Variety Salute to Junos headtables Cancon acts

In somewhat of a departure from previous years, this year's Variety Club Salute To The Junos, the fourth such event, will stage an impressive list of Cancon recording acts as headtable guests.

"We wanted to keep the luncheon light and funny," explains Daisy Falle of CARAS, who along with Katie White, and Neill Dixon, coordinated the luncheon salute with Variety Club's Al Dubin and Jan Porter. "It's not too often we can get a good

Federal tax change will affect record prices

According to CRIA's Brian Robertson, in the recent federal budget, brought forward earlier this year, there was a proposal that, if passed in the House of Commons, could (as of January 1st) raise the prices of all sound recordings by simply changing the level of imposition of sales tax from the manufacturing sector to the wholesalers.

"They (the government) are going to be collecting more revenue which will have to be collected from the consumer, and it's not like it's revenue that's being recouped by the major distributors," explains Gary Hubbard, A&M's Vice President, Finance, who has been present at several meetings with Revenue Canada. "We're not going to see a penny of it.

"They don't seem to acknowledge all the inroads that we're trying to make to promote records in Canada. This is inflationary, and it's going to push the price of records up. It just boggles the mind," he continues.

"Because what they're doing right now is collecting from eight major record companies across Canada and the money goes into the bank every month . . . and that's it. Now, they're going to have to collect from every record company for their transactions with people who aren't wholesalers and from every wholesaler who's collecting from retailers," he concludes. "They're just making a lot of work for accountants."

Although discussions are continuing, Robertson is also certain the measure will be passed, "but the bottom line is that's being imposed to increase federal sales tax revenues."

A&M gears national push on Janz release

U.S. tipsters have already tagged Paul Janz as the "artist of the '80s", and CHR and A/C programmer acceptance of his A&M single, Believe In Me, indicates an early breakout for this popular Vancouver artist.

"This single is a ballad designed for the North American market," says Gerry Lacoursiere, President of A&M Records Canada. "He's got the voice, the looks, the stage presence . . . and the production is worldclass. He's a winner, and I really believe he'll be one of this country's top recording acts very soon . . . and he'll break internationally as well."

The Janz single, written by himself and his wife Elizabeth, was self-produced with Lindsay Kidd, and taken from his High Strung album.

representation of Canadian recording acts under one roof, outside of the Junos," she went on to explain, "So we took advantage of the headtable arrangement at the Variety Club luncheon and firmed a very exciting list of guests."

Included are Chris and J.P. Partland, Billy Newton-Davis, Tom Cochrane, Bruce Good, Molly Johnson, Lee Aaron, Bruce Cockburn, Ronnie Hawkins, Dave Betts of Honeymoon Suite, Carroll Baker, Gowan, Dan Hill, Fergus Hambleton, Erroll Starr and members of Frozen Ghost and Platinum Blonde. Also sitting at the headtable will be a select and very rare breed of behind-the-scenes shakers and movers, known as Personal Managers.

As well Bobby Herriot, President of the Toronto Musicians Association, which is celebrating 100 Years of Making Music, will be at the headtable. He will be presented with the Juno Booster Award. "This is only the second year we've presented the Booster Award," explains Falle, "an award that is presented to organizations that distinguish themselves in the promotion of Canadian talent." Last year the award was presented to the Variety Club.

CARAS is also putting together a video,

High-powered promo for new Body Electric single

Parallel One is harnessing a national power project behind the release of the new Body Electric single, Out Of The Blue, co-written by band members David Sinclair (lead vocals, guitar), and Bob Buckley (keyboards), with production by the pair at Vancouver's Little Mountain Sound.

The single is housed in a beautifully-illustrated four-colour poster-jacket with art and design by Marco Comoglio (Westgraphika) and with calligraphy by Paul Engl.

Sinclair explains that the idea for the song came to him "quite literally, out of the blue. One day I received one of those crazy flyers in the mail. It was called The Eight Steps To Success, and one of those steps was to seize opportunities that come to you from out of the blue and make the most of them."

He continues, "A few days later, while driving to the studio, something reminded me of that line and I started putting words together. In the space of a few minutes I had mentally composed the lyrics for the chorus and could hear the music that accompanied it. Suddenly I realized that I had arrived without remembering quite how I got there." He concludes with, "Bob and I re-wrote some of the music and added some lyrics, but Out Of The Blue remains basically as it came to me . . . right out of the blue."

Other players on the session were drummer Jerry Adolphe and bassist Brian Newcombe, with background vocals supplied by Joani Bye, Joani Taylor and Sean Hosein.

Parallel One is distributed independently from the label's Vancouver office. There is also an office in Toronto which coordinates promotion, tracking and publicity with Music Brokers.

which they hope to use as a finale for the luncheon date.

Tony Rosato of Saturday Night Live and SCTV will be emceeing the show, which will be held at the Grand West Ballroom of Toronto's Sheraton Centre (Oct. 30/87) at 12:30 pm. Tickets are going fast, and those wishing to attend, should call Jan Porter at 961-7000.

Young People's Theatre launch children's single

Toronto's Young People's Theatre (YPT) has launched a single of the song Child Power from Jacob Two-Two Meets The Hooded Fang, the group's most popular production, based on the novel by Mordecai Richler. Both the plug side and flip (When Things Go Bump) were written by Phil Balsam (Fraggle Rock) and Dennis Lee (Alligator Pie). Child Power is a duet by Vivienne Williams and Jeff Jones, while the flip features William Colgate "being wonderfully ghoulish in a number appropriate for the Halloween season," explains D.J. Jestadt of Silverbirch Productions.

Both sides were produced by Andy Krehm (Christmas At Arcadia), and carries a 4-part MAPL logo.

Child Power is the show's theme song and "already, it's on the lips of every kid in Toronto," continues Jestadt. The Jacob Two-Two production is being launched in London, with talk of a Broadway opening as well as a movie.

The single, housed in a colourfully illustrated (San Murata) sleeve, was released to coincide with the opening of Jacob Two Two at the Young People's Theatre (Oct. 16). Distribution is handled through YPT at 416-363-5131.

Lineup of Cancon stars set for Juno telecast

CARAS has released a list of Cancon stars who will be performing and presenting at this year's Juno Awards presentations. The 2-hour television show from Toronto's O'Keefe Centre (Nov. 2) is being hosted by comedian Howie Mandel.

Performing this year will be Celine Dion, Gowan, Luba, The Nylons, the Partland Brothers, Rock And Hyde, Erroll Starr, Kim Richardson, and Gino Vannelli. All of the performers are among the more than 100 Canadian artists nominated for various awards.

