuring someone of star status. He noted the Oscar Peterson special, to be aired on CBC in the fall, is wanted from Nigeria to Norway. A Gino Vannelli special, not yet shot by CBC, will be a good item, McAndrew reports, if the programme features more performance and less talk than they currently plan. Vannelli has been in Europe lately, and he's picking up quite a following.

In the past, CBC has been involved in Mainstays of CTV variety, however, will continue to be shows produced for the Canadian market with The John Allan Cameron Show, Pig And Whistle, and Grand Old Country returning next fall.

Toronto Symphony plans 1977 season

The Toronto Symphony recently announced plans for its 1976-77 concert season and recording under a recently-signed contract with Columbia Records.

Under the direction of Andrew Davis, the symphony will track all the major orchestral works of Borodin, the first time these have been recorded by one orchestra on one album. The Toronto Mendelssohn Choir will join the symphony on the recording.

Next year, the orchestra will play 24 Tuesday-Wednesday subscription pairs of concerts (Oct 26-May 25), six Friday night concerts, two Excelsior Life concerts, and the opening of the duMaurier Family Pops series. The 1977 pension fund concert will feature pianist Vladimir Ashkenazy.

Scholarships, contest sponsored by Opera Co.

In an effort to help the future of opera in Canada, the Canadian Opera Guild has granted $2400 in scholarships to students at the University of Toronto's Faculty of Music, and the Canadian Opera Company has announced a Young Designers Competition.

May 16, COG presents a $1200 award to soprano Nancy Hermiston and $600 awards to tenor John Keane and stage manager Ron Ferguson. The awards ceremony is highlighted by performances of former scholarship holders.

The COC is receiving entries of stage, costume and props designs for their production of The Barber of Seville, which the company will tour to Ontario schools next January. First prize is $500 and use of the design in the production.

The CTV's Grand Old Country with Ronnie Prophet guesting Johnny Rodriguez, Wilf Carter and Dotts is skedd for May 28 at 9-30 PM.

Larry Solway is in danger of becoming a sometimes nationalist. He's found another Canadian recording artist who just might add a note of Canadian credibility to his Screen Gems production. Friday, May 28, in the late nite hours you can catch him talking to a very rare talent indeed - Liona Boyd, the beautiful and talented classical guitarist, made famous by Eleanor (of Aquitaine) Sniderman.

Rolf Harris will guest Ian Tyson and his Great Speckled Bird, May 29 at 6 PM on the CTV Network.

Charley Pride's ITV Special, which was shown during this year's Juno Weekend, courtesy of Ed LaBuick, will have a go on the CBC at 10PM June 1st.

John Allan Cameron will guest Liam Clancy, an Irish folksinger on his CTV show June 1st at 8:30 PM.

Featured guests on CTV's Grand Old Country for June 4 includes: Condor's beautiful talent, Dianne Leigh and Lucille Starr.

Gail Dahms, currently making good headway in the discbiz with her Axe recordings, is set for the CBC-TV's In Good Company which airs June 4th at 7PM.

Song Festival judges now being confirmed

The American Song Festival announced a list of more than 50 record industry people, artists, composers, producers, and label brass, to serve as judges in the 1976 competition.

The list includes: country artists and composers Tom T. Hall, Ronnie Milsap and Charlie Rich; soul writers and artists Smokey Robinson and Ramsey Lewis; jazz people Stan Kenton, Radio Free Jazz president Ira Sabin; pop singer Vikki Carr; and a number of presidents and directors of major record labels.

Festival entries deadline June 3. There will be 650 prizes.

Treble Clef to distrib Unicorn classics line

Ottawa's Treble Clef has obtained the Canadian rights to distribute Unicorn Records classical product. Sales and promotion for the line will be handled by Treble Clef's general manager, Colin Cross, and Michael Theriault. Publicity will be done by Toronto's Charles-Dunne & Owens.

Unicorn, which is known for high quality recordings, has a catalogue which includes Bernard Herman, Leopold Stokowski and Jascha Horenstein.

