FACTOR offers recoupment dividends

The Board of Directors of The Foundation to Assist Canadian Talent on Records (FACTOR) has announced details of a new policy regarding funds, repaid to the organization by loan recipients.

Those who receive funding through the FACTOR Loan, Direct Board Approval and Video Programs may now receive a recoupment dividend of 50 percent of the amount repaid to FACTOR at each semi-annual repayment period. It was further indicated that these funds may be used toward the production costs of a sound recording or video project. However, the funds must be committed to a specific project before the next repayment period.

The amount repaid to FACTOR must be at least $1000.00 and must be received at FACTOR on or before the repayment deadlines of February 28 and August 31.

An application must be submitted to FACTOR for approval by the Board for use of this funding.

Applicants may request either the eligible recoupment dividend amount only for a project, or they may request the maximum eligible amount under the program guidelines plus the recoupment dividend amount. Up to $25,000.00 in recoupment dividend funds may be applied to the amount requested through the FACTOR Loan and Direct Board Approval programs. In any case, the maximum requested amount will be up to 50 percent of eligible budget costs to a maximum of $20,000.00 per video and $75,000.00 per sound recording project.

It was also pointed out that if an applicant requests only the recoupment dividend amount for a project, the application will not be subject to the regular deadlines for submission and the project will

BMG sets release date for new Cowboy Junkies

Cowboy Junkies recently wrapped their recording session at Toronto's Eastern Sound resulting in the packaging of their third album, The Caution Horses. The album was produced by Peter Moore and Michael Timmins.

Release date for the album has been set as March 9. The first single, Sun Comes Up, will ship to radio Feb. 16.

Capitol thinks "big" with Anne Murray and Luba

Capitol Records unveiled giant 16 X 20 foot Anne Murray and Luba billboards in the Toronto and Montreal markets over the holiday season. The eye-catching billboards are part of a four-month promotion for the two cities.

The campaign took advantage of the holiday rush with the billboards being mounted in November of last year running through February. "What better way than this to introduce new releases from both artists," says Mariann Girard, Media Relations Manager for Capitol, referring, of course, to Murray's Greatest Hits Volume II album and Luba's All Or Nothing. Both albums are making gains up the RPM 100.

Girard also points out that Capitol is the first Canadian label to "undertake such a major billboard campaign."

Cancer claims life of David Elliot

David Elliot passed away Christmas Eve (December 24/89) at Toronto's General Hospital, after a battle with cancer. He was 45 years of age.

Mr. Elliot began his career as a musician during the sixties and was associated with several local Toronto bands, most notable being The Counts. A few years later he left the performing end of the business and began building a new career in sales, promotion and publicity within the recording industry.

His first job was with London Records, followed by WEA Music of Canada, A&M Records and finally Capitol Records, where, by this time, he had built a solid reputation in all facets of the industry.

not be considered as part of existing caps on the number of loans available per company or per artist in a fiscal year or in the lifetime of the program. All other rules and criteria, however, apply.

If the recoupment dividend funds are only part of the amount requested for a project, the company must use the entire recoupment dividend amount toward the one project and the application will be subject to all existing rules and criteria of the program.

This policy is now in effect for the next repayment deadline of Feb. 28/90, which covers the six month period ending Dec. 31, 1989.

Alan Fletcher, Toronto Branch Manager for CBS Records (middle), accepts Mitsou platinum for her ISBA debut, El Mundo, from the label's President Maurice Velenosi (r) and Label Manager Steve Sechi.

Zayac joins Burns in Justin Entertainment

Jeff Burns, President of the newly formed Justin Entertainment, has enlisted the services of Kim Zayac, former CBS fellow worker, to handle the marketing and promotion duties for the Toronto-based production company. Burns also revealed that work is now underway in preparation for the first quarter release of the company's debut project from what is described as "an as yet undisclosed artist."

"I'm very excited about this association," says Zayac, "Being involved in this capacity with a brand new label will be both challenging and rewarding I'm sure."

It's expected that Zayac will maintain some involvement with the Einstein Brothers Music and, as well, will continue to work on the projects that he is already involved with through his Kazeelou Productions promotion and marketing firm.

