Fanshawe's Fanny Awards

CRIA's Brian Robertson

Fanshawe College presents 3rd annual Fanny Awards

This year's Fanny Awards, the third such award giveaway by London's Fanshawe College, was another accomplishment by the college which boasts one of the few such record production courses in the world. The awards evening was also a tribute to Tom Lodge, who has nursed his project to the point of industry recognition it now enjoys.

GRT continues promotion of mystery group Klaatu

GRT Records is continuing its promotion of mystery group Klaatu, the identity of whose members are still reported unknown despite many articles and statements by the press in Canada and the U.S. purporting to name the band's members.

GRT is currently running a series of radio station contests. The group's current single Calling Occupants/Sub Rosa Subway is now listed at both CFTR and CHUM in Toronto. Nevin Grant of CKOC Hamilton reports it could be the first double-sided Canadian single ever to become number one in the Hamilton market. It is currently number nine, and the album is now number six in Hamilton.

GRT's Perry Goldberg gives his word that all of the articles written claiming to name the four band members, totalling 25 different names, are inaccurate, and that the band members' true identities remain unknown. He refused comment when asked by RPM whether any of the names listed were among the band members.

Goldberg further pointed out that the four names registered at the Washington, D.C. copyright office claiming to be the correct identities do not match the four names registered in the Ottawa copyright department, also claiming to be correct.

The Klaatu album 3:47 EST is currently charted with RPM at 45. The single, which entered RPM's Top 100 Singles chart last week bulleted at 68, has climbed to 60.

The panel of judges for the Engineering Award were: Dave Green, an independent recording engineer; George Graves, a mastering engineer who is in charge of JAMF; and Paul Zaza Sound Studios. The winner (1st prize) of this award was 19 year old Mike McCarty of London, Ontario and the runner up was Andy Condon, 23 years old from Medicine Hat, Alta. The winner took away 100 records of the 1st prize selection, presented by Nick Panaseiko of Quality Records and $50. donated by RPM Magazine.

Judging the Production category were: Jack Richardson, President, Nimbus 9, Sound Stage Studios and JAMF; Mel Shaw, President Music World Creations and manager of The Stampeders; and Greg Hambleton, President Axe Records. The top prize for production was 100 records of the 1st prize selection, presented by Nick Panaseiko of Quality Records and $50. from the Juno Organization. Winner was Russ Godwin, a 29 year old resident of Vancouver with Kurt Hagan, a 23 year old Newmarket, Ont. resident, as runner up.

The category for Composition was judged by: Ben McPeck, President, McPeck Productions and a noted arranger; Bernie Solomon, a lawyer; and Gerry Lacoursiere, President A&M Records of Canada. Prizes for this category were a $50 first prize presented by Nancy Gyrokes of BMI Canada Ltd., and a $50 first prize presented by John Mills, Q.C. General Manager of CAPAC. Taking top honours was 23 year old Mark Clifford of St. Catharines, Ont. with 2nd prize going to Kurt Hagan of Newmarket, Ont.

The Fanny Awards were developed to judge the College's Music Industry Arts (M. I. A.) Students' most outstanding recorded music for the academic year.

Claude Sassoon named new controller at GRT

GRT Records has named Claude Sassoon its new controller. Sassoon, an M.B.A. graduate of Concordia University in Montreal, comes to GRT after spending four and a half years as divisional controller with K-Tel Records in Montreal.

As controller, he takes charge of accounting, data processing, credit and collection. The appointment was effective April 25.

New Jackson Hawke album set for June release

CBS group Jackson Hawke have finished recording their second CBS album at Toronto's Manta Sound with Bob Gallo and Don Larusso handling the production. Both Gallo and Larusso are confident there are four or five possible singles, as well as some FM-oriented material.

The group's first album, Forever, had single successes with Into The Mystic and You Can't Dance, and has been released in Britain, Australia and Sweden.

The new album is set to be mixed down early in June for a probable late June release. The group is currently breaking in a new guitarist and drummer, and should be touring steadily by the time of release. A U.S. release is also being negotiated.

Thompson signing to RCA backed by national push

The 6 foot 4, 180 pound David Thompson is "high-up-in-the-sky" even before his record release. The young native of Kapuskasing, Ontario, could be on the threshold of breaking into the closely guarded and loosely numbered Canadian star system.

Although a newcomer to the business, he signed with RCA in May of 1976, he has recorded four sides, two, his latest, could be the door opener for the young talent who is managed by Chuck Williams. The big push would appear to be on If I Can't Have You (Then I Don't Want Me), described as "up tempo and commercial". The flip, Time, has been groomed with the adult contemporary and country programmer in mind. Both sides were penned by Thompson and produced by Williams, John Capek and Don Grashey.

The very fact that Thompson had musical heavies involved in his production is enough to stimulate excitement and give him his first leg up. Capek arranged, Hayward Parrott mixed, background vocals were provided by Steve Kennedy, Terry Black and Allan Soberman and his session men read like the who's who in this highly professional and competitive field. They are: Jorn Anderson, drums; Tom Szczesniak bass; Gene Martynec, rhythm guitar; Danny McBride, lead guitar; and John Capek on keyboards.

Thompson has had a bit of a checkered career in the business, his most formative years as a student in Detroit and then as a musician. "I performed with a number of rock groups and they all dead-ended. I was now 20 and moved back to Canada, or I should say, Kapuskasing, which is a part of Canada. I played weekend gigs as a single and was paid $90. It looked like the big time was around the corner". Allowing his frustrations to mix with his own brand of humour, Thompson tallied up a bundle of experience in a very short period of time, but it wasn't until he met Chuck Williams when the business began coming together and he was offered a recording deal and, after several months of writing, re-writing, making demos and doing the whirly-gig, Thompson was waxed.

Thompson perhaps sums it up best with the following: "Even at this point, I have a lot to be grateful for. I am another in that special class who can say, 'Someone heard something, and did something' and to all who had a part in this first circle, I can only hope that the circle won't be broken." (RCA hopeful David Thompson).

Long John Baldry signs with WEA Music Canada

Noted British entertainer Long John Baldry has signed a recording contract directly with WEA Music Canada. In announcing the move, WEA's John Hearne reported Baldry will be assigned to the Atlantic label, with a debut single expected within three weeks. Baldry is currently in the process of recording the sides.

Baldry, who has been making frequent Canadian appearances over the last year, is slated for a full-scale Canadian tour beginning in May, with 21 different locations being booked, carrying through to mid-July. It is rumoured he is living in Vancouver.

Baldry was originally on Warner Brothers in the U.S. for two albums, It Ain't Easy, produced by Rod Stewart and Elton John, was a gold record. His other Warner Bros. effort is titled Everything Stops For Tea. More recently, he has recorded two albums with Casablanca.

Among Baldry's claim to fame is that of having had Rod Stewart as a musician in his band. In fact, he has worked with many of Britain's best known musicians. In addition, his first name was the inspiration from which Elton John derived his last name.

Baldry himself announced the signing publicly on a May 6 appearance on CBC-TV's 90 Minutes Live.

"... the prophets of doom, the messengers of mediocrity, will be overwhelmed by the new generation of competent, creative, confident artisans and by all those of preceding generations who have already demonstrated their freshness of mind, their talent and their capacity for inspired leadership."