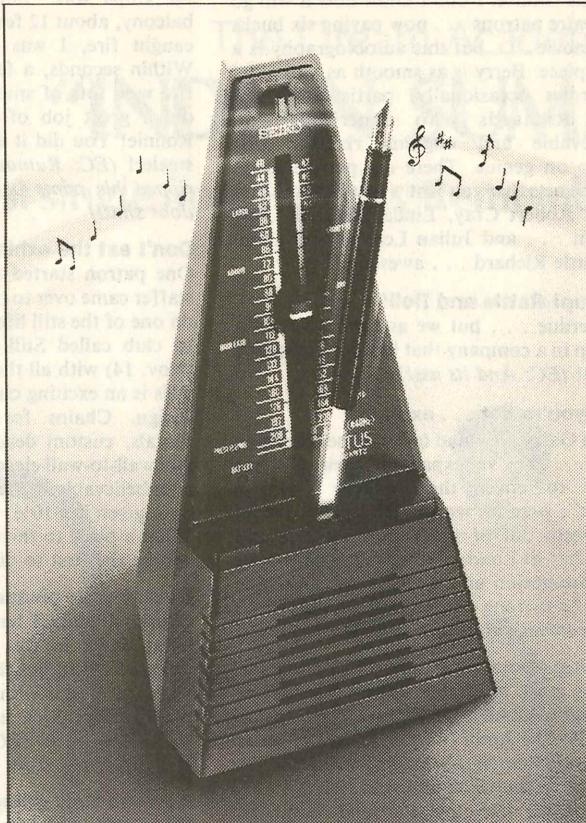

The Nylons, Rock And Hyde and Gowan are also contenders for the Entertainer Of The Year, a new Juno Award sponsored by Molson Breweries of Canada and voted on by the public. There were more than 3.5 million ballots distributed across Canada.

Presenters will include Bryan Adams and his co-writer Jim Vallance, Sam Reid and Alex Frew of Glass Tiger, guitarist Liona Boyd, Samantha Fox, Lorraine Segato of Parachute Club, Fred Penner, CBC Video Hits host Samantha Taylor, Triumph's Gil Moore, and Billy Newton-Davis.

There will also be cameo appearances by Tina Turner and Bono, the lead singer of U2, both of who will honour Canadian record producers.

WALT SAYS

Stick 'em up . . . !!

A number of record execs are steaming over a large stipend that's going to be handed to a guy who is using his influence within the industry to feather his own nest. This one is getting nasty, as artists are paid a honorarium to perform, while the administrators are getting a lot of money to use their influence and all in the name of charity. One daily writer is on it, and plans to scoop the rest, and the record biggies aren't going to let this one go by without questions. (EC: The artist is always asked to give his services for next to nothing. Let's start asking charities to account to the public! There should be a law!!)

Cancon needs a boost . . . !!

There's more disappointment in the industry about the poor showing of Cancon than I had imagined. We're just a few short weeks away from the Juno TVer . . . and there's an obvious lack of excitement from radio and the press. Last year, at this time, Cancon singles and albums were being aired with a lot of enthusiasm, with intros like ". . . here's the latest single from Juno Award nominee, so and so," extro'ing with "What a great record." The press was also running exciting articles on the Juno nominees. As a matter of fact, looking back at Cancon on the charts last year, was pretty dismal compared to this

" . . . the prophets of doom, the messengers of mediocrity, will be overwhelmed by the new generation of competent, creative, confident artisans and by all those of preceding generations who have already demonstrated their freshness of mind, their talent and their capacity for inspired leadership."

year. There are 11 Cancon singles on the Top 50 of the RPM 100 singles survey for this week (Oct 24), compared to only 5 for the same week last year. The only real push I've seen for the Junos this year was from Molson Breweries, who've been flooding the market with great promotion. (EC: And they know how to promote . . . !!)

Chuck Berry flick a masterpiece . . . !!

The other night I was invited by MCA to sit in on a screening of the Chuck Berry movie, Hail! Hail! Rock 'n' Roll . . . and I thought I'd watch the opening and disappear out the door. Needless to say . . . I was the last one to leave the theatre. I don't know how it will go for theatre patrons . . . now paying six bucks for a movie . . . but this autobiography is a masterpiece. Berry is as smooth as milk, and he curdles occasionally, particularly with Keith Richards who contributes an unbelievable and ongoing rhetoric that borders on genius. There are performances by name acts that you just won't believe: Etta James, Robert Cray, Linda Ronstadt, Eric Clapton . . . and Julian Lennon and about that Little Richard . . . awesome!

Shakeup! Rattle and Roll!

It's overdue . . . but we are about to see a shakeup in a company that has been dragging its foot! (EC: And its ass!!)

When you're hot . . . expand!!

WEA's Garry Newman tells me the label is so hot . . . they've expanded their Ontario branch to cover the territory "like a blanket", were his words. He's taken Jacqui Chynoweth out of the Toronto office and moved her to London where she will handle sales, promotion and displays . . . just like Mary Armstrong does in Ottawa. (EC: There's something about a woman's touch!!)

Speaking about rock 'n' roll!!

What a great headtable lineup the Variety Club and CARAS have for the Variety Club Salute To The Junos (Oct 30) (EC: I'm glad I got my ticket early!!) What you will see at the headtable is the Canadian star system in action. Names like the Partland Brothers, Gowan, Billy Newton-Davis, Terry Carisse, Dan Hill, Molly Johnson, Bruce Good, Tom Cochrane, Fergus Hambleton, Lee Aaron, Carroll Baker, Erroll Starr, Frozen Ghost and Platinum Blonde . . . and of course, our

DalBello LP released in Europe first

Capitol recording artist (Lisa) DalBello, is so popular in Europe, her new LP, entitled She, will be released there later this month, and not in Canada until the first of the year. She will be opening the European tour for Marillion, the latter part of the month.

"There's a very strong feeling here about this record," says Tim Trombley, Director of Talent Acquisition and Artist Development for Capitol. "It may seem a bit odd that the record is being released in Europe before North America, but her last record, Whomanfoursays, laid quite a base for her in Europe, where it sold over 100,000 pieces." He went on to explain that with the Marillion tour, the label "really has something to go after."

adopted Canadian, Ronnie Hawkins, who can take a lot of credit for starting the careers of many Canadian recording acts, including Robbie Robertson, who will be releasing an LP soon (EC: He won't be here . . . this year!) Also at the head table will be several managers, and these are the people who get very little recognition. So, take a bow Daisy Falle, Katie White and Neill Dixon. (EC: I'm glad I bought my ticket early!!)

Not on a Shetland pony . . . !!

What a spectacular evening. If I hadn't seen it from ringside, I'd have guessed Steve Thomson planned it, but Ronnie Hawkins at the Copa was "hot stuff." Sitting in the balcony, about 12 feet from the speakers that caught fire, I was privy to the spectacle. Within seconds, a few flames turned into a fire with lots of smoke, and the Copa staff did a great job of getting everybody out. Ronnie! You did it again . . . you old scene stealer! (EC: Rumour has it that Thomson ripped his pants before he welded the car door shut!)

Don't eat the exhibits . . . !!

One patron started to eat the buffet and a staffer came over to tell him he was munching on one of the still life exhibits. A new Toronto club called Still Life opened last week (Nov. 14) with all the beautiful people there. This is an exciting club that is the ultimate in design. Chains for walls, water swirling murals, custom designed tables and chairs, and wall-to-wall elegant elite, and the lighting is unbelievable. What a party. Sylvia would have given it a 10 1/2. (EC: I give it 11 . . . !!) What a place to throw a reception, and who will be the first to discover it???