Says Burns, "The timing couldn't be better for getting Zayac on board here. His experience and knowledge are going to be an asset to this company and I'm looking forward to working with him again."

Capitol Canada's President Deane Cameron (l) and Director of Marketing Ron Michael-Scott are dwarfed by one of the giant Luba billboards that were erected in Toronto and Montreal the first of November.

After leaving Capitol he directed all his energies into the advertising field where the expertise he gained from his years with the recording industry served him well. During the eighties he also returned to his first love, live performing, becoming a part of the revitalized Robbie Lane & The Disciples. This was an exciting period for Mr. Elliot, and one that brought him much joy. As well, he had the opportunity to renew old friendships within the performing and administrative fields of the recording industry, and these old friends did much to comfort him to the day of his death.

Mr. Elliot is survived by his wife Wendy. Funeral services were held in Toronto followed by cremation.

Shea's story behind By The Berlin Wall

It's not too often when the industry gets the inside scoop, so to speak, on the workings of the mind of a promotion manager from a major label. Too often, the promotions seem to follow the same dull, unexciting pattern that was began years ago when accountants started to run the business.

However, one National Promotion Manager, Kevin Shea of WEA Music Of Canada, has bared his soul with a promotion

Hart back from hiatus with new Aquarius album

Aquarius recording artist Corey Hart, who has been keeping a low profile to the point of near obscurity over the past couple of years, will make a bid for the charts with a new single and album. The album, entitled Bang, will be released March 12, with the single, A Little Love, being shipped to radio mid-February.

Hart wrote all the songs on the album which he co-produced with engineer Greg Edward (John Mellencamp). The album, which was recorded in Los Angeles, guests drummer Kenny Aronoff and vocalist Ruby Turner.

The video for the single was also shot in California. The video was directed by Meiert Avis, who is best known for his work with U2 and Bruce Springsteen and who directed Hart's In Your Soul video.

Aquarius is distributed in Canada by Capitol Records.

that hearkens back to the good old days, when old-fashioned record hype created excitement in an exciting business.

"Yes," says Shea, "I'm the guy who prides himself on honesty and musical integrity . . . and I'm the guy who's fallen for the plain old-fashioned record hype by way of a release by Vogen called By The Berlin Wall."

He goes on, apologetically, to explain, "Y'see, Trooper's Ra McGuire turned WEA on to this Vancouver band called The Shape. They had appeared on a C-FOX Homegrown album and, as a judge, he had been very impressed . . . so impressed that he produced some demos and, with the band, changed the name to Vogen."

Continuing, Shea reveals that the WEA crew liked what they heard. "In fact," says Shea, "we liked Vogen and their AOR/CHR sound so much, negotiations got underway to sign Vogen to WEA with a release early in 1990."

Now here's where Shea tosses in a bombshell. He admits to being impressed with the goings on in the world, outside the record industry, rare for record people. "East Germany and West Germany buried the hatchet after four decades of differences and opened the Berlin Wall to German citizens on both sides," and Shea says this with the confidence of a Knowlton Nash of CBC's The Journal, for those of you in the record industry, who got a little lost for a minute. "And that's where I fell victim to record industry hype," Shea goes on with, "I remembered that Vogen had a great song called By The Berlin Wall and it would be amazingly topical if WEA rushed it out. Radio would love the current event nature of the track . . . combined with strong musical flavour . . . and make it a bigger priority."

Shea admits to being "caught up in the

CBS hits the road with Winter Sales Campaign

This past week (Jan. 8-11), CBS Records presented its Winter Sales campaign to major cities across Canada. Billed as "The Future Is Now . . . Music For The Nineties on CBS", the program runs from Jan. 11 through 24 and offers, as an incentive, free goods and discounts.

Handy order forms have been supplied dealers along with other support materials including 6" and 12" header cards, 90-minute cassette samplers and artist posters.

The Toronto reception was held at the Ontario Science Centre (Jan. 11). Invited guests were treated to refreshments, food and prizes as well as a well-prepared video show that added to the importance of this timely winter sales campaign.