Capitol releases live 1964-65 Beatles set

Capitol Records has released a live Beatles set from the group's early days. The Beatles At The Hollywood Bowl comprises recordings of the group's 1964 and 1965 concerts at the Los Angeles hall originally taped on a three-track machine. The tapes have spent 12 years locked away in Capitol's vaults.

The album is a rework of those tapes done by the group's producer George Martin and remix engineer Geoff Emerick in Los Angeles. The tapes were transferred to a multi-track machine and mixed down, filtered and equalized.

All of the original voices and instrumental tracks have been kept intact. No overdubbing was done. The set includes 12 of the group's early hits, including Twist & Shout, Help and the Beatles' first breakaway best seller, She Loves You.

CBS artist Janis Ian grabbed the crowd's attention from the first notes and held it throughout the show. She began with some of her better known bittersweet ballads, including Jesse and a well-executed In The Winter, and soon progressed to unaccustomed harder sounds and newer material, including small portions of disco, giving her an opportunity to exhibit a strong voice and her virtuosity on both guitar and piano. Her set ended with major hit At Seventeen, followed by an encore.

The man behind the industry voice

1977 is a particularly busy year for the Canadian Recording Industry Association. In addition to its normal operations, the continuing fight against tape piracy, the gold and platinum record certification, and liaison with various government departments, CRIA is embarking on two major projects this year, the Canadian Recording Industry Pavilion at the CNE this summer, and a national singles and album chart based on retail sales.

This makes CRIA executive secretary Brian Robertson a particularly busy man. Robertson began his career in the music and promotion industries 20 years ago as a publicist in his native England with London concert agents Ibbs & Tillis, dealing primarily in classical and concert music. After two or three years with the firm, he moved to a position as A&R manager with Qualiton Records, which was later bought out by EMI.

Subsequently, he moved into the field of advertising, working with several of London's larger public relations and ad agencies. After moving to Canada in January of 1967, he joined McLaren Advertising, one of the largest agencies in Canada, where he headed up the special projects division.

Five years ago, while Robertson was with McLaren, CRIA's predecessor, the Canadian Record Manufacturers Association who were restructuring themselves, came to McLaren for advice and input. Robertson subsequently took over administration of the association. In 1973, the name was changed to CRIA, and Robertson, still its administrator, was made Executive Secretary.

CRIA WAS RESTRUCTURED

A year later, he left McLaren and formed his own communications company, Marketplace Communications. They retained administration of CRIA and Robertson maintained his position as Executive Secretary. CRIA now includes 35 members, representing 90 percent of Canada's record production.

Marketplace Communications, in addition to administering CRIA, still functions in advertising and public relations. They can be credited with bringing dinner theatre to Toronto, studying the market and opening the Teller's Cage restaurant and theatre in Toronto's Commerce Court. The company, which acts as executive producers there, are opening a second such theatre in Toronto's suburban area.

However, Robertson and Marketplace Communications are finding far less time to devote to business other than CRIA: "More and more, the recording industry has dominated our time. The other side of the company is becoming less focused. Since 1973, when CRIA was restructured, it's grown both in its membership and its visibility, and certainly in its impact, in terms of being a voice for the recording industry. Since we first got involved, the time investment has at least doubled. It certainly dominates our activities now in the company."

With the advent of CRIA as an industry voice, Marketplace Communications has in fact taken a back seat in Robertson's time, but it remains official administrator for CRIA, and also for the Canadian Academy of Recording Arts & Sciences (CARAS).

CRIA is involved in a widespread variety of functions on behalf of the recording industry: "CRIA spends about half its budget fighting tape piracy and handling the legal aspects of that in terms of court cases and liaising with the various law enforcement agencies. That's a major part of both the budget and the work. In addition, there's the gold record program, and the national chart, which we've been researching and planning for about three years, which is finally about to come to fruition. It's currently on its dry run period."

CRIA's Secretary-Treasurer, Brian Robertson (centre) with Randy and Robbie Bachman, Blair Thornton, Fred Turner, their manager, Bruce Allen and Polydor president Tim Harrold.

The chart will consist of the top 50 albums and singles nationally, based on retail sales. It will include the French market as well as English, but on a basis weighted somewhat by the nature of the sample and regional market considerations. The chart is fully computerized by auditors/accountants Touche, Ross & Co. Barring unforeseen problems, it is expected to be published by the end of May. RPM will publish the CRIA National Sales Chart.

CRIA is also planning to eventually do regional breakdowns on the chart. The computer is programmed to be able to do regional sales breakdowns based on the same set of retail figures used in computing the chart. A top Cancon sales chart is also a future possibility.

CRIA's involvements in 1977 also included a Canadian recording industry booth at MIDEM. Robertson notes, "We're constantly pursuing opportunities for exposing, promoting and helping Canadian artists and material. That's one of the objectives of the Association."

For the Canadian Music Industry Pavilion at the CNE, celebrating 100 years of recorded sound, CRIA has pulled out all the stops in an effort to make the celebration a gala occasion: "We've taken over the entire Automotive Building. CRIA initiated it, and CRIA is the one who's committed financially to the space and to making it work."

LOBBYING THE INDUSTRY'S CAUSE

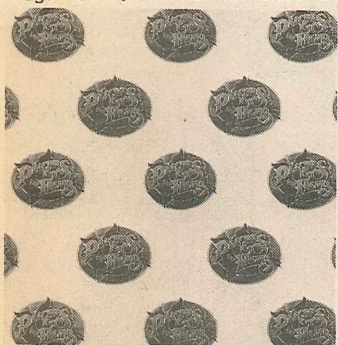

CRIA, as an industry voice, is continually lobbying the industry's cause to the government. The association is currently presenting two briefs in Ottawa. One tries to achieve government recognition of recordings as a cultural medium. Such recognition, similar to that already achieved by the book industry, would exempt records from being taxed, at either the production or retail stage. This recognition has already been achieved by record industries in a number of other countries.

ALBUMSPEACHES & HERB
MCA 2261-J

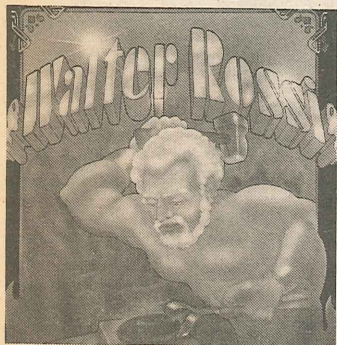

A little nostalgia? Only in the name. There's a new Peaches (Linda Green) teaming up with the mellow-toned Herb who sounds as rejuvenated as a new disciple of the disco rage could. It's not all disco but it has that touch of Van McCoy who, together with Charlie Kipps, produced and both contributed material for the set. McCoy's tinkling on the piano is also evident. Our favourites are That's The Way I Love You and Good Good Times.

WALTER ROSSI
Aquarius AQR514-K

Rossi's music just doesn't quite match his image. He's got a couple of mean rockers here but there is an upfront softness indicating Rossi is really a pussycat in biker leathers. Good single material is his own penning of Little Miss Evil, with an incredible harp assist from King Biscuit Boy.