Gloria Kaye and Tom Gallant will guest (May 28) on the "live" noon-hour Bob McLean Show (CBC-TV). Their own Sunshine Hour will premiere June 18, to run through the summer in the 9PM Friday spot. Sunshine Hour was taped before "live" audiences in Halifax.

One-third of Canada

He outsells them all on his own turf

Boot's Northern Ambassador, Ted Wesley

In over one-third of Canada, Ted Wesley outsells them all.

Eat your heart out, Elton John and Paul McCartney; in the 1.3 million square miles of the North West Territories, Wesley sold one album for every two of the 40,000 men, women and children - over the past 3 years.

Wesley was down south in Toronto to cut his third album, North of Canada, his second for Boot Records. His first two albums, Straight North, and Blackflies and mosquitoes and Other Love Songs, each netted over 10,000 sales, Boot promo Adrienne Santangelo told RPM, about 98 per cent of those in the N.W.T.

"People in the Territories," Wesley says, "are a special breed of people. They either hate it there or they love it."

Wesley's songs, about the contradictory ice-hard harshness and sun-softened warmth of the North, give validity to both feelings about the Territories. That's probably why almost everyone there buys his records.

Wesley went North after graduating from high school in Edmonton, and he became one of those people who loved it. He found enough songs by Wilf Bean and Bobby Ruzicka to tell the whole story of the North: from the early settlers and miners, the native people ("strangers in a strange land they used to call their homes"), its canyons, rivers and pipelines, snow and most of all, the midnight sun.

His songs are of a very delicate life, in a place where it costs $100 a month to heat a three-room house, and it takes a tree 100 years to grow two-feet tall.

Edmonton composer and RCA recording artist, Bob Ruzicka, a specialist in child dentistry by trade, practiced in the North for some time. His Save Tomorrow For The Children, which was recorded by Wesley, is to be released by Boot as Wesley's next single. The song has been described as one that "truly captures the grief and hope of northern people facing the onslaught of civilization for profit," which makes it an appropriate song for anyone's tomorrow, anywhere.

Wesley can make the truth and life in the images of his songs, clear to even the most southerly-exposed city folks, with an eye-opening 40-minute slide presentation backed with a selection of his songs. The photos are the works of Fr. Fumoleau, a Roman Catholic priest who has lived in and studied the North for some time. It's hoped the presentation can be worked into a 30-minute format for possible TV airing.

Though vast, the N.W.T. aren't big enough to hold Wesley's music, and Boot is working to expand his markets into the Yukon and Alaska, probably the world's first country and northern international market. He hopes that with another million square miles added to his market, he may be able to make a living at his music.

Wesley is going into a Toronto studio with Red Shea, Brian Russell and Granny Grantham to tape what he describes as a "very acoustic album."

Boot plans to release Wilf Bean's Curses Of My Life, as well as Ruzicka's Save Tomorrow, both from his Blackflies album, as singles over the next few months.

OUT IN THE COUNTRY

Attic's Ron Nigrini has a U.S. release for his single, I'm Easy, on the RCA label. His album, Rich Things, soon to be released here, is being rush released in the U.S. Nigrini, who recently appeared on the Tommy Hunter and George Hamilton IV TVers, is set for a summer of Canadian touring. His single, I'm Easy, is in much demand in U.S. border cities.

That beautiful big bundle of great talent, Tony White, is back and billing himself as the White Elephant. His new single, Travelling Road Show Band, that's the country side, is released on the West-mount label and was produced by Larry Kunkel at Calgary's Sound West Studios. Tony could have both sides going for him with a very strong MOR offering of How Great It Can Be, on the flip.

RCA is chomping at the bit with a two-record set plus a 60 page booklet entitled The Story of George Hamilton IV.

Paul Hann, currently successful with his album, Another Tumbleweed and showing good action on his single, I Almost Fell Into Her Eyes, will compose the music for an Access Television North (Alberta educational TV company) special on author Barry Broadfoot's writings about the Prairies. Hann will perform the music as well. Hann was the subject of a 30-minute CBC documentary to be aired July 6 on Take 30.