Double your pleasure . . . !!

Charlie Camilleri has to be one of the proudest dad's in the business. He not only fathered twins, but they're both in the record business. Ron is with Charlie at CBS . . . and twin brother Rick is joining Capitol in the legal department (EC: I'll bet he learned all his legal tricks from the old man!!)

How are they going to sort this out?

When powerful company B, buys almost 50 percent of powerful company C, and company C has an ongoing contract with powerful company A, and the two powerful companies, A and B are competitors (EC: How about arch enemies . . . ?) something's got to explode. (EC: Neither company A nor B have introduced the 1.5 litre bottle yet!!)

COVER STORY - by Graeme Boyce

54:40 learns it takes much

Although their self-titled album, released last year, garnered enough critical acclaim to literally sink a ship, and their previous independently-released album paved the way for a recording contract with Warner Bros. in Los Angeles, theoretically, 54:40 should be standing in line to receive a deserved Juno next month. But they're not among the nominated.

Instead, they'll be touring across this country again, flogging their latest piece of inspiring work, Show Me. Really, nothing has changed much, except now they have a plan. According to the band's Neil Osborne, their own impatience combined effectively with the label's indecision to create a classic stiff. The record lasted four weeks on U.S. shelves.

"The problem last time," Osborne admits, "was that we were really anxious to get it out in a hurry without really understanding what was going on." But also when it was released, the record company didn't know what to do with it, he adds. "They were divided. Some people thought Baby Ran was going to transcend us into 'pop stars' and a lot of people thought we were just geared for the colleges."

The initial campaign stateside focusses on taking the record Top 10 on the campus charts and then, after building this "foundation", the new year should witness the rise in popularity of the band at a more commercial level. That's the plan, says Osborne.

"They said too, if we really insisted, they would put big full page ads in major rock magazines," he continues. "But then people would say 'Oh, this is a product of a record

Houston &amp; Top Gun top lead CRIA certifications

CRIA certifications for September list Whitney Houston's self-titled LP and the Top Gun Soundtrack as metal leaders for the month, both certifying as 5-times platinum.

Michael Jackson's Bad LP certified as quadruple, triple, double and single platinum, as well as gold. The only other double platinum for that month was Heart's Bad Animals.

Besides Jackson, single platinum certifications were for Suzanne Vega's Solitude Standing, and Pink Floyd's A Momentary Lapse Of Reason. The latter also scored a gold certification.

Other gold certifications were for David Wilcox (My Eyes Keep Me In Trouble), Rock & Belles Orielles (The Disque), Andre Breton (Un jour a la fois), Kiss (Crazy Nights), Grateful Dead (In The Dark), Dirty Dancing (Soundtrack), R.E.M. (Life's Rich Pageant), Lisa Lisa And Cult Jam (Spanish Fly), Judas Priest (Priest), Loverboy (Wildside), Gloria Estefan And Miami Sound Machine (Let It Loose), Mick Jagger (Primitive Cool), Haywire (Don't Just Stand There), and The Box (All The Time).

Gold single certifications were for Heart (Alone), Lisa Lisa And Cult Jam (Head To Toe), and George Michael (I Want Your Sex).

company that nobody's heard of . . . ' We're just not that well known down there. So this way, we establish some roots.

"I think we benefitted from the fact that we got put in our place. But, the record company liked us enough, and still had faith in us to say 'Look you guys, you've got something here. You made a great record, it didn't do as well as we all wanted, but just go ahead and make another one.' So, that's what we did."

Dave Jerden, who has engineered some great records for the Rolling Stones and Talking Heads, among others, was brought aboard as the project's producer, at the band's request. Given the freedom to record the album they wanted, Jerden de-mystified the record making process, Osborne informs, and gave "worthwhile engineering courses" to the band.

"The direction was in our hands," Osborne stresses, "as long as it fit his sonic requirements. He had a concept of how he wanted the songs to fit. He likes to add just the right amount of analog or microphone sounds with digital to create the 'overall' sound."

"This record, I think, is even better and has more going for it, in terms of the business, but there's still . . . I guess you have to learn a lot about how the business works. If things aren't in the right place and you don't have the right perspective on people and money, it's really weird. We're at the mercy of how it's perceived. Some people perceive it quite well . . . some don't."

"I don't know how the world works; I only know how to work within it," he remarks. "I basically insisted that since the last one had a fairly short life, that this time I wanted to see a plan. I said I'm not going in the studio for five months to see this thing last four weeks. I wanted a commitment of at least six months . . . and that's pretty well what we've got."

RECORDS TO RADIO - by The Reverend Olie P. Kornelsen

A short sermon for the congregation of radio!!

IT'S A SIN we have so many potential hit records trying to find their destiny. However, there are still a few LAST OF THE RED HOT FOOLS wandering aimlessly in radioland that TIME STANDS STILL for, in hope that these lost souls will discover the obvious chart contenders. I'm sure that all of you will realize you SHOULD'VE KNOWN BETTER to think you could DREAM ON about that LADY RED LIGHT, without any PEACE OF MIND and not consider the ONCE CHANCE you may have to TALK TO ME about your musical needs. You must JUMP START those everchanging desires on chart and playlist activities. I know that deep down inside you all have a GREAT HEART and I WON'T FORGET YOU when the question of WHO WILL YOU RUN TO arises for those ever important hit record considerations. NOW WE'RE GETTING SOMEWHERE and on that musical note I appeal to you one last time to UNCHAIN MY HEART and dig SOUL DEEP into your

Not too many Canadian bands are signed directly to recording deals in the U.S., especially without having established a track record first; this is one of the few that's getting a chance to develop in the market that often simply eats our bands alive.

Capitol's Glass Tiger readying new album

Glass Tiger are currently in the pre-production stages for their next LP. They are using Jim Vallance's Vancouver studio initially, "to get all the arranging down, and then they go to Morin Heights in November," explains the label's Director of Talent Acquisition and Artist Development, Tim Trombley.

The bulk of the recording will be done at Le Studio, with mixing at Toronto's Phase One in early January. A single is expected to be released the early part of February with the album to follow in March.

The band, nominated for the Entertainer Of The Year Juno (sponsored by Molson Breweries), was catapulted into international fame through their Thin Red Line LP, which scored impressive chart numbers on international trades.

With their growing roster of Cancon artists, Capitol has put in place a policy which allows Canadian acts "top priority" status over a given time frame. "We have a lot of Canadian artists," Trombley explains, "so we've developed a system where we give every release at least a four to six week window, so we're not competing with ourselves." Capitol is currently promoting the Partland Brothers, the Jitters, Grapes Of Wrath and Helix."

"You might say that's a lot of product," says Trombley, but within the marketplace, they all appeal to a different segment of record buyer. Helix, for instance, is a heavy metal party band, while the Jitters are bop and R&B, the Grapes Of Wrath are a rootsy young folk band, and the Partland Brothers are all encompassing in their appeal."