Titles listed in the campaign include Rolling Stones (Steel Wheels), Rush (Presto and A Show Of Hands), Eddie Money (Pictures Of Money), Bob Dylan (Oh Mercy), Billy Joel (Storm Front), New Kids On The Block (New Kids On The Block), Terence Trent D'Arby (Neither Fish Nor Flesh), Gloria Estefan (Cuts Both Ways), Loverboy (Big Ones), Bros (The Time), Bonham (The Disregard Of Timekeeping) and more.

Berlin Wall fever," revealing that "The deal was still to be finalized . . . and in my excitement, I insisted that the i's be dotted and the t's crossed immediately . . . and even though By The Berlin Wall would have been a single at some point, it probably wouldn't have been the first single released by Vogen."

Now, Shea admits to temper tantrum. "I couldn't let the opportunity pass . . . I jumped up and down and screamed, insisting that By The Berlin Wall go out first, and not in 1990, but as immediate as we could feasibly schedule." He concludes with. "I won the argument, needless to say."

The future of Vogen and By The Berlin Wall is now in the hands of programmers and WEA's Kevin Shea hopes the majority of these programmers believe in good, old-fashioned record industry hype. He even threw out a few of his own WEA-manufactured Berlin Wall bricks to punch home his point.

Chercover to keynote Conestoga College date

Murray Chercover, President of the CTV Television Network will be the keynote speaker at the Conestoga Awards for Excellence in Broadcasting to be held at the Waterloo Inn (Jan 17/90). Chercover will also be presented with the Award For Excellence, the first time this award has been presented. This is the sixteenth year for these awards, hosted by the Broadcasting/Radio and Television students at Kitchener's Conestoga College.

Larry McIntyre, who is coordinating the evening's events, reports that along with the awards to graduates and undergraduates, another first time presentation will be the Alumni Award for Career Achievement. This award is nominated by a representative committee from nominations by the B/RT Alumni. The first recipient will be Neil Aitchison, who graduated in 1970, the first graduate in Broadcasting from Conestoga.

MIDEM '90 setting for Warehouse Party

Delegates to MIDEM '90 will be treated to a Warehouse Party (Jan. 22) to be held in the truck terminus below the Palais des Festivals. The confirmed lineup for the party includes such dance music chart-toppers as Black Box, Delegation, 808 State, ICE MC, Sybil, FPI Project and Technotronic featuring Felly and Ya Kid K. Sybil was recently signed to the Attic label in Canada.

For this particular party, the cavernous truck garage in the depths of the Palais des Festivals will be transformed into a New York-style warehouse. Native New Yorkers Frankie Bones and Tommy Musto, well-known in dance circles, will spin the records for the 1,500 guests expected to attend the all night party.

Warehouse parties are fairly new, but have become big business in Britain, where the Bones and Musto deejay partnership are permanent fixtures at the major warehouse parties. Most notable of these gatherings was the huge Summer Dance this past summer when 25,000 dance fans descended on a farm in Surrey, England to dance the night away.

Joe Satriani, recently in Toronto, is presented with a gold compact disc for sales of 50,000 units of his latest album Flying In A Blue Dream. Presenting is WEA's Senior Vice President and Managing Director Domestic and International Division Dave Tollington.

AWAY DAYS

Don't leave home without cash! Not only does the average French citizen resent tourists, particularly the North American brand, excluding Quebec, of course, but now the French Government has displayed a "finger" attitude toward travellers. The French Government has issued its own credit card, and they don't think too highly of any other kind . . . American Express in particular. So, if you plan to spend a few extra days in France, after MIDEM, make sure you have cash. I reserved a hotel room in Monte Carlo . . . using my American Express card, as has been the habit, but a not too friendly message, demanded a certified cheque. (EC: They should move MIDEM to Torremolinos, where they at least have good record shops . . . and friendly natives!)

Don't bend over . . . ! A major supplier of black vinyl . . . remember BLACK VINYL? sent customers a note informing them that as long as there was a demand for this product, his company would make sure there was an abundant supply. However, there was a P.S. The prices have gone up. (EC: I know of a good supplier . . . in the U.S.!)