In a recent RPM review we noted that Boot had no plans for a single release of John Ham's new album. They do now; it's Springtime In The Country with the flip, Lady Please.

Quality is scheduling an early release of the Best of Broadland album to be entitled Canada's Best.

Broadland's Dallas Harms, has just returned from a trip to the islands: Newfoundland and New Zealand, playing eight days on each. Before that, he did a twenty-day swing of western Canada. Harms has penned two new Broadland A-sides: Lisa Mae, sung by Orville Prophet, and Before You Leave Today, picked up by CKBY's Ted Daigle. He also produced Artie MacLaren's new set, Down Home Country. Harms, Gary Buck and the Post Family are heading back to Newf in September.

Bob Cousins (of Inside Track Publicity) tells us that Roy Payne may be touring the U.S.S.R. this summer. George Roswell has a new single, Mister. Terry Hynes' Scrunchins (formerly Goodtimes) have a Hynes penned single, Guess It Doesn't Matter

Any More, on the Ocean label. They'll have an album ready for release shortly.

Condor's Jack Hosier reports two of his label's new singles, Dianne Leigh's Go Gently and Burton and Honeyman's Two Of A Kind are getting good MOR airplay. CKEY mailed both singles to each of its 15 affiliates.

One of the best kept secrets from the west is CFCW's Annual Gold Fiddle Contest. Apparently Fred Chwill, a well-known Alberta musician, won the top prize, a gold fiddle and $250. in cash prizes. The show took place at Lakeview Pavilion before a very large crowd. Makes you kind of wonder what with all the Alberta country news being kept a secret and with some of the province's country programmers keeping that chip on their shoulder, if it is worth all the trouble having the Big Country Awards in Alberta this year. It's still not too late to change the location.

By the by, Eddie Chwill is back in the disc-saddle once again. This time he's doing it with his JJS single, Don't Believe Him, a co-writing by E. Chwill and N. Chwill and published through Clearhill Music (BMI). The session was produced by Joe Kozak.

Keep your ear on that Westmount crew. They've got a lot happening for them including Judy Reimer's new single, Will The Silence Be Broken?, which was written by ex-Calgarian Ray Griff.

Heather Haig, that pretty little Oshawa talent who has been building a large following with appearances at many Jamborees including the Oshawa Jamboree, bows the scene with her first Cloud Burst single, Make Way For The Children. This side was penned by Gord Badgerow and published through Cloud Burst Music (BMI). The flip, Memories of Home, was written by Heather's producer, George Petralia and published through D&L Music (BMI).

Smith buys bigger share of Royalty Records Ltd.

Royalty Records' R. Harlan Smith increased his share in the Edmonton country record firm, purchasing all off the interests in Royalty held by Ben Healy and Ben Healy Holdings Ltd. earlier this month. Healy is no longer a Royalty director.

Royalty officers are: Jack Dubask, president; R. Harlan Smith as vice-president and the new director of A&R; Ian F. Douglas, secretary-treasurer/sales manager.

Ray Harder, a native of Saskatoon who broke into the business through record retail sales, is the Royalty sales representative.

Lynn tour hits Toronto

Toronto country station CKFH staged another U.S. country package show at Massey Hall. This time it didn't work, even though headliner Loretta Lynn performing and not walking through her many big hits, was great.

But it was hard to enjoy after an hour and a half of Billy "Crash" Craddock, Lynn's son and Kenny Starr. None of them sang country, and not even very well.

Lynn gave out money's worth (18 of her best). Ironically, she spent most between-hurried-songs chatter plugging her LP, book, and dude ranch, her label's promo couldn't even arrange an advance phone interview when asked by Toronto's largest newspaper.

Toronto's CFGM stages Opry North

Toronto's CFGM presented their first in a series of country concerts in the Grand Ole Opry format May 9. RCA's new country star, Carroll Baker was featured performer, with Tim Daniels, Roy McCaull and Eastwind. Dave Charles told RPM that the show was a great success in spite of competition from the Stanley Cup playoffs and the lottery draw.