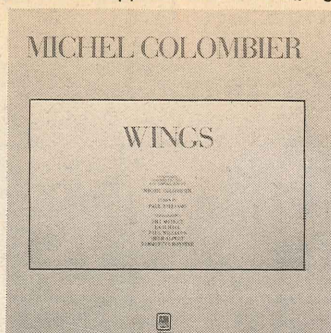

Rossi's mastery of the guitar is enhanced by Bobby Fisher, drums; Doug Riley, keyboards, Leon Feigenbaum, bass; plus a strong horn section and background vocals by Michel Pagliaro, Patsy Gallant, Judi Richards, Monique Fauteux and Billy Workman. Produced by Pagliaro and Michel Pagliaro at Toronto's Phase One and Studio Tempo of Montreal. Rossi could be one of the big names in international music by the end of this year.

MICHEL COLOMBIER
Wings

A&M SP 3503-W

If it was reported that this album cost $100,000 to produce, believe it. The album contains more than 36 minutes of complicated lyrical and instrumental content that could probably be better accepted as a film score, but you need a program to follow. The wizardry of Colombier and producer Herb Alpert plus a multitude of musicians and guest stars including Bill

Medley, Lani Hall, Paul Williams and Vermettya Royster are just ear boggling. Perhaps there's too much for this expensive venture to be appreciated. The age group could conceivably cover adult contemporary rock or progressive FM, if there are any of the latter left. It's a home entertainment package and its greatest success probably lies with the word-of-mouth group.

MARTEE LEBOUS

The Lady Wants To Be A Star
Image IM/301-L

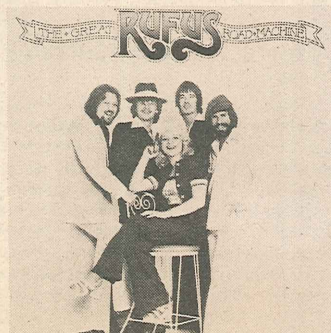

Nice and easy and a natural gift for vocal excitement which, along with the right breaks, could bring this lady into the realm of stardom. Lyrical strength, and she writes all her own music, is further enhanced by a subtly perfect instrumental background and her own piano stylings. This lady's climb to the top could be quickened by the talents of Charlie Calello, an old master at producing stars. His job is made easier by Martee's talents at communicating and her blues leanings.

THE GREAT RUFUS ROAD MACHINE
Axe 517-K

Producer Greg Hambleton provides an audio assist to a successful visual act that is currently gathering friends and fans from coast to coast. Contains their initial single releases, What Does It Matter and Funny How Love Can Be which opened the door and provided a much better selling point for their manager Craig Nicholson of Pizazz Productions. The group is indicating a maturity from their initial release and our favourite is She's A Good Woman. Produced at Toronto Sound and RCA Studios.

AMERICAN FLYER

Spirit Of A Woman
United Artists LA720G-F

Produced by the group and Ken Friesen at Toronto's Eastern Sound with an impressive assist by local names including Whitey Glan on drums and bassman Prakash John. Credits also go to Sylvia Tyson, Linda Ronstadt, John Capek and others. No indication however, that album qualifies as Cancon. Strings were arranged and conducted by Alan MacMillan, of Nimbus 9, and recorded at Electric Lady Studios in New York. All material written by group and expressed meaningfully by upfront singer. Not too much info on group.

STAMPEDERS

Platinum

Music World Creations 710-M

Producer Mel Shaw and the group express enough positive thinking to bring this set into the realm of the title. Released in time to boost their upcoming tour of the Maritimes and Northern Ontario, and also opportune in introducing the new Stamped-ers, Gary Scrutton, Gibby Lacasse, Doug Macaskill. Ian Kojima, David Norris-Eyle and, of course, the originals, Kim Berly and Ronnie King, who wrote most of the material and take turns with upfront vocals. Berly outstanding on his own penning of Fool's Lament and don't overlook King's Picture Of Love. Produced at The Grange. Rich Dodson, former member of the group, guested with bass on Bring The House Down and rhythm guitar on Night In The City and Cathy Young gave a vocal assist on Believe It.

AWARDS DINNER
EVERYONE'S A WINNER

We are the Canadians by Gordon Sinclair

What is Canada and who are Canadians? With a seemingly contrived crisis in Quebec, Canadians have suddenly been forced to take sides and, Quebec, representing only 1/3 the population has been hammered by the English press from the Ontario border west to Victoria and from the Eastern Townships of Quebec east to St. John's. English Canadian broadcasters haven't been much better although they did attempt to create some dialogue between Quebec and the rest of Canada which apparently died on the vine.

To the rescue comes our elder statesman of the broadcast profession. Crusty, controversial and opinionated and most times right, CFRB's Gordon Sinclair took the lead in what should become the basis for a nationwide campaign by his fellow broadcasters to inject a little understanding where indifference prevails.

Mr. Sinclair was unable to complete his Let's Be Personal text last Tuesday, becoming choked up with emotion. He has given RPM permission to reprint his piece which he titled Canada and Canadians. The complete text follows.

I have been hearing for 60 years, or more, that Canadians are unsure, groping for identity. They are wondering who they are.

Sheep dip!!

I'm a Canadian by birth and I know who I am.

I was born in a colony, the colony of Canada when the Great White Mother of the native peoples . . . the Indians and Eskimos . . . was on the throne.

I was registered as Scotch under the name of Allan Gordon Sinclair, because my parents were Scotch.

I am proud of that heritage, always will be proud of it and wear the kilt. But while I may have been born and registered as a colonial, I am a Canadian and I have no trouble identifying myself . . . none!

I have crossed every continent and every sea or ocean except the Antarctic and that is one reason why I am a Canadian.

I was born here. I live here. I have seen the rest of the world and been offered opportunities to work, or invest, or do both in far lands at rich gain.

Not a chance.

This is my homeland now, and forever, and I know who I am.

With regret and puzzlement I see some fellow Canadians being faint hearted. The bogey man is under the bed. Opportunities of the past are gone. Big brother . . . the government, which is ourselves . . . has taken over.

Crazy!!

Opportunities were never greater. I have always believed, and now believe, in the slogan HE CAN WHO THINKS HE CAN.

The men who built the CPR through badland, muskeg, mountain and prairie . . . with horses, scoop shovels and hammers, crowbars and gang saws, were modest men who did the impossible.

They were Canadians.

Not by birth but Canadians by instinct and will and vision.

In present days some of us of Scotch or other background pretend to fail in understanding of those of us whose native tongue is French. There is the Quebec "problem".

It is not a problem at all, it is a difference and as the childish slogan goes, "vive la difference".

The Canadians of French tongue in Quebec were here long before most of our ancestors.

Some of their fellow Frenchmen from the homeland settled in what is now Louisiana, some in what is now Michigan. When these areas became part of the United States of America, they lost their beautiful French tongue. And I mean beautiful.

Without some of the current steps being taken in Quebec, they could lose the French tongue there also.

They are hemmed in by films, print, radio, television and business correspondence in English.

English is becoming the language of the world. It has displaced many languages right in the area where these were born . . . India, many parts of Africa . . . all the one-time German colonies, many of the Spanish colonies of North America.

The French tongue must not perish because it is part of Canada, just as I am part of Canada.

To my regret I never made a serious effort to understand French until I'd passed 70.

Then it was too late.