Speaking of black vinyl . . . ! The major holdouts of black vinyl are beginning to gear up for total cassette/CD dominance of the industry. As long as I saw BMG/RCA and CBS vinyl singles coming in . . . there was hope that someone out there cared. Well, at least a couple of companies are now bringing in CD singles, which helps. A few of the broadcasters I've talked to are a little annoyed at having to search through CD compilations looking for a certain track, when as before, each record was shelved alphabetically. They like the idea of the CD singles, but this service won't last long either because of the cost. (EC: How much is too much . . . ?)

Another good guy bites the dust! There aren't too many aggressive, confident and dedicated people in the industry which makes it even more annoying to learn of one of these rare jewels leaving for a totally unrelated business undertaking. It's not official yet, but it's really no secret that PP is leaving the business in February. Can't mention his name yet. What a loss, not only to the company he had worked so successfully to build an image around, but to the industry in general. He follows DR, another REAL record person, who left the same company, but after only a short run . . . and I don't know why he's been on the loose this long. (EC Great record people . . . grab them when you can!)

You think you got problems . . . ! I knew this and I thought everyone did, but not so. CBC Radio has had to program 50 percent Cancon on most of the shows using recorded music . . . since May of 1989. So, you guys who have been complaining that you can only program 70 percent foreign music, think of what it would be like if you lost another 20 percent. (EC: That could happen!)

Speaking of Cancon . . . ! There's been talk of it ever since the confusing Cancon legislation went into effect for FM stations, and that is, raising the minimum FM Cancon requirement for popular music to 30 percent. No, don't get excited, the CRTC won't move until a study is done . . . and that's about to happen. I only hope that whatever the study reveals . . . from a so-called expert, that both broadcasters and Canadian independent record producers and label owners have an opportunity to voice their opinions. (EC: Yes, but who listens . . . ?)

Spicer certainly has a lot of spice. "The session was wonderful from my viewpoint . . . frank, instructive, cordial." That was the comment made by the new chairman of the CRTC, Keith Spicer . . . and spoken like a true government employee on his way to becoming a bureaucrat. He was reacting to a recent CAB-hosted briefing session in Ottawa. The CAB also buttonholed another winner, Patrick Watson, the latest from the ranks of the performer to head up the CBC. He was speaking at the CAB/CCBE conference in Montreal. Watson really doesn't have too much to say, unless he's portraying someone else in front of a camera . . . and I'll bet we'll see a lot more of this. (EC: There was once Seven Days, and will we see more of his ex-partner . . . ?)

Fox finally made it to The Journal! It took a lot of doing . . . but finally, The Journal aired a special ten minute documentary on George Fox . . . this past week. Like the efficient and dedicated manager he is, Leonard Rambeau of Balmur Ltd. flooded the media with memos trumpeting the fact that the documentary would go to air on Dec. 28th, as it had been originally planned I was a little uneasy about the fact that I wouldn't be able to inform our readers of this great moment in Canadian television, being that we were between issues and our next issue wouldn't be published until January 13. But then . . . another memo from Leonard. The Dec. 28th date for the documentary was postponed until Jan. 4, "due to recent events in Romania and Panama City." Well, there I was again . . . in front of the television watching The Journal like a dutiful observer of Cancon happenings, waiting for George Fox . . . and guess what? Yes, another postponement, but George finally had the opportunity to tell us that "The cows still kick as hard . . . even though I was on the Tommy Hunter show." Thanks to Leonard Rambeau, The Journal is now one of the leading public affairs shows on television. (EC: There's only one Leonard Rambeau!)

Have I missed something . . . ? A local entertainment scribe informed his readers recently that among some of his personal choices of last year's music events in Toronto were concerts by Anne Murray, The Rolling Stones and Paul McCartney. Right on! But then he went on to salivate over the "polite staff" of Concert Productions International, who got their audiences to their seats "quickly and without hassle," at the McCartney and Stones shows. He must have been with one of the Dome's head honchos. (EC: I noticed you haven't been invited to any press conferences at The Dome lately!)