A CFGM Opry North show will be held every two weeks at the Minkler Auditorium at Seneca College in Scarborough and will be broadcast "live" on the station from 8PM. Remaining true to the original, commercials will be read live on stage for broadcast. A CFGM on-air personality will host.

Charles explained that Minkler was chosen for its acoustics, suitable for radio broadcasting, and for its size, which will hold an audience big enough to make the series worthwhile.

The object of the series, explained Charles, was to "showcase Canada's top country talent." Record companies have been invited to call CFGM when an international talent is in the area and willing to perform as a cameo guest, but the emphasis is on Canadian recording artists.

Offers have already been received from stations such as CJCA in Edmonton for syndication of the series, but definite plans have not been made. "Eventually, we hope to syndicate the series for country radio stations across Canada," said Charles.

Each show in the series will feature at least three established acts. Headlining the May 30th concert will be Roy Payne with the Good Brothers and Canadian Zephyr. Upcoming Opry North guests include: the Mercey Brothers, Lee Roy, Donna Ramsay, Blake Emmons, Gary Buck and others.

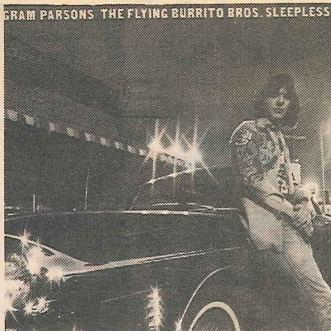

Tickets for any of the shows in the series are available from The Bay ticket offices, the Minkler Auditorium box office and from Regal Home Centres - a series sponsor.

RCA's newest country star, Carroll Baker, headlined CFGM's first Opry North show at Seneca College's Minkler Auditorium, Sunday May 9. Carroll's newest single, Tonight With Love is now an established hit across Canada.

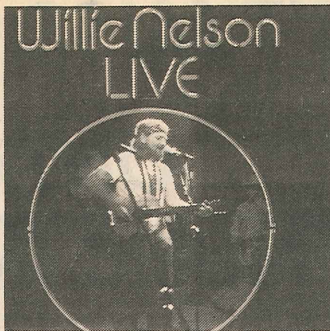

LEE ROY
RCA KLX1-0162-N

Ten good clean cuts featuring Lee Roy's current hit, Everything I Know About Cheatin' and three of his own penings including Lonely Willow Weep For Me. Good performance on Johnny Koonce's All Together Now, Let's Fall Apart. Produced by Larry Kunkel in RCA's Toronto studios. They're all country cuts with some crossover chances.

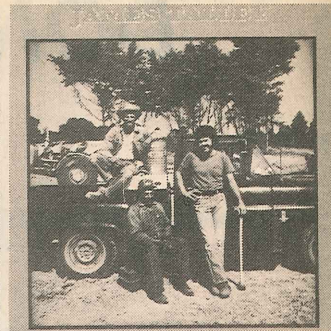

GRAM PARSONS/BURRITO
Sleepless Nights
A&M SP 4578-W

Twelve cuts, ten previously unreleased, by the late Parsons with the Burritos. This, with the other Burrito albums, The Birds 1968 Sweetheart Of The Rodeo, and Parsons' solo sets are a treasure, foreshadowing today's outlaw and "progressive" country. Great duo work with Emmylou Harris, who broke in with the band.

WILLIE NELSON
Live
RCA APL1-1487-N

RCA is pumping out the Nelson albums; he deserves it, but all material on this one was released in studio versions before. Great performances, though. Nelson has that style that even on bad days he can't sing a song not worth listening to. Three medleys of his own material might make for off-beat programming aids.

JAMES TALLEY
Tryin' Like The Devil
Capitol ST-11494-F

Capitol finally released Talley's second LP here when he got a booking into Toronto's Riverboat. It's been running big in the U.S. among a growing Talley cult. Forty Hours was recently charted on the U.S. trades. Talley's songs are about the past and present depressions and the simple good times we remember and look forward to. Not just country, FMers should give a listen.

RCA recording artist, Gary Buck, fresh from his New Zealand trip did the Toronto country radio tour with RCA promo manager, John Murphy. They are seen (left) with Jack Winter and Barry Nesbitt of CKFH.