The French of Canada are much closer to Ontario or Alberta than they are to Brittany or Normandy. They are us, we are them.

I suppose that, grammatically this is inaccurate, perhaps to purists it's obscene.

But this is a veteran Canadian who has seen a lot, saying that this is my land and the land of Roger Lemelin, editor of La Presse and we understand who we are.

Why Roger Lemelin. Why him?

Because Lemelin lived for a time in Paris and he came home to Canada and wrote about coming home.

And what he wrote about coming home to Canada brought tears to my eyes because I have come home to Canada also.

This is my land and this is the land of Rene Levesque and Pierre Trudeau and Jack Horner who merits understanding too, because he is a puzzled patriot. But do not misunderstand Mr. Horner or Mr. Levesque or entertainers like Yvon Deschamps or Mordecai Richler whose background is quite different from mine.

We are the Canadians and we will work out our problems and continue to be what we are.

New Miller album shipped by Capitol Can

Capitol Records has released a new album by the Steve Miller Band. The album, titled Book Of Dreams, contains Miller's current single Jet Airliner, currently climbing at number 62 on RPM's Top 100. Also included are a number of acoustic-oriented songs. Three of the twelve selections are instrumental, with Babes In The Wood the longest at two and a half minutes.

Seven of the twelve songs were written by Miller, and several of the others by band members. Rhythm guitarist David Denny wrote The Stake. Bassist Lonnie Turner and slide guitarist Greg Douglas wrote Jungle Love. In addition, former sidemen Les Dudek, himself on release with a new album, and Curley Cooke wrote Sacrifice, and make guest appearances on that song. Several other guest musicians make appearances on the album, including harp player Norton Buffalo.

Miller's previous Capitol album Fly

Like An Eagle included three major hit singles, the title cut, Rock 'n Me and Take The Money And Run.

U.A.'s Rogers slated for Newfoundland date

U.A. recording artist Kenny Rogers, whose current single Lucille, already a major success in the country field, is crossing over to Top 40 charts, is slated for a five-day appearance at the Lion's Club Fair in St. John's Newfoundland (May 11-15). U.A. reports both of his albums on the label have taken off in the wake of the single success.

Rogers' two U.A. albums are Love Lifted Me and the current release, titled after his name, which includes Lucille.

Wurzelmania a foot in Newfoundland - again

The new Attic single and album, Morning Glory and Golden Delicious, respectively, by the Wurzels, seem to be on their way toward becoming smash hits in Newfoundland, where the Wurzels have struck with several previous hits. Attic reports what Tom Williams describes as "amazing response" to the single on St. John's VPCM, which is playing it very frequently. Attic initially shipped 4,000 copies of the album last week and are already getting re-orders. Williams predicts the new album will be even bigger there than the Combine Harvest album.

The group is being slated for August dates in Newfoundland and the Maritimes. St. John's (8-9) and Halifax (11) are already firmed, with plans to gradually move the group further west. Their previous tour in Canada included a Hamilton Place Concert.

A&M's Jim Monaco, Peter Allen, Sheilla Conner (CKFM) John Doumanian (Bandana Ent) Bill Ballentine (CKFM) following Allen's appearance on 90 Minutes Live (CBC-TV).

Sam Sniderman took time out from his busy retail business to drop in on Burton Cummings and Randy Bachman during their CBC-TV taping in Toronto.

Leo Kottke with Capitol's new Chrysalis promotion rep., Ron Robles, following Kottke's successful Convocation Hall date in Toronto.

Doug Ingus, Greg Godovitz and Gino Scarpelli of Goddo with Terry McPhail and Rob Christie of CKGM at Norm Silver's Moustache Club reception.

The present is excellent the future looks bright

What's the state of the industry? Are we in a slump or do we have another good year ahead of us? RPM asked those who could best sum up our present situation and who could give us some idea of the future. Four basic questions were asked of the top executives of the major record manufacturing and distributing companies, which will constitute a weekly series.

They were asked the following questions: (1) How did your company fare in the first quarter of 1977? (2) What do you anticipate for the rest of the year? (3) Do you see any revolutionary changes coming about in the industry this year? (4) What other area of the industry would you like to comment about?

GERRY LACOURSIERE
President
A&M Records of Canada Limited

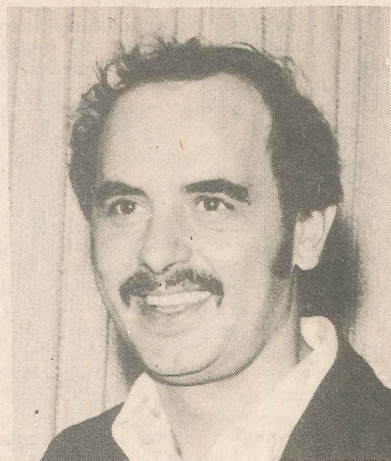

During the first quarter of 1977, we were down substantially. Last year we were riding high with the "Frampton Comes Alive" album, "Crime of the Century", "Crisis What Crisis" by Supertramp, Nazareth's "Greatest Hits", "Song Of Joy" by Captain And Tennille, and "Equinox" by Styx, plus our biggest single in A&M Canada's history, "Love Hurts" by Nazareth, as well as hits by Frampton, Captain and Tennille, Styx, and The Carpenters. This year we are not as hot.

The second quarter is starting out with a bang, with the new Supertramp going platinum within weeks of release. Hot releases by Captain and Tennille and Cat Stevens, plus new LPs by Peter Frampton, Brothers Johnson, The Tubes, The Carpenters, Styx and Chris de Burgh scheduled between now and June. I'm very optimistic A&M will equal if not surpass our banner year of '76.

I really do not see any revolutionary changes in the coming year, but I feel in the near future we will feel the impact and excitement of the video disk fulfilling its promise.

I feel its about time that we in the

"WHY DON'T WE MARK DOWN OUR CATALOGUE INSTEAD OF OUR BEST SELLERS??"

Record Business started putting business back into our industry. At the NARM Convention, an economist who spoke, hit the nail on the head when he stated something to the effect that "the record industry seems to have lost its logic when we take our hottest products and fall over each other to sell them below cost". Can you imagine Brooks Bros. having a hot suit made to sell for $300.00 and selling it for $150.00 - No! - but they will mark down previous best sellers. Why don't we mark down our catalogue instead of best sellers??

Flash Cadillac hop for world record in Van.

Private Stock recording group Flash Cadillac have completed a tour of Western Canada that was reported as very successful. Quality Records, who distribute the label in Canada, have released the group's debut album Sons Of The Beaches.

Gary Ritz of TPC, Quality's Western distributor, reports that while on tour, the group combined with Lethbridge station CHEC to do a bunny hop chain promotion. A bunny hop chain was formed consisting of 3,300 people, including the group and the CHEC staff. Information on the promotion is now on application to the Guinness people to verify it as a world's record for largest bunny hop chain ever. (See programmers).

Third MCA single from Car Wash LP

MCA Records is planning the release within two weeks of a third single from the soundtrack album of the movie Car Wash, performed by Rose Royce. The single, titled I'm Going Down, is already released in the U.S. and is reported receiving strong airplay and favourable trade coverage in its first weeks.