The New Music still stands proudly on the edge

For the past eight years The New Music has grown steadily from a program watched by a CITY-TV generated audience of slightly over 800,000 to a point now where it is syndicated across Canada (except in Saskatchewan) and Europe, through the SkyChannel satellite network.

The original show, produced by John Martin, was hosted by Jeanne Beker and J.D. Roberts and is generally acknowledged as the first television program that focussed on music, particularly "new" music, whether that meant airing the latest David Bowie video or a feature on the latest underground band.

At times it was crude, uneven and unbalanced, but it was original and "shot straight from the hip"; and its viewers were excited by what they were watching. Their appreciation and understanding created a unique "hole" in television programming and soon The New Music's commercial successors were quickly being cultivated.

To this day, a more refined show still captures the imagination of its audience each week, by simply pointing out what's new . . . and then informing them why the rest of the world will be shortly following in their footsteps. Over the years The New Music has remained committed to its ideals and still stands proudly on the leading edge of music.

But after enjoying their many early years of successful broadcasting, being "the only kid on the block," the show's Executive Producer, Moses Znaimer, was faced with the advent and overwhelming popularity of "music television" per se. In a constantly changing environment, the station's flagship show wasn't able to rest on its laurels; the competition was necessitating changes, and thus, forcing improvements.

That competition - and not only for the almighty advertising dollar - came from within as well, from their own newly created "sister station," MuchMusic, all management attention and creative energies were diverted to foster the growth of Znaimer's newest brainchild.

Even in Martin's own words, The New Music was ignored during that time. The nation's music station completely overshadowed the city's new music.

In order to compete, and remain viable, those necessary changes were explored which "caused some difficulties," recalls Gregg Thurlbeck, the show's current production supervisor. "Because we didn't want to change what the show was . . . a journalistic approach to music," produced specifically for a television audience.

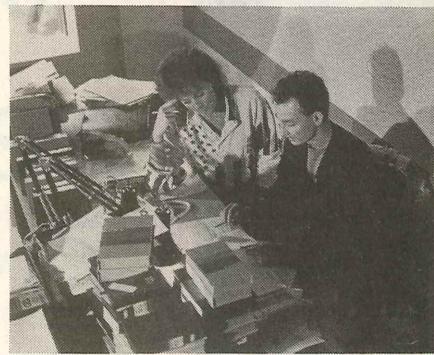

Today the hour-long program no longer deals strictly with rock 'n' roll, or even underground music, thoroughly broadening its scope to encompass not only as many varieties of music as possible, but also other forms of entertainment as well, such as dance and theatre.

In those early days, when the focus was the music, a video would be played in its entirety, now videos are used simply to "accent" the artist. Also, the show leaned heavily towards, and supported consistently, the "independent" scene, whereas the current approach favours those acts "most likely to break" anyway. Crowded House and Simply Red would both attest to that fact.

Aware of the "duplication of services" problem, a decision was reached not to air the full video, as they had since the show's inception, but to play only a clip or segment interspersed with taped interview material. Then, however, another problem arose: what to do with the extra time created? Include more stories or dig a little deeper into the subject? Quantity versus quality.

"Our audience has changed since the beginning," affirms Thurlbeck. "It became segmented. We lost a lot of the teen audience who weren't particularly interested in the informational aspect of the show. When it was originally on, they were tuning in for the videos, we lost them to the new video programs.

"But we gained a few people who weren't interested in just watching music videos, who were interested in the informational aspect of the show. So, our audience has adapted to the change in programming. At this point, there's not an awful lot of overlap and we do have a distinct audience from music video programs."

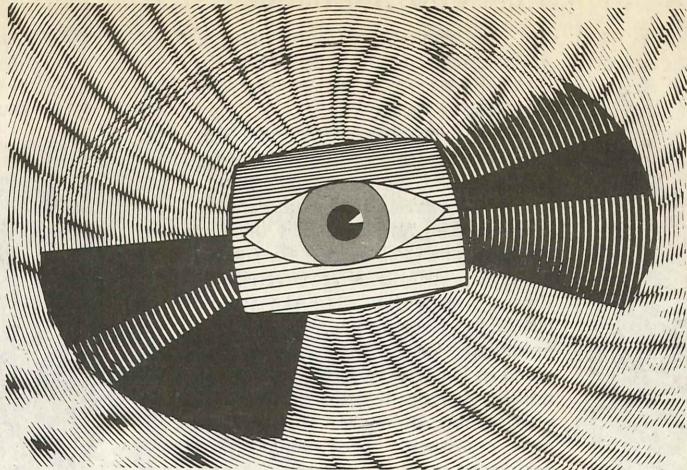

Naturally, reducing the number of complete videos shown increased the workload and as time progressed the spontaneity of the original program evolved into a calculated effort at producing features taking months to complete. In-depth and behind-the-scenes became the focus; the artist first, and then his music.

"It continued, even at its lowest point, to be on the edge of what was being done," Thurlbeck contends. "In that we certainly never stopped doing the independent bands and we certainly never stopped doing those bands that the people who worked on The New Music were interested in." The Chocolate Bunnies From Hell feature suggests why the show remains on the edge, fitting comfortably into both categories.

"Sure," he agrees, "Because of our rather eclectic tastes we end up doing some people that we thought were perhaps not for the mass audience but definitely interesting."

"It's certainly up to us," interjects the show's producer Denise Donlon, "and it's a scary kind of freedom. But we have to work beyond our musical biases too. We may not be particularly interested, but we can't let that be the only bias upon which we do a

PROCAN awards honour writers and publishers

PROCAN, representing the copyright music of 21,000 Canadian composers and music publishers, hosted its annual awards dinner (Oct. 7) at Toronto's Four Seasons Hotel.

Gene MacLellan accepts Wm. Harold Moon Award from PROCAN's President Jan Matejcek.

Savannah's Brian Ferriman and Matt Minglewood accept award for Me And The Boys from Tommy Hunter.

Gerry Mosby (r) accepts awards for his part in writing When I Fall In Love Again from Samantha Taylor.

The highlight of the evening was the presentation of the Wm. Harold Moon trophy to veteran songwriter Gene MacLellan (see RPM - Oct. 17/87).

MacLellan, a native of Val d'or, Quebec, wrote Snowbird and Put Your Hand In The Hand during the late sixties. Each song has been recorded by more than 100 different artists. Snowbird was the song that broke international barriers for Anne Murray in 1971 and was later covered by Elvis Presley, Ginette Reno and Al Martino. In the U.S. alone, Snowbird has received 3.6 million broadcast performances, while Put Your Hand In The Hand has totalled more than 1.7 million American radio performances. As well, his hits, Biding My Time and The Call, have consistently been among the most-performed songs in Canada and abroad over the last 15 years.

Vancouver's Jim Vallance, was the evening's top pop-song award-winner for his contributions to the Glass Tiger hits Don't Forget Me (When I'm Gone) and Someday, and for the Anne Murray hit Now And Forever (You And Me), which was co-written with David Foster and Randy Goodrum.