FM TV transmission

by Boyd Tattrie

Toronto gets high on broadcast tower

May 31, radio and TV stations leasing equipment from CN will begin broadcasting from the CN Tower in downtown Toronto, the world's tallest free-standing structure.

It's claimed the general range and quality of TV reception across the Toronto region will improve, with ghosting, caused by stray signals bouncing off buildings, virtually eliminated. Automobile FM radio owners will notice a more stable signal also.

All Toronto TV stations will be broadcasting from the 1815-foot tower (CITY, CFTO, CBLT, CBLFT, Ch. 19), except the Global network station, whose channel 22 frequency is too close to those of the OECA's 19 and the CBC's 25 for broadcast from the tower. There is space for one more UHF antenna, however, for broadcast on channels 45, 51 and 57. Though intended for new stations, one of these unused channels could be adopted by Global.

Toronto's five largest FM stations (CHFI-FM, CKFM, CHIN-FM, CHUM-FM, CBC-FM) will be sharing one jointly-owned and operated FM antenna.

The five stations formed Master FM Ltd. in June 1973, when CN announced that FM stations would all have to share 60 vertical feet of equipment space. CFRB's Clive Eastwood was named chairman; each station became a shareholder.

Leases signed by the stations were used as collateral to secure the money needed to rent the antenna and install a combiner unit (a device which ensures compatible connections for the five stations' transmitters to the antenna). Only CKFM will be using their present transmitters, to be moved, one by one, to the tower; the other four stations purchased new transmitters.

Eastwood told RPM that the one FM antenna is capable of carrying 11 FM channels. Since the unit is controlled solely by Master FM, any new stations or established stations not presently in a position to rent facilities, such as CJRT, will have to rent directly from Master FM.

Shoreacres Broadcasting, owners of the AM-MOR giant CKEY, applied to the CRTC for an FM license for a 100% news station on the 99.1 frequency. Pending the license approval, Shoreacres plans to install a special antenna of its own on the tower, to broadcast a signal only received on this side of Lake Ontario. This is necessary because Shoreacres' chosen frequency is presently in use by a Buffalo station. With the antenna, Toronto will receive the new station's news without interference with the Buffalo station's signal.

Now, a cassette copier even a layman can use

Telak Electronics Ltd., a Toronto firm, has introduced a high speed stereo cassette copier, intended for use by those untrained in electronics.

The Telex Copier IV will copy taped voice or music with a range of 40-10,000 Hz, at a speed of 20 ips, to a second cassette. The device will accommodate either standard ferric oxide or low-noise chromium dioxide tapes. Track selector switches allow copying any combination of channels, while preserving information on other channels.

The Telex Copier Mark IV is available from Telak Electronics, 690 Progress Ave., Unit 3, Scarborough Ontario M1H 3A6.

Capitol bows new tape

Capitol Magnetics Products has added a new tape to its professional product line.

The Formula Q19 tape is intended for heavy studio use, and features low bias noise, minimal print through, and a back-coating that will minimize scratch and wear. The tape is suitable for original recording and dubbing.

Formula Q19 is available in ¼ in., ½ in., 1 in., and 2 in., widths; in 1 or 1½ mil. thicknesses, and in all usual lengths.

INSTANT
LAUGHS

Everybody is worried over the new virus that's coming. I'm not, I just received an inoculation that my mother says will protect against everything. . . 25 cc's of concentrated chicken soup.

Can't wait till the '76 Olympics, when the vendors shout: "Peanuts, hotdogs, cold drinks, portable Johns".

No. . . contrary to rumour, Henry Kissinger and Gerry Ford are not the odd couple.

I've figured a way to save this country millions of dollars. Instead of making statues, why not just dip the politicians in cement?

Last summer at the beach, I buried my brother-in-law in the sand. This year I'm going back to the same beach. . . to dig him up.

Did you hear that they're coming out with a Cher doll. The Cher doll costs around $12.00. Batteries and navel are extra.

They've invented a machine that can do what forty men can do. Every other month it goes on strike.