Of the first two singles from the album, the title theme is gold in Canada. The second, I Wanna Get Next To You, is still receiving strong sales and high chart numbers on majors and secondary stations across Canada. It is currently on RPM's Top 100 Chart at No. 14.

The Car Wash album is now platinum in the U.S. and gold in Canada.

Heavy airplay, charts for trooper MCA single

MCA Records reports heavy airplay across Canada on Trooper's current single Santa Maria, on the MCA-distributed Legend label. Almost every major station in Canada has added the single, with the recent addition on Toronto's CFTR at 29.

MCA also reports strong chart action, particularly in the West, where the group has achieved regular concert status. CHUM group station CFRW in Winnipeg is currently charting the single at number 2.

Santa Maria comes from Trooper's gold album Two For The Show. The band has recently completed a new album at Toronto's Phase One Studios, with Randy Bachman producing, to be released in June. While in Toronto, the group sat in for two days at the Hook & Ladder Club, made an appearance on the CBC-TV show 90 Minutes Live and collected a BMI Canada award for the song Two For The Show.

London Cancon singles getting airplay action

London Records reports six Canadian singles on six different labels, all distributed by London, are receiving cross-Canada airplay action. The six are Lisa Hartt's All Over The World on Rising Records, which has received listings across the country, It Always Happens This Way, a bilingual single by Toulouse on the Magique label whose listings include Toronto's CHUM and Hamilton's CKOC, Living Like A Rich Man by Paul Clinch with Choya, which is also being played on CKOC as well as Toronto's CFTR, new Andy Kimm single Lonely Again on Ice Records, Terry Jacks' Goldfish single You Keep Me Up, being added at western majors, and Aquarius release You Won't Dance With Me, by April Wine.

The latter is receiving the strongest action of the six to date, with major adds, sales and chart numbers across the country. From the group's current album Forever For Now, it was added and charted at several stations even before its release.

London was the distributor to chart the most Canadian content on RPM's Top 100 throughout 1976. The new string of releases follows a total of five 1977 Juno Awards for London and London-distributed product and artists, including top selling Canadian single and top selling Canadian album for Sweeny Todd and Andre Gagnon respectively, both on the London label.

Music Shoppe to sign Smile's True Reflection

Smile recording artists True Reflection, one of Canada's most renowned showbands, are set to sign an exclusive Canadian booking agreement with Toronto-based agency Music Shoppe International.

The signing will take place May 24, during a week's engagement at the Zodiac I in Toronto's Ramada Inn, and will make True Reflection the leading exclusive act in Music Shoppe's show and lounge division. The band will also celebrate their third anniversary with a special occasion at the Zodiac Saturday, May 28. The evening will feature magician Mike Mandel in a special 7:45 performance, as well as the band.

The band, consisting of Ray Moral on lead vocals, guitar and brass, Jim Sparks, their arranger, on lead vocals and keyboards, guitarist Chopper Rousseau, bassist Gilles Lapointe and drummer Norm Plante, have just returned from a successful tour of the southeast U.S. and the Caribbean islands. They are renowned for their ability to create a party atmosphere from on stage. They will be spending the week of May 16 making the rounds of local press and media people, renewing friendships and updating information.

True Reflection's latest Smile single, released late in 1976, was a cover of Bobby Darin's Dream Lover. The flip side was a disco version of the same song.

Heavy slate of Quality May Canada appearances

A number of Canadian dates are scheduled for artists on Quality-distributed labels through the month of May, headed by a full Ontario tour by Casablanca artist Long John Baldry.

Quality reports the current Liberate Ontario-Quebec tour progressing very well, with rave notices from Montreal, followed by excellent response at a week of concerts at Ottawa's National Arts Centre. Following a week of Hamilton Place concerts, May 2-7, Liberate moved in for a two-week stand at Toronto's O'Keefe Centre (9-21).

Playboy artist Mickey Gilley, having finished successful dates at Sudbury, Peterborough, Hamilton and London, prepares for the fifth and last concert in his current Ontario concert tour, scheduled for May 16 at the National Arts Centre.

The ever-popular Mills Brothers, who record on Lawrence Welk's Ranwood label, are slated for a two-week stint at the Imperial Room in Toronto's Royal York Hotel. The group have performed before capacity crowds there every year for several years.

Starday recording artist Red Sovine, coming off his country hit, Teddy Bear, and a successful recent Teddy Bear promotion in Vancouver by Quality's Western distributor TPC, is returning to Canada for a three-day booking into the Ranchman's Lounge in Calgary.

Looking ahead to June, dates are being lined up for a Western Canada concert tour by Jose Feliciano.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

For the first time in my 8 years' involvement with the Canadian record industry, I am ashamed to be part of it. I refer specifically to the article in your March 2 issue, page 2, entitled "RCMP - A tool of Interpol???".

As a merchant whose entire livelihood depends on the vinyl disc and the great ones who record on them, I have done my best to support and encourage Canadian records, artists, and productions. As a taxpayer I support and lend encouragement to the RCMP in enforcing the laws that we allow to exist. I refuse to be associated in any way with the suggestion in your article that as an industry we should expect that foreign drug users be exempt from Canadian laws-- so our economy may prosper!

Your article failed in any way to justify its claim of harassment. Perhaps others, who are more familiar with drugs, know about these things. I have never been harassed.

I also take great exception to the title of the article "RCMP - A tool of interpol???". It is my understanding that the reason and sole purpose of Interpol was for cooperation among federal police agencies. Yellow journalism, I would say!!!

I am a layman and am prepared to stand corrected, but it seems to me that some time ago an article appeared in Billboard statistically proving the Rock Idols of our industry to be the least community minded, donating the least money to charity, the least willing to put back into society - from whence came their success - than any other group in our whole western culture. The notable exceptions are very few. And yet, your article suggests that we should overlook the indiscretions that we mortals would be responsible for.

I am not an ultra-conservative law and order prude. I am the father of a 3 year old boy and a merchant "on the floor" who sees the youth that supports us all. Once on wax, the music, joy/sorrow/exultation/trauma, is public domain. But at what price? Let us as an industry encourage all talent and creativity to share the joy of music. But let us not encourage drugs or ask the RCMP to overlook it. There must be some responsibility. Your article was irresponsible and I for one want to be on record as saying so.

I feel no antagonism towards your magazine for printing such drivel, but do hope you will be responsible enough to print contradictory opinions.

Jazz - alive and well at Sam's

SPECIAL TO RPM

Record retailing, though exciting, is not immune to the apathy that pervades our society. Viewing the record store as a mere marketplace for music is limiting and unimaginative. The direct contact with the public, evidenced in the retail outlet, is an integral part of album promotion.

There are three effective ways of merchandising: first - prominent and creative display of product, second - in-store record play, and most significantly, the direct consumer-contact that can be effected only by the retail employee. The retail employee has the opportunity to excite his customers about the product he believes in and to depart his taste as well as his general musical knowledge to the record-buying public. Through this one on one relationship the success of his efforts can be immediately realized.

We always see super displays for the super groups, the gurus for whom there is a lot of pre-fab promotional material available. The retailer has the opportunity to construct, of his own initiative, displays which will support, newer, more obscure artists who, ironically require promotion more than do the super bands.

Embarking, periodically, on a crusade is healthy for the soul, and there are people in retail who make a habit of it. Hal Hill is one of these people, and his crusade is jazz.