There were six other Vancouver songwriters who received pop-song awards: Paul and Elizabeth Janz for the Paul Janz recording of Close My Eyes; Body Electric's Bob Buckley and David Sinclair for Do You Think They Can Tell; John Dexter, a staff songwriter for the Los Angeles of Irving-Almo Music, for co-writing Heaven In Your Eyes, recorded by Loverboy for the Top Gun soundtrack; and Bob Rock, Paul Hyde and Myriam Nelson for Here's The World, recorded by Rock and Hyde's former band, The Payolas.

Honeymoon Suite's lead guitarist Derry Grehan, was honoured for composing the group's 1986 single, What Does It Take. The members of Montreal band The Box (Guy Abrassart, Jean-Pierre Brie, Jean-Marc, Luc Papineau and Guy Pisapia) were presented with the pop-song award for their hit My Dreams Of You. As well, Gerry Mosby won an award for co-writing When I Fall In Love Again, recorded by Capitol's Alfie Zapacosta.

The most performed country songs of 1986 as licensed by PROCAN were Gary Fjellgaard's Dancing In The Ring, Matt Minglewood's Love Sweet Love, penned by Ottawa's Terry Carisse and the late Bruce Rawlins.

In other special awards, Istvan Anhalt received the PROCAN Concert Music Award, in large part a tribute to his critically acclaimed opera Winthrop, premiered by the Waterloo Symphony in September, 1986; the PROCAN Film Award went to Montreal's Richard Gregoire, whose recent scores include three 1987 Genie Award nominees, Pouvoir Intime, Les fous de bassan and Exit; and Carole Bayer Sager was honoured for her part in writing PROCAN's most-performed foreign song of 1986, That's What Friends Are For, recorded by Dionne (Warwick) and Friends.

Awards for French-language compositions went to the writers of three songs: Heureuse sans etre amoureuse, composed by PROCAN affiliate John Farley; T'es pas Brando, by Mark Baker, Mark Blumenthal and Marie-Denise Pelletier; and Femmes sans coeur, Raymond Houde. The writers are all Montreal-based with the exception of Mark Baker who resides in Los Angeles.

Derry Grehan (r) composer of Honeymoon Suite's What Does It Take accepts award with Steve Prendergast and Stan Kulin from Denise Donlan.

Paul Hyde (r) accepts award with publishers John Redmond and Jerry Renewy from Samantha Taylor

Gould and Level 42 split over musical differences.

It was learned today (Oct. 13) from Polydor Records (U.K.) that Level 42 drummer, Phil Gould, has left the band "due to musical differences." Gould, who has been a member of the band since its formation in 1980, had originally planned to leave the band in December after they had completed their North American tour, but has decided to leave early due to what has been described as "physical exhaustion."

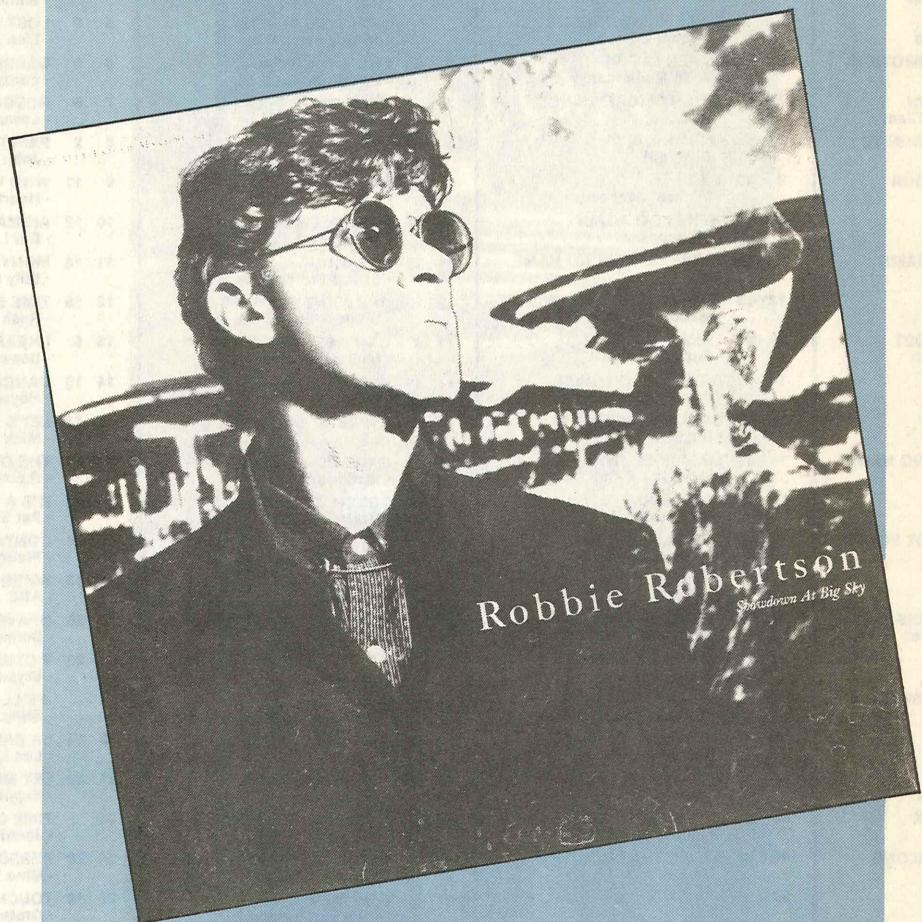

Level 42 have been touring non-stop since their world tour began in the U.K. in March, and were due to play Japan this week. They had cancelled several dates because of Gould's departure, but after auditioning a number of drummers a replacement has been found in Neil Conti, previously with Prefab Sprout and David Bowie.

The band will be back on the road again in November as special guests on Tina Turner's U.S. tour. As well, 1988 will see Level 42 performing in Ireland, Israel, Mexico, Venezuela, Japan, Australia and New Zealand.

It's Over, taken from the band's Running In The Family long player, has just been released domestically, and will be shipping shortly in the U.S. The album, now in the Top 30 of the RPM 100 after 29 weeks, is now past platinum and a half in Canada.

WEA's Toronto Branch chalks up huge gains

Herb Forgie, Manager WEA's Ontario Branch, reports "across-the-board" acceptance of their current product, particularly with Cancon releases. "Our Canadian acts are out and supporting the product," says Forgie, Frozen Ghost, Blue Rodeo and Brighton Rock are everywhere. In fact, Blue Rodeo's LP has doubled in sales in the last two weeks. This is because of the fantastic radio support for their latest Try single. Another Canadian act that's beginning to shape is 54.40."

WEA doesn't look too shoddy with their foreign product either. "Whitesnake has been discovered," continues Forgie, "Here I

Rita MacNeil readies Christmas At Home deck

Rita MacNeil, currently on release with Fast Train To Tokyo, as well as her album, Flying On Your Own, is preparing the release of a holiday single, titled Christmas At Home.

The 47-yr. old Maritimer has been on the RPM 100 album chart for 40 weeks with her Flying album, now approaching platinum. CD product is also moving well.