I have a date . . . ! CJEZ-FM 97.3 is currently touting its new morning show, and they have an expert in promotion to do it, Gail O'Brien no less. She has invited me to have breakfast, on-air, with the new crew, Bill Anderson and Jeremy Brown, both ex-CFRBers, and traffic reporter Anne Lavrih. This should be an interesting session. What do you say and how do you say it with your mouth full of egg? While I'm at the station Gail will be showing me the preliminary layouts of the station's new logo.

Berlin Wall arrives at 88.7 The Mix
Windsor's 88.7 The Mix (CIMX-FM) came up with a unique contest bannered as A Piece Of The Wall, where listeners were given the opportunity to win a piece of the Berlin Wall. "All they had to do," explains Promotions Coordinator Keith Chinnery, "was sent their description of what freedom means to them." To certify the Wall's authenticity, the station sent a special envoy to Germany. Live cut-ins were done for three consecutive days on the Morning Mix. Says Chinnery, "Entries flooded in for the contest, with one person actually writing and producing a song about freedom. Three grand prize winners were selected from the entries, with each receiving a mounted piece of the Berlin Wall."

CFCA's 12 Gifts Of Christmas

Kitchener, Ontario's CFCA-FM made Christmas a bit brighter for twelve lucky winners in the 7th Annual 12 Gifts Of Christmas promotion. The station, with the help of twelve local advertisers, put together the prizes which included a solid oak rocking

CITI-FM's Davis takes listeners hostage

On Monday January 8, 1990 at 2:55 pm, 92 CITI-FM on-air personality Shadoe Davis barricaded himself in the station's control room and bombarded local media outlets with faxes announcing that he would be playing nothing but songs by Led Zeppelin until he was stopped. "I have decided to change our radio station's format to All Led Zeppelin . . . all the time," was his message.

The stunt was apparently inspired by a similar gag mounted by WKRL in Florida. "I've got all the Zeppelin CDs there are . . . so I can go for a long, long time, and the response on the phones has been terrific," was another message.

In the midst of all the phone calls Davis received, CITI's Program Director Ross Winters got through, indicating he wanted him to play his Zep finale by 6 pm. The promotion, however, garnered Davis and the station good press coverage.

chair, clothing and jewellery gift certificates, furniture gift certificates, a Seiko clock, a Royal Doulton figurine and a framed Robert Bateman print. Listeners wishing to take part, registered at any of the participating merchants or by recording each of the twelve gifts and mailing their list to the station. Wanda Love, Promotion Manager for the station reports that more than 18,000 entries were received. The grand prize winner was Judy Curtis of Waterloo, who won a fully decorated artificial Christmas tree, and her choice of one of the twelve gifts.

New additions at CKGB/CFTI-FM

Art Pultz, Program Director for CKGB and CFTI-FM Timmins, reports moves and new personnel at both stations. Local native J.J. Rogers took over the morning drive on Jan. 1/90. He started at CKGB in 1973 moving on to Huntsville and Kapuskasing before returning to the station in 1983. "Being a local is a bonus akin to winning the lottery," comments Pultz. New to CKGB are Rob Sweeney, morning news, who comes to

CJOM-FM bites the dust replaced by CIMX-FM

Ian Davies, Program Director of CIMX-FM, formerly CJOM-FM Windsor, writes, "A couple of years ago, William Shakespeare wrote 'a rose by any other name would smell as sweet'." continuing with, "Does this mean then, a radio station by other call letters still sounds the same? It does, when it's 88.7 The Mix."

Having been granted approval for a call letter change by the CRTC on Nov. 9/89, CJOM-FM officially became known as CIMX-FM on Dec. 14/89.

Davies goes on to explain that the call letter change "reflects the current station identification as 88.7 The Mix and 88.7 The Right Music Mix." Davies stresses that the station "will continue to offer a unique blend of Contemporary Hit and Adult Contemporary music, while targeting a 25 to 49 year old demographic."