He estimates the special efforts he and his assistant manager, George Sanford, put into it account for 55% more in jazz sales than normal. Managing the Sams store in Sherway Gardens gives Hal the perfect opportunity to promote his favourites. As a "record person", he takes an active part in the music industry.

His various projects include a jazz radio show on CKQS-FM and involvement as a record critic with the "Buffalo Jazz Report." Hal is not just a jazz buff but a true merchandiser. Regardless of his personal taste, he does not overlook the promotion of any kind of music in his store. By the way, congratulations Hal, as a result of your efforts and those people like you, jazz was included as a category in the Juno Awards of 1976.

We are in an era of musical history when individual and collective input is essential on all levels. I find myself caught up in the excitement that inevitably comes with the growth of an industry. Creative retailers are an integral part of that growth.

National retail acceptance for Mark-Lin's 101 Strings

Lee Farley, President of the Toronto-based Mark-Lin Records has hit on a nostalgia gold mine as nationwide acceptance of his catalogue of 101 Strings continues to grow. Now, with national distribution being handled by Pindoff Record Sales, it's expected the budget priced catalogue of quality light classics could outstrip the series sales during its heyday, a number of years ago.

Farley received a letter from an Ottawa retailer which, in part stated: "I must compliment you on your quality control which I must say is better than most of the records currently on the market", continuing with "I hope you will be able to make your albums available to the public at such a reasonable cost and with such care in the production".

Farley, in cooperation with Pindoff, is currently mounting a national campaign to bring to the attention of the consumer, the availability of this well priced adult contemporary line of recorded product.

Charlie debut LP released by GRT

GRT Records has released No Second Chance, a debut album by British group Charlie on the Janus label. The group members are Terry Thomas on vocals and guitars, John Anderson on vocals, bass and synthesizer, Julian Colbeck on piano and drummer Steve Gadd.

The album is one of the company's highlight releases for the month of May. The album was produced at Trident Studios in London, with band members Thomas and Anderson handling the production chores. Peter Zorn, who did the recent Al Stewart tour on sax, arranged the saxophones on the Charlie effort.

CBS' Glen Ricketts band touring east coast

CBS recording artists the Glen Ricketts Band are embarking on a major club tour of the east coast. One and two-week bookings are firmed for St. John's and Corner Brook, Newfoundland as well as for the rest of the Maritimes. Following the eastern tour, the group returns to Toronto for a booking at the Colonial Tavern at the end of June.

CBS has released a new single, Something For My Baby, by the group. The company reports solid airplay on the single in major markets with adds from Montreal's CKGM and Toronto's CHUM and CFTR to Vancouver's CFUN and Victoria's CKDA.

Music Shoppe preparing one pavilion booth

Toronto agency Music Shoppe International is taking part in the Canadian Recording Industry pavilion at the CNE in August celebrating 100 years of recorded sound. Music Shoppe president Ron Scribner, in making the announcement, expressed support for the goals and objectives of the anniversary celebration.

CBC-FM stereo network completes national link

The world's longest stereo network added its tenth station, May 1st., with the signing on of CBK Stereo FM, Regina, Saskatchewan. At 96.9 on the FM dial, the Regina station joins CBC owned-and-operated stations in Vancouver, Calgary, Winnipeg, Toronto, Ottawa, Montreal, Halifax and St. John's as a network stretching 3,783 miles from coast to coast. Regina listeners will now be able to tune into the same programs as those in 8 other cities served by the CBC. These include the Eric Friesen Show; Arts National; Listen To The Music; Ideas; and the CBC's in depth news program Sunday Magazine.

Says Program Director, Bob Wagstaff: "The Stereo network is particularly well suited to music broadcasting. The schedule is less rigid and so we are able to provide unhurried programming, all with an eclectic balance".

Regina's addition to the new stereo network is part of the Corporation's efforts to fulfill its mandate under the 1968 Broadcasting Act which calls for the national broadcasting service to be "extended to all parts of Canada, as public funds become available". The CRTC recently approved CBC stereo service for Windsor, Fredericton and Saint John and the CBC has applied for Edmonton, Saskatoon, Sydney and London, Ont.

The CBC's French stereo network now serves Montreal, Quebec City, Chicoutimi and Ottawa with new service being planned for Toronto, Moncton, Rimouski and Sudbury.

The CBC is also extending its stereo networks by carrying out its Accelerated Coverage Plan (ACP) and the Radio Affiliates Replacement Plan (RARP). The former, the biggest engineering project of its kind in the world, will bring radio and television service (in the appropriate official language) to all communities of 500 or more people across Canada. Completion of this plan is expected for late 1980 or early 1981.

The RARP is expected to take full-time CBC Radio service to communities currently reliant on affiliated stations for a limited number of hours of CBC programs each week. There are now seven RARPs complete which includes three rebroadcasting transmitters at Kamloops, Kelowna and Penticton in B.C.

Mulligan's Canadian Goldrush gaining in national popularity

Terry David Mulligan, a veteran in Canadian rock radio, has funneled his talent into what is shaping up to be one of the most successful youth-oriented programs presented by the CBC. Mulligan hosts the Vancouver originated Great Canadian Goldrush which is heard on the CBC AM network Mondays at 8:30 pm and on the FM network, Saturdays at 11:05 pm.

Done to a turn with a private sector smoothness and a Corporation budget, Mulligan has managed to capture some of the excitement of today's music with behind-the-scenes action that local critics pass over or can't perceive. His May 2nd program aired an interview he had with Mick Fleetwood, drummer and leader of Fleetwood Mac. He also sat in on a live studio session with the Lyle and Murray Band, a local Vancouver group and a live concert with English guitarist Steve Hillage.

Mulligan's May 16th show will air the Massey Hall (Toronto) show of Valdy and The Hometown Band.

As can be seen by the Valdy taping, Mulligan doesn't confine himself to the Vancouver area. While in Toronto for the Valdy show he taped a live studio session with WEA's Wireless plus an interview with Steve Miller, both of which will be aired May 23.

The big coup for Mulligan was his interview with George Harrison which will be presented in two parts. The first part of this exclusive interview will be heard May 30 and the conclusion, June 6.

The June 13 outing will be devoted to a studio session and interview with CBS' Michel Pagliaro along with a live concert featuring English rock band, Sutherland Brothers and Quiver.

Please note, the above times are for the CBC AM network. The FM airing takes place the following Saturday.

Brian Pombiere returns to management business

Brian Pombiere, after a four year absence from the music scene, has returned to the business. Pombiere opened a new management company, under his own name, based in the Eastern Townships of Quebec. Initial signing is a local group, Highstreet, which Pombiere hopes to bring to international attention and "to provide a solid base for English artists in the Townships". There is no recording or label information at time of writing.

Pombiere, a product of management of the early sixties, tallied up a number of successes over the years including the management of the Lords of London who later evolved into Nucleus and later A Foot In Cold Water. He joined the Capricorn Agency in 1970 and began his own agency in 1971 and in 1972 joined forces with Music Shoppe. The latter has become Canada's management success story under its present president Ron Scribner.

"...AND THE HITS JUST KEEP ON COMIN'..."