The album, originally released on the Lupins label, was picked up by Virgin after it had sold in excess of 22,000 copies. A major promotion campaign was launched, which tied in with her cross-Canada tour, resulting in the impressive sales pattern that quickly formed.

MacNeil has been nominated for a Juno this year in the Most Promising Female category.

Go Again is hot at CHR . . . a No. 1 hit in North America for this rock band."

WEA is currently promoting their Fall Programs, which could make this a record year. "I predict that in November, our customers will realize that the mid-chart items . . . hot records . . . that are on the verge of exploding, will be happening right up to Christmas, beginning in November. And they'll be caught with their pants down, because our Fall Programs are over in October, even though they've supported the programs with massive purchases. For instance, the Bee Gees haven't begun yet. We have a lady named Donna Summer about to happen. The Paul Simon music video will ship in bulk, and he'll probably be one of the best record and compact disc sellers over Christmas again, this year."

Forgie is also excited about the upcoming LP release by "our own Canadian, Robbie Robertson," which he points out industry pundits are predicting to be "a slow burner,

Edmonton's Sereda releases on Trilogy

Toronto-based Trilogy Records has released a single and video of Just Enough by Edmonton singer/songwriter David Sereda. The record was produced by Mark Wright, while the video was produced and directed by Al Macilius of Fearless Films.

The single has already picked up local support and with a cross country promo tour being pencilled in by Sereda, it's expected he will make a national impact.

and then the entire industry will adopt it like they did with Paul Simon. It's a musician's kind of record."

Forgie concludes with: "We've got a lot of hot product from established and new acts, and our Passion Speaks Louder Than Words promotion is doing great . . . and we're getting airplay on college radio and space in college newspapers. We've got solid sellers, and we're not asking dealers to take anything off the racks . . . just make sure the record buyers can find ours, because we've got the product that turns the till."

North York Merchants to host Presley Museum

The Towne & Country Square Merchants' Association will host The Elvis Presley Museum, Oct. 21 through 24, at the Towne & Country Square in North York. This will be the Museum's first tour date in Canada.

The Museum consists of 15 showcases, "containing authentic artifacts owned by Elvis," explains Christine Sarris, Marketing Director for the Merchants group. "such as clothing, jewellery, a portion of his private gun collection as well as the famous 1977 Cadillac."

On hand to conduct personal tours and press interviews will be Bill Lynn, the international rep for the Museum. His association with Presley was that of his drummer from 1964 to 1969, and then his bodyguard and chauffeur companion. Along with being a member of the band, he also appeared in several of Presley's movies including Easy Come, Easy Go, and Speedway.

ALBUMS

BRUCE SPRINGSTEEN - Rock/Pop/
Tunnel Of Love Country
Columbia - OC-40999-H

Springsteen fans are gonna love this album and those who jumped on the bandwagon last time around aren't. Hence, this album will not outsell Born In The USA. Some songs are good, some aren't. And on some Bruce doesn't even sound like Bruce. Nevertheless, Brilliant Disguise is a hit and Tunnel Of Love, the title track, is brilliant. It's an album that some people will enjoy and some won't, but then that's the beauty of this business . . . the rest is all marketing.

TU - Rock
Self-Titled - RCA KKL1-0585-N

An uptempo, up-lifting album, lacking in intensity though not in spirit. This duo (twins: Amanda and Cassandra) certainly have potential and their first single, Stay With Me, had all the makings of a hit but unfortunately, fell short.

Image-bolstering videos by Champagne Pictures, combine with their manager's skillful production to give these gifted singers an international appeal, though their songwriting skills need development.

LYNYRD SKYNYRD - Rock
Legend - MCA - MCA-42084-J

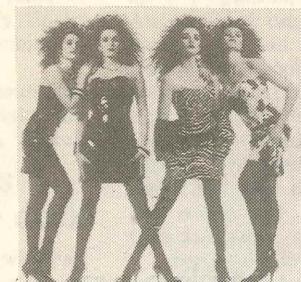

This is an album worthy of attention for one reason: there are good songs of note here, though none that are truly great. For the average Skynyrd fan (and there seem to be plenty around) this package would serve as a thoughtful Christmas gift. Not to sound too pretentious however, this one is strictly for the fans.

YES - Rock/Pop
Big Generator - Atco - 79-05221-P

In the wake of the cyclical resurgence of progressive rock, like such acts as Yes, longer songs are becoming much more prominent these days, and after having achieved their 'big' hit on 91025, the pop song wasn't really necessary this time around. Naturally then, the original fans who thought Yes might have "sold out" will be extremely hap-

BOURGEOIS TAGG - Pop
Yoyo Island - ISL-1133-J

Containing songs like Cry Like A Baby and Coma, written by Brent Bourgeois, and Best Of All Possible Worlds and Waiting For The Worm To Turn, this release resembles a sonic study in schizophrenia. But perhaps that's its overall appeal: the diversity in both the lyrical and emotional sense. I Don't Mind At All, a collaborative effort between Bourgeois and Lyle Workman, is starting to build in several markets already. Watch for a hit.

Naturally then, the original fans who thought Yes might have "sold out" will be extremely happy with the contents of this set, though Love Will Find A Way continues to climb charts and looks to be a hit. Produced by the band and Trevor Horn.

FIM - Pop/Rock
Tonight - Duke Street - DSR-31012-J

Their progressive rock days almost a decade behind them; Nash The Slash and Cameron Hawkins have honed their songwriting skills considerably over the years, to such a point where they can now pack as much into a four-minute tune as they once did into a ten-minute epic, Dream Girl, their infectious first single, has taken hold in many markets and look for three more follow-ups, all having much more of a bite these days with the addition of guitarist Simon Briery. Of great benefit to this band is the use of Manta Sound's Mitsubishi digital system, and producer Michael Waite took full advantage of all the toys available to him.

JETHRO TULL - Rock
Crest Of A Knave
Chrysalis - CHS-41590-J

Ian Anderson's flute mastery sounds as fresh as it ever did, especially on such tracks as Farm On The Freeway and Mountain Men. However, Martin Barre's guitar work is simply exceptional. Regardless of recent works, this album stands to break through at all levels of consumer appreciation, given exposure, for it brings the band into the '80s and rescues them from certain musical oblivion . . . which is where they were heading.

MELVIN JAMES - Rock/Pop
The Passenger - MCA - MCA-5663-J

Why Won't You Stay, the lead track, has serious possibilities as a hit single, and could really open the door for a left field hit album (it's one of the label's fall Firestarter releases and is therefore the subject of an intense marketing campaign). Indeed, a good album, written and co-produced by the Minneapolis-based musician, that includes the other key tracks: She's So Sorry and Sugar Candy. Recorded by Bill Szymczyk at the Metro Studios.

STING - Pop
Nothing Like The Sun
A&M - SP-6402-W

The ever eloquent Gordon Sumner continues in his jazzy pop vein, releasing the follow-up (2-record set) to his Dream Of The Blue Turtles album that will gain the immediate attention of programmers and his adoring public alike. A release of impeccable quality and grandiose statement yet some of the songs are overbearing at times and even his version of Sister Moon is just a little too whimsical. But then he's not appealing to those masses of Police fans anymore.