An advertising campaign was mounted in Detroit and the suburbs over the call letter change date. Included were 185 king size and 1200 inside bus posters, promoting the station as "88.7 The Mix . . . Detroit's Newest FM."

his new post from CJCS Stratford, Remi Lavictoire from CJKL Kirkland Lake and Tim Mickle, a Fanshawe graduate, both doing quasi-swing in the evenings. On the CFTI side, Mike Belanger is doing the swing shift. He joins the station from CHIP Fort Coulonge, Quebec. Also new to CFTI is Dian Wilson on morning news.

A new twist for Christmas from C-FAX

Terry Spence, Program Director at C-FAX, asks the question, "What has two thousand lights, every colour of the rainbow, and flashes to the beat? Answer: The C-FAX Lights Fantastic." Spence and the whole crew at the Victoria station were thumping their chests over the success of the C-FAX Lights Fantastic. An invention of the station's engineers, a switching device turned hundreds of outdoor Christmas tree lights on and off in multiple banks in response to the audio level of the station. Spence explains, "When there is silence on the air, all the lights go out. Soft sounds turn on a few of them, and as the volume increases the system automatically switches on more lights . . . it's like a giant version of the electronic meters you find on cassette machines these days, and it's very popular. Every evening we see families outside the station listening to C-FAX on the car radio and watching the Lights Fantastic respond." The lighting display operated through Christmas at two locations, on the guy wires of a 100-foot tower on top of the C-FAX studios in downtown Victoria and on the outside of the area's largest shopping mall, Hillside Centre. For more information on the C-FAX Lights Fantastic, contact Spence or Guy Wilton at 604-386-1070.

Whyte's SuperRadio expands internationally

Robert Whyte, who heads up SuperRadio, the radio syndication network, based in Toronto, has revealed plans to expand into the international market. The move was prompted by the success, in both Canada and the U.S., of the weekly, ten-hour Open House Party out of Boston and Toronto hosted by John Garabedian. The show is now being pencilled in to move into the European and Asian markets via satellite in early spring. Boasting 30 percent Cancon, the show will be an important vehicle for the international promotion of Canadian recording artists.

It was also revealed that The Hot 30 Countdown, produced out of Toronto and hosted by Tom Rivers, is being retooled for international expansion and a name change in the spring. The show will take a short pre-production hiatus and return as a new, fast-paced show, which will be more personality and celebrity-oriented. As well, the new show will be more music intensive, reflecting what is described as "reflecting an international consensus on what is hot in the record world." Rivers, who co-writes the show, will continue as host.

Says Whyte, "The evolution of Hot 30 to our new syndicated program is exciting to me in the fact that it will allow both Canadian and American audiences to feel totally plugged in to the universe of what's happening today in music by tuning in to this three-hour capsule of music that makes people smile around the world."

Blakely named PD at CISN

Mark Olson, General Manager of Shaw Radio's CISN-FM Edmonton, announces the appointment of Ruth Blakely to the position of Program Director at CISN. She replaces Gerry Siemens, who has joined CHFM in Calgary. Blakely, a ten-year broadcast veteran, was holding the position of Assistant Program Director at the time of her new appointment. She indicated that the station will not be altering its programming "to any large degree" in the near future. CISN has programmed contemporary country music since its inception in 1982. Shaw also operates four other stations in Alberta and has an application pending for the purchase of CHAY-FM Barrie.

HTZ-FM wraps latest Star Track contest

Svengali, a Niagara Falls rock band, won first prize at HTZ-FM's (St. Catharines) latest talent contest, Star Track 6. The finals for the competition were run off at Dallas in Hamilton.

Five bands, including Svengali, Arden & The Tourists, Total Stranger, Rough N' Ready and The Stray, performed their original material for the judges. The judges panel comprised Lee Aaron, Derry Grehan, A&M's Max Hutchinson, Connie Stephanson of WEA Records, Capitol's Roger Bartell, Nick Krewen of the Hamilton Spectator and Brighton Rock's Stevie Skreebs and Mark Cavarzan.

Svengali's David Wanless accepts 1st prize in the HTZ-FM Star Track competition from the contest's coordinator Liz McElheran.