Peter E. Berry
(The Flying Dutchman)
Syracuse University Press
Published: 1977 (278 pages)

Pete Berry is better known as the Flying Dutchman (Dutch), an exciting, imaginative, articulate, entertaining conceptual-jock of the Don Imus - Gary Owens - Jackson Armstrong - Joey Reynolds - Jonathan Winters - Emperor Bob Hudson genre. His show is a constant barrage of drop-ins, one-liners, throw-aways and weird phone calls, most from the Foonmen State Home for the Perturbed where Dutch has replaced Harold Stassen as the Perturbed Party's perennial Presidential candidate. And Dutch is inspirational. After an hour of his antics, you know there's hope for radio; you know what great radio is.

"...And the Hits Just Keep On Comin' " is the culmination of Dutch's twenty-two year love affair with radio and music. But before I get into the book itself, let me lay out my bias. Over the last few years I've made a point of reading every book written by jocks, newspeople and other practicing broadcasters. I've found that 60% are pure trash; 30% are self-administered ego-massages; 9% are trivial but fun; 1% are of any lasting value. So, experiential bias firmly ingrained in my psyche, I sat down to read Dutch's labour of love.

Len Barry, once a member of the Dovells and a 1965 Grammy nominee for 1-2-3, authored the Forward, which, like Dutch's introduction, is run-of-the-mill, generally ho-hum. "Here we go again," I thought, "another useless rehashing of worn-out facts and phrases."

Each year from 1955 through 1976 is chapterized. 1955, subtitled The Rimshot Heard 'Round the World, began like any other book on music and radio: The roots of rock & Roll music reach back

"Is it time to walk my pet rock," I wondered.

Then WHAM!!!! it hit me, dead on. I'm down for a nine count. Here was the tightest, most succinct, most laconic socio-cultural analysis of pop music circa 1955 I've ever read. It's short, pointed, precise. Dutch has an astonishing capacity to synthesize facts. There isn't an ounce of fat! it's 100% pure beef.

But wait a minute. This is chapter one, the most important one. Maybe he worked extra hard, maybe it's a stroke of luck not genius. Read on.

WHAM BANG!!!!!! I'm down for another nine. 1956 is better than 1955. Presley with Dorsey flashes through my mind. There I am, eight years old and comfortably slouching in front of the tube. It's Saturday nite, we're watching Gleason's summer replacement (The Dorsey's). "And now by popular demand, the Dorsey Brothers present the new, nationwide rage, for his second straight week, Elvis Presley." From stage right come the line, "Well, it's one for the money, two" It's my initiation to rock. Thanks for bringing it back, Dutch.

1957, 1958, 1959, WHAM!!!! WHAM!!!! WHAM!!!! Dutch hits the soft spots again and again and again. His insightful analysis, so skillfully woven, removes the melancholy which usually takes the fun out of nostalgia. And he won't quit. All the way through 1976 the pace refuses to slow down. It's like his show! Fantastic!!!!!!

The data on each year is a perfect base for building a mosaic, a special series or foreground piece. The discography for each year cuts your research down considerably. Everything you need to capture four quarters an hour is right here and at $4.95 it's a steal.

There isn't too much to complain about

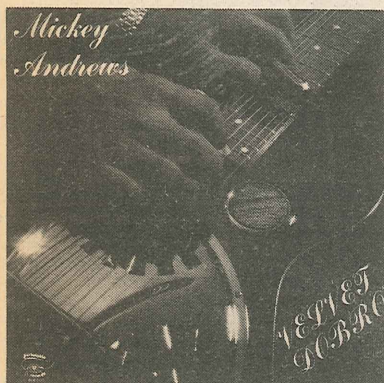

Peter E. Berry

in this book, except maybe that Dutch calls it statistical. It isn't. An enumeration? Yes. Statistical? No. He hasn't, for instance, undertaken a correlation analysis or used a measure of concordance (the two statistical tools most germane to best selling record analysis). A variance analysis would have given him composite hit charts for each year (if he used more than 2 trade-paper sources) which would have enhanced his work.

But this is a trivial omission, nothing more than a minor irritant, a nuance obvious only to a researcher (like me). So, I give Dutch an A++ for this book. So will you.

Dutch, by the way, is currently on a promotional tour, touting the book across North America. He'd make an outstanding guest subject for a mosaic or news feature. His audience appeal is great. You can catch up to Dutch through Pam Roberts, Syracuse University Press, 315-423-3825.

TUBE OF PLENTY

(The Evolution of American Television)

Erik Barnouw

Oxford University Press

Published: 1977

$4.95 (paper) $14.95 (cloth)

Television is the only diversion to become a way of life for an entire civilization. And it's done that with programming that completely obscures all of the real factors, social relationships, and personal life styles in the lives of millions who consume it.

It's also the only part of the modern electronic culture created entirely under the control of a few monopoly corporations and their networks: ABC, CBS, and NBC. The holdings of these monopolies play prominent roles in every other facet of modern entertainment, including the recording industry.

Erik Barnouw, in his Tube Of Plenty, makes all of that quite clear with a thorough examination of the medium's history from the first seeds of video possibilities implicit in the pioneering days of wireless radio to today's prominence of The Tube, switched "on" during most waking hours in most North American homes.

The TV story, Barnouw shows, could not be understood apart from the history of radio. It was the huge U.S. radio networks and related corporations who invested the super profits from radio's heyday to create commercial TV--and it was the same corporations that shot down network radio in it's prime to make way for the even more profitable TV business.

Broadcast monopoly was born out of the marriage of military and commercial interests in the possibilities of radio following World War I.

After unsuccessful attempts to form a broadcasting monopoly under the control of the U.S. military, G.E., Westinghouse, AT&T, and the United Fruit Company joined to form The Radio Corporation Of America. All of the holdings of American Marconi, which owned most of the important radio patents, were transferred to the new monopoly.

RCA grew to run two NBC radio networks: the Red and Blue Networks, in addition to almost completely controlling the marketing of radios - those manufactured by G.E. and Westinghouse. In 1943 government trust-busting action forced them to sell off the Blue Network to Edward Noble, the Lifesaver candy king, which later became ABC.

CBS was formed in 1929 and firmly established when its founder, Cigar manufacturer William Paley, sold 49 per cent of the network for $5 million worth of stock in Paramount. Its first backer had been Columbia Records. Paramount, even in 1929, had its eyes on TV.

Barnouw's book - a condensation of his previously published three-volume History Of Broadcasting In The United States (A Tower In Babel, The Golden Web, and The Image Empire) is almost evenly divided between the corporate history of the network broadcasting and an account of the big events of the television era to the present.

He concentrates on the political events--like the cold war, the Kennedy era, Bay of Pigs, Vietnam, Watergate--that shaped and were shaped by the monstrous eye and its corporate backing.

He's commendably careful not to commit the Yankee falacy in his history - equating the history of TV with the history of American network TV. But he doesn't play down the effects of the U.S. TV industry dumping billions of dollars of video product to countries around the world for prices that amount to a fraction of what it would cost to produce programming in each.

No country has been so influenced by the tidal wave of U.S. TV than Canada, and that makes this book essential reading to Canadians involved with the growing concern to create bigger and better mass media here. There are a lot of lessons to be learned.