JULES - Country
Self-titled
Book Shop - BSR-33-742-N

Probably one of the most underrated of Cancon country artists in the business, Jules uses his powerful vocal projection to great advantage with his Barry Bird Burton/Gilles Godard production. Using a wide variety of writers has proven an advantage for Jules, who has the vocal confidence to put real meaning to the lyrics. Key are the John Gulley/Cyril Rawson penning of Reaching Out For The Heart Of Caroline, Romance Revival, written by Jim Rushing and Tim Menzies, and the J. Martin Johnson/Bucky Jones writing of That's How It Goes (Until It's Gone). Jules was nominated for a Big Country Award this year as Male Vocalist of The Year, which indicates his popularity.

COUNTRY

Single and video for Rosemary Sharp

Bart Barton, who heads up the Dallas, Texas-based Canyon Creek label, sends along the new single and video by Rosemary Sharp, titled If You're Gonna Tell Me Lies (Tell Me Good Ones). The plug side was penned by Doug Atkin and Larry Whinnery. The video is looking good for heavy rotation on a couple of national country video shows. This single is the follow-up to Sharp's Real Good Heartache, which enjoyed good chart action across Canada and in the U.S. Barton tags the new single as "getting off to a real good start, with a lot of Canadian country programmers adding almost immediately." Fellow Canyon Creek artist, Audie Henry, is now charting with her Cancon single, All I Really Need, which has been on the national chart for 6 weeks.

Blue Rodeo gets country attention

Country programmers were "holding" on the new Blue Rodeo single, Try, because of its borderline appeal. CHR and A/C programmers have established this Risque Disque single as a hit (it's now in the Top 40 of the RPM 100 single survey), but it's only this past week that the country barrier was broken. Country programmers were quick to jump on their debut, Outskirts Of Love, back in the spring of this year, resulting in a short chart life of 6 weeks, so it was only expected they would be more cautious with any follow-up. The single was taken from their Outskirts album, which has scored "great sales" at retail, says WEA's Ontario Branch Manager Herb Forgie.

CCMA's new Board of Directors named

The Canadian Country Music Association reports that Bill Maxim of Edmonton has been elected President of the Association for the next term. He will also sit on the Board of Directors, which is comprised of Brian Ferriman, President of Savannah Records, as 1st Vice President; Vancouver broadcaster Harvey Gold, as 2nd Vice President; Ron Solleveld, President Sunbury/Dunbar Music Toronto, as Secretary/Treasurer; and the following Directors: Barry Brown (Family Brown - Ottawa), Terry O'Reilly (Downs Records - Winnipeg), Paul Kennedy (Music Director CHFX-FM - Halifax), and Robin Ingram (Calgary broadcaster). It should be noted that Canadian Country Music Week '88 will be held in Toronto with the CCMA awards show to cap the week-long event.

Live From Gilley's now available

Randy Timmins of Westwood One Canada, reports that Live From Gilley's is now available to Canadian radio stations "on a barter and market exclusive basis." Westwood One has installed a state-of-the-art recording facility in the famed Texas country club, to "ensure all recordings are of the finest quality," says Timmins. CJRR-FM in Vancouver and Toronto's CFGM were the first to put the series on the air. The weekly series regularly guest some of the big names in country, including Randy Travis, Tanya Tucker, Willie Nelson, Lee Greenwood, Dwight Yoakam, Eddie Rabbitt, Hank Williams Jr., and many more. Those programmers interested in carrying the series should call Timmins at 416-597-8529.

Bev Marie to Academy label

Bev Marie has signed to the Academy label, and her next two singles will be produced in Nashville by Larry Coad (whose credits include Harold MacIntyre, Leslie Grant and Terry Sumson). They will be using Nashville's Reflection Studios with Gene Rice at the board. Sean Eyre, who heads up the Academy label, will also be acting as Bev Marie's career consultant and talent agent.

CD releases growing in popularity

It hasn't taken long, and it's obvious country record buyers are experimenting with the new Compact Disc configuration. Many of the majors are discreetly releasing country titles in CD. The latest from MCA are Reba McEntire (The Last One To Know - and Just A Little Love), George Strait (Greatest Hits Volume II), John Schneider (Greatest Hits), The Oak Ridge Boys (Heartbeat), and Jimmy Buffet (Changes In Latitudes, Changes In Attitudes). With CD hardware available now for as little as $199.00, it's expected that more and more of the country buyers will switch over from the vinyl album. It's also expected that CD prices will drop, which should be a major factor in increased popularity.

Westphal single big in New Zealand

Carmen Westphal's Reba single, You're An Angel (When You Wanna Be) has topped the chart of the Waikato Independent station in Hamilton, New Zealand. Besides playing a full schedule of dates in Ontario, right up until the end of October, Westphal has made time to do several in-station interviews and phoners both in Canada and the U.S. Jerry Marcellino a reviewer for the Indie Bullet out of Tyler, Texas, wrote "A surprise - this is a hot one. Strong new female vocalist. I like it a lot." After her dates in Ontario, Westphal and her band will be heading to Western Canada for the months of November and December. A new single is being readied for release in January of next year.

Ostrich out on Free Lunch label

Free Lunch Records, with offices in Maple Ridge, B.C., has released their debut single, Check-Out Baby (Don't Check-Out On Me), by Ostrich (a.k.a. David Ostrosser). The latter happens to be the head honcho of the label. Ostrich has been garnering quite a following throughout B.C. and the Yukon as part of the duo Chumley & Ostrich. Chumley is Dave Cholodylo, who plays bass. The nicknames are from high school days. The single was recorded and mixed at Vancouver's Bullfrog Studios by Gerry Gagnon. Besides lead vocals, Ostrich doubles on keyboards and mouth harp. Helping out on the session were Ostrich's brother Doug on guitars and slide, steelman Frans Donck, bassist Dave Cholodylo, and drummer Rex Vaive. Background vocals were supplied by Maureen Klyne. By the way Frans Donck is from the Charlie Wells Band.

New single from Lyle Lovett

The latest MCA single from Lyle Lovett is titled Give Back My Heart, a Lovett original, which he co-produced with Tony Brown. This single was taken from Lovett's Pontiac album.

Don Williams off with follow-up

I Wouldn't Be A Man is the newest Capitol single by Don Williams. The single, which Williams co-produced with Garth Fundis is the follow-up to I'll Never Be In Love Again, and both are included on his Traces album.

Gary Morris charting with new single

WEA was quick to release the new Gary Morris single, Finishing Touches, almost simultaneously with the U.S. release. Canadian programmers aren't used to this type of "fast service", so the action wasn't what it had hoped to be.

More on Blue Rodeo

Country programmers prepare yourself. Blue Rodeo is on the way. They've got so many dates coming up, they won't have time to pick up their gold and platinum records. Next week, for instance, they'll be in Kingston on the 21st, and then it's off to Winnipeg's Nightlife (23 & 24), and then to Toronto's University of York (26 & 27), Ottawa's Grand Central (30), and Toronto's Horseshoe (31). They'll be at The Diamond in Toronto Nov. 5, followed by Buffalo (6), Kiplings in London (8), Crazy Horse in Halifax (13, 14 & 15), Montreal's Cafe Campus, Vancouver's 86th St (20 & 21), and Lee's Palace in Toronto (25 & 26).