The first prize winners were awarded $2,000, fifty hours of studio time at The River in Fort Erie, a video produced at Illusions TV Productions, a photo promo package and 1,000 cassettes of their material. The Stray, who are also based in Niagara Falls, won second prize, $1,000 and a porta studio from Steve's Music. Toronto's Arden & The Tourists picked up third prize, $1,000 and 200 hours of rehearsal time at Augustus Rehearsal Studios.

Referring to Svengali, the winning band, Paul Morris, HTZ-FM Music Director tagged them as "One band with their heads in the nineties."

CJBK/BX-93 News gives lift to dying boy
Steve Garrison, Director of Marketing and Promotion for CJBK/BX-93 reports that when the combined news department of the two stations did a news story on the fact that a little boy in Britain, who is dying of cancer, wanted to make it into the Guinness Book of Records, "the audience responded in a way no one at the stations expected." Garrison goes on to point out that after hundreds of phone calls over the few hours after the initial broadcast, requesting the boy's address, it was decided to invite listeners to drop off the cards at the radio station to be forwarded to the boy. This appeal resulted in thousands of cards from Southwestern Ontario. Says News Director Gord Harris, "I haven't seen that kind of response to a news story in years . . . not even when Ottawa announced the local military base would close." The cards were forwarded to the boy in Britain in early December.

Seltech improves satellite delivery of programming

Seltech's satellite delivery patterns are currently undergoing expansion and reorganization plans. Initial changes included what is described as "a 15-kHz stereo satellite highway" to delivery of syndication programming.

The new syndication channel comprises the C-Band dual subcarriers 5.4 and 5.58 MHz, Anik D1, Transponder 1B (TSN). Stations can receive the stereo feed through the use of a tuneable standard CST-810 demodulator or the fixed 1629-02 Wegener demodulator.

A KU-Band syndication channel will be set up shortly

Moving to the syndication channel will be SupeRadio's Hot 30 Countdown and Westwood One's Rock & Roll Oldies Show hosted by Dick Bartley. Stations carrying these shows will be advised of the specific changeover date well in advance.

This adjustment apparently clears the way for Canadian Radio Networks (CRN) to extend service hours for station affiliates of Star Country and Music Radio Network.

Seltech's expansion plans include KU-Band facilities operating out of Montreal and Edmonton.

CBC Radio's Prime Time taps record producers

CBC Radio's Prime Time, a pop culture magazine formatted show, will begin a three part series on the art of the record producer, beginning January 22 at 8:05 pm. Host Geoff Pevere will take his listeners to the behind-the-scenes world of three of Canada's top rated record producers.

The first show will focus on Bruce Fairbairn, who has produced such bands as Bon Jovi and Aerosmith. Pevere investigates exactly what the role of the producer is.

The following evening (23), Pevere concentrates on David Foster, discussing the ways in which a producer makes his own artistic mark on an album.

The final installment will feature Daniel Lanois, who discusses how he, one of Canada's leading producers, feels, being on the other side of the glass, as a recording artist. Lanois is currently on release with his WEA debut, titled Acadie. He is also scheduled to be showcased at MIDEM '90's World Music (RPM - Jan 13/89).

Thomas. He will still maintain his on-air duties. He joined the station from the East Coast, where he held down the morning drive, in April of last year. He replaces former Operations Manager Warren Allen, who moves into the Music Director's chair. Allen will also continue in the PM Drive slot. Both appointments were effective Dec. 1/89. The moves follow the station's September format switch to all-gold Good Time Hits.

Gold in Advertising to CFCA-FM

CFCA-FM Radio Kitchener received a Gold award for a television advertisement produced for the fall ratings period. The station was presented with the top award in television advertising from the Kitchener-Waterloo Sales and Advertising Club. The commercial promoted the CFCA-FM Breakfast In Barbados promotion, in which the station sent five lucky couples to the Coconut Creek Club in Barbados, courtesy of Odyssey International and Thomson Vacations. The entry was produced by Garry Holmlund of CAP Communications.