CFGM's Ryan raises bucks for charity

Talk about deejay dedication . . . how about CFGM's Dan Ryan, not only did Dan enter the Boston Marathon, he completed the entire twenty-six miles of the World-famous event, raising over sixty-five hundred dollars pledged by CFGM listeners to be donated to charitable causes in the Toronto area by the host of 'GM's mid-morning, request stanza.

Thoroughly enjoyed listening to a copy of George Hamilton IV's first album from

KEEP IT COUNTRY

his new recording arrangement with Anchor Records, Mervyn Conn's British-based label. The set will be distributed in North America by ABC Dot Records. Fine Lace and Home-spun Cloth offers several strong entries by George IV, including his current single release I Wonder Who's Kissing Her Now. While that particular item seems to be catching on but slowly with country spinners, I can't help but feel that one or two of the songs yet to be released as singles are even stronger. May The Winds Be Always At Your Back, a Harlan Howard-composition sounds to me as if it could become the solid American-market hit that has eluded George in recent times. Other strong tunes in the new set are: Til The Fiddle Comes Off The Wall, John's (a sort of talking-blues number) I Had A Horse and The Wonderful Soupstone.

George's latest album effort was produced in Nashville by Allen Reynolds, a man who has been responsible for a good deal of Crystal Gayle's recent chart success. An item in the last Music City News indicates that Reynolds has joined CBS Records as a staff producer for a number of artists already signed to that label and its affiliates. The announcement was made by CBS, V.P., Billy Sherrill.

Meanwhile George Hamilton IV's syndicated TV series has been renewed for a fifth production season under the guiding hand of Manny Pitson at Hamilton's (the City) CHCH-TV. The Canadian-produced show is televised throughout the World through syndication.

MCA Records, having just completed a month-long successful Loretta Lynn promotion in conjunction with CFGM, are devoting their month of May promotion attention in the Toronto area to a Conway Twitty promotion in cooperation with CKFH. The Twitty campaign will be known as the Captain Country posters (that's Conway portrayed in his Team Canada '77 sweater) and the grand prize will be an all expenses paid trip for two to Nashville, via American Airlines, with hotel accommodations, food and spending money for three days of the annual fanfare celebrations in Music City in June. Heavy air exposure of the current Twitty best selling album, Play Guitar Play, will be the keystone of the on-air activity at 'FH.

Not to be outdone CFGM comes back currently with their North To Alaska promotion. You guessed it, winners there get all expense paid trips at the peak of the Summer tourist season to Alaska.

Jack Winter of CKFH and his counterpart at CFGM, Joe Lefresne, both members of ACME's CB Committee will be keeping ACME members up to date with the details of the above mentioned on-air promotions, and a good many other ventures of a similar nature that have proven successful on the two Toronto country outlets. They will also attempt to get from station members of ACME an evaluation of Cancon product listings that have been prepared and distributed by Winter through the CB Committee in recent months.

Bluegrass continues to flourish on the Cancon scene. Two of the better known groups have just signed recording contracts with Boot Records. They are: the Dixie Flyers from London, Ontario and the Kent County Pickers. Debut albums will be forthcoming shortly.

Marty Robbins and The Stonemans will perform at a show and dance for the Scarborough Lions Club in the Toronto suburb on Saturday June 4th.

Ian Tyson has what sounds to me like a real winner with his new release on the Highwood label, Texas I Miss You.

Two of the best known names, albeit in different branches of country music, passed away recently. Eddie Miller, composer of Release Me, succumbed to a heart attack at his Nashville home in early April. Release Me was one of well over a thousand tunes that Miller had written in his lifetime, but it was easily his most famous composition, with estimated world-wide sales of 23 million copies by various artists over the years. Vito Pellettieri, Grand Ole Opry Stage Manager since 1934, died recently in Nashville at the age of 87 following a stroke.

Following the recent untimely death of Stoney Cooper I had some doubt as to the future of the act that co-starred Stoney and his wife, Wilma Lee. However, I'm delighted to report that Wilma Lee is apparently carrying the act on by herself. An upcoming, outdoor, country music festival in Louisiana will feature among others, Wilma Lee Cooper and the Clinch Mountain Clan. All the best for continued success to this great lady of country music.

And how about country music really going uptown. Tuesday, May 17th., the following bunch of pickers and singers will star on the stage of Carnegie Hall, no less, right there in the heart of L'il Ol' New York: Roy Clark, Freddy Fender, Hank Thompson, Don Williams and Buck Trent. The show is being presented in cooperation with the Big Apple's country outlet, WHN-1050.

Sure seems to be a lot of play on the Ray Griff album cut, Piano Man. I've always been of the opinion that it was one of the strongest selections in his super Last Of The Winfield Amateurs set. Ray sponsored a team of young un's in the very Canadian game of ice hockey this past winter, in of all places, Nashville. Ray must have given the kids some of his expertise in puck chasing from his younger days as they won all their games, completing an undefeated season on the Music City rinks.

Congratulations in order for Merle Haggard and Leona Williams have formally announced their engagement and wedding plans are progressing favourably.

When you visit Music City this Summer for Fanfare or otherwise, keep an eye peeled for Webb Pierce's newest business venture. Webb has opened a Nashville nightspot on the corner of third and Broadway right downtown. He calls it Webb Pierce's Rhinestone Cowboy.

The other brief is an attempt to attain investment incentives for Canadian recordings, by which incentives potential investors are granted write-off privileges similar to those attained by the movie industry. This would encourage outside investment in recording, which in turn would improve the quality and increase the quantity of Canadian recordings: "At the moment, the investment in Canadian recordings is coming totally from within the industry. There's almost no outside investment at all, which is the opposite to the film industry. We feel that Canadian production would benefit by some outside investment."

HEAVILY INVOLVED IN CARAS

In addition to time spent administering over CRIA's operations, Robertson is heavily involved in CARAS, in which he serves as Secretary-Treasurer and Director. CARAS was formed two years ago, primarily to stage the television of the Juno Awards show, in cooperation with Stan Klees and Walt Grealis, originators of the Junos. Originally, the board of Directors comprised two CRIA members, two CIRPA members, two reps of the now defunct Managers' Association and Robertson. It was intended as an all-industry organization.

CARAS' objectives include the showcasing and promotion of Canadian artists, and of the Canadian industry. Televising the Junos was seen as an opportunity to showcase, and as such, a promotional vehicle for the industry.

There are currently about 600 members of CARAS. They are the voters for the Juno Awards. Any full time member of the recording industry can join CARAS by paying the membership fee.

Robertson notes CARAS intends, in the future, to provide educational services and opportunities for people in the industry, and for those trying to enter. Other industry showcases are also being considered. The problem is that, as a volunteer organization, the Academy lacks full time staff to become involved in the planning and execution of other events.

Robertson himself is a strong supporter of the Canadian recording industry: "There is unlimited potential for Canadian talent, provided the right sort of structure is developed and the right sort of assistance is given, not only by the industry but also by the government.

"I think everybody has to look outside of Canada in order to succeed financially, because I think it's recognized that with Canadian production and Canadian sales, you can only just about hope to recover your costs. Your production costs are no different from the States here, but the market is one-tenth the size. So you've got to look outside of Canada.

"I'd like to see more of a framework set up that would give Canadian artists a springboard into international sales and the international marketplace."