Tommy Hunter Show enters 23rd CBC season

The Tommy Hunter Show entered its 23rd season on CBC-TV with its premiere show of the new season (Oct. 8), with guests Hank Snow and The Judds. The show moves to a new time slot - Thursdays at 9 pm.

"We're pulling all stops to make this season one of Tommy's best," said Carol Reynolds, head of CBC-TV Variety. "Tommy's our number one priority and we expect his new time slot and superstar lineup will bring the show the best ratings ever."

Hunter is joined by regulars Al Cherny, Donna and LeRoy Anderson, Red Shea and the Travellin' Men and the O.K. Chorale. The show is produced and directed by Joan Tosoni and written by Martha Kehoe and Stuart Northey.

The Hunter series, was first broadcast on the Nashville Network in 1982, where it remains and is seen throughout most of the U.S.

Tapings take place each Thursday and Friday in CBC Studio 7 -263 Mutual Street in Toronto from 7:30 through 11 pm. ## RADIO

Harkness to sales at CKSL/CIQM-FM

Tom Harkness has been appointed General Sales Manager of London radio stations CKSL/CIQM-FM. The announcement was made by Gord Hume, President and General Manager of the stations. Harkness comes to London after six years as Senior Retail Sales rep at Toronto's CFTR. He is also actively involved in the Association of Kinsmen Clubs, holding all Club Executive offices, including President.

Additions to air staff at CHED

Gord Robson has re-joined the air staff at 630CHED in Edmonton in the afternoon drive slot. He previously worked at the station in the early seventies, and went on to spend ten years with CKLG in Vancouver. He was also PD for stations in Moose Jaw and Calgary. Also joining the station for swing shift duties is Seanna Collins, who comes from the morning show at Q92 in Regina. She previously worked for stations in Moose Jaw and Calgary.

George Ferguson to GM/PD at CFRB

George Ferguson has been appointed General Manager and Program Director of Toronto's CFRB. He most recently worked at Windsor's CKWW/CJOM, and he was once Assistant News Director to Dick Smyth at CHUM.

Staff changes at CKDH Amherst

CKDH eight-year veteran mid-day personality and Music Director Dave March has left the station for a post at CBD Saint John. His slot will be filled by Ron Bickle, with Roger Lorette, moving into the afternoon drive position. Morning man Ian (in the morning) MacPhee remains as Program Director. Bickle and Lorette will serve as co-Music Directors, while Bickle remains as Promotions Director. Other full-time positions are filled by Roger White and Tim Cormier, with Al Rutherford doing swing shift work. CKDH serves Northern Nova Scotia and Southeast New Brunswick with a mixture of Adult-Contemporary and Country.

Dan Hill features in CHOK concert

CHOK 1070 Sarnia recently co-sponsored a concert featuring CBS recording artist Dan Hill. The station also ran a contest that included a gourmet meal at a local restaurant and limousine service to the concert for two lucky winners.

CBS recording artist Dan Hill with CHOK morning maniac Gary Connors (l) and early edition talk host Peter Henderson.

David Jones to Programming Q-92FM

David Jones has been appointed to programming duties with Harvard Communications

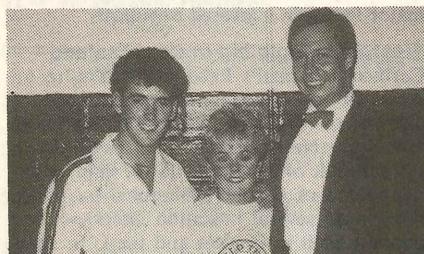

Q-92FM, effective immediately. Jones has been in radio for nine years, most recently holding the mid-day position with Q-94FM (CHUM Ltd) in Winnipeg.

Melody Pierson to Hour Montreal post

Melody Pierson has taken over as producer/host of Hour Montreal Magazine, aired Mondays through Fridays, noon to 1 pm on FM96, CJFM. Pierson, a Montrealer is well-known in the city. She is an accomplished singer/songwriter, Genie Award winner (Plouffe Family Soundtrack), and has a wide knowledge of broadcasting from traffic writer, researching and as an on-air personality.

CKDH celebrating 30th Anniversary

Ron Bickle, Promotions Director for Amherst's 900 CKDH, sends news that the station will be celebrating its 30th Anniversary on Oct. 25. "We welcome hearing from former staffers or anyone else who would like to send a tape," to Ron Bickle, 900 CKDH, P.O. Box 670, Amherst, Nova Scotia. B4H 3Y6. By the way, the station and Amherst Firefighters raised over $10,000 through their 8th Annual Muscular Dystrophy Talent Blitz, carried live noon to midnight Sept. 13.

CHOK (Sarnia) recently participated in an international rope pull between Canada and the U.S. CHOK's strong man/evening announcer Craig Ellis (inside left), made the team, which lost by seconds. Nautilus Fitness & Aerobics Club helped select the pullers.

It's not only the diversity of bands highlighted that generates appeal, though it certainly would be considered a major factor, but their presentation. The New Music is a balanced program; with topics ranging from the serious to the humorous, the locales from Goose Bay to Paris, the styles from French punk to Mick Jagger, and their greatest success is always achieved when the show is most entertaining.

"And that's the bottom line," continues Donlon, "the commitment to the viewers. Because at the top of the show, if we have six sections and six subjects to deal with, the viewer may watch the opening and it'll say 'This week on The New Music . . . this, this and x, y and z.' And they'll say 'I don't want to sit through x and y. I hate that.' But they have enough faith in The New Music to be able to present x and y in such a manner which they will find entertaining."

And although WASP's Blackie Lawless couldn't go tobogganning or Anthrax couldn't demonstrate their skateboarding prowess (due to Act Of God insurance clauses), co-host Laurie Brown did have Crowded House over to dinner and Iron Maiden was interviewed while visiting the Ontario Science Centre. "But," quips Donlon dejectedly, "I can't get anybody to go up in this hot-air balloon with me."

The New Music, an intelligent, contemporary and "journalistic" magazine-style television show that allows its audience to see the human side of musicians, famous or not, who at one point in time were seemingly infallible imaginary figures; definitely different and definitely untouchable. But they are human and they're not all perfect.

"Maybe this is a silly example," concludes Donlon, "but my mother never watched the show before I was on it . . . she watches it now. But she constantly tells me how she would never have given a lot of these artists any credence at all and she's constantly surprised by how well spoken they are and that they're concerned, morally conscious and motivated for 'the world good,' to get really esoteric about it."

To which Thurlbeck adds: "Even people who are quite into music - like us, we still learn from the show - so if we're able to teach ourselves things then I hope that we're able to introduce things to the audience as well."

"I would imagine that at least most of them aren't as involved in music as we are and if we keep hopping . . . hopefully we're keeping them interested as well."