For CHUR it was 11,500 pounds of food Ron Smith, Station Manager of North Bay's CHUR Radio, sends news that "The spontaneous two and a half day Christmas Food Drive in support of the North Bay Food Bank ended on an upbeat note." Smith explains that the station's morning host Peter McKeown, who walked off his morning show early Tuesday (Nov. 28/89) eventually spent his days and nights inside an ice fishing hut in the concourse of the North Bay Mall. Broadcasting from his location, McKeown raised 11,500 pounds of food and over $23,000 in cash. "The response was nothing short of overwhelming," says Smith. "We targeted 3,000 pounds of food as our original goal and the generosity of our audience just snowballed." The food and cash went to support some four hundred families over the

CFCY/Q-93 funds Christmas cassette

CFCY and Q-93 Charlottetown got into the spirit of Christmas by coordinating the release of a Christmas cassette project entitled Christmas On The Island. Local Island artists contributed their time for the recording. Included were The Ellis Family Band, Kickin' Country, George Brothers, Garth Matthews, Maxine MacLeod, Dino Dunsford, Darlene Bradley, Urban Gillis, Neil Matthews and Corlee Buell. The album was produced by Brothers at Charlottetown's Sundown Production Studios. J. Darren Ings and Brothers looked after the musical arrangements. The project was coordinated by CFCY/Q-93 Operations Manager Jim Ferguson with assistance from Promotions and Marketing Director Hilary Joseph Montbourquette. Artwork was supplied by Sandy Carruthers. The cassette retailed for $10.00 through participating Esso retail outlets across the Island with proceeds going to charity.

She goes on to point out that the party "appeals to everyone . . . focus is on babysitters, the mobile crowd . . . people in transport like truckers and police, rural areas, house parties etc. etc." She also stresses that "At no time during the radio party do we refer to drinking alcohol or being drunk."

The promotion is very easy to put together "and sounds great on the air," says Jo Ann, continuing with "Sales seem happy with the promotion as well, as it's a perfect tie-in for a sponsor like restaurants that deliver. One place sent over two pizzas for the party . . . but only one person was actually here." Call Jo Ann at 403-875-3321 for more information on this type of promotion.

holiday season. The promotion also gained national radio and press attention "for its unique approach and startling results," concludes Smith.

C-FAX personality Gipp Forster autographs a copy of his new book, Gipp Forster's Collected Ramblings, featuring dozens of his popular "Radio Ramblings", which have been heard on C-FAX for the past five years. For most of that time Forster was the Pastor of the Mustard Seed Church in Victoria. He is also the founder of the city's largest food bank.

CKSA enters new decade in two time zones

1080 CKSA Lloydminster, now boasting 50,000 watts, brought in the New Year by incorporating, once again, the station's New Year's Eve party with the countdown of the Top 89 of '89. This is third year for the New Year's Eve party, and now that the station is 50,000 watts, it's location on the border of Alberta and Saskatchewan allows the party and countdown to span both provinces.

CKSA's Jo Ann explains that "What we do is run 'party' sound effects behind all breaks, and staff members pre-record drop ins, song intros, liners, greetings and more. The local RCMP even 'drop-in' with live messages to deter drinking and driving. One announcer and a stack of sound effects carts takes care of the evening."

ALBUMS

PAUL CARRACK
Groove Approved
Chrysalis - CHS-41709-J

- Pop

Fresh from the smash success of Mike & The Mechanics, Carrack's voice is now instantly recognizable to most pop consumers these days. Regardless of collaborative involvements, Carrack deserves strong applause for this worthy album. All cuts are key and I Live By The Groove is definitely only the first of a string of singles destined to reach the Top 40. Look for After The Love Is Gone, co-written by former Squeeze-mate Chris Difford, Tip Of My Tongue, the Mike McDonald co-penned Love Can Break Your Heart and Bad News (At The Best Of Times) to see heavy radio play before the chapter is closed on this widely accessible pop delivery with a promising future. MC LYTE
Raps & Rhymes
Atlantic - 79 13044-P

- Rap

An interesting collection of rap tracks. Although, I'm no authority on the particulars of rap, I can safely say that this effort is 'hard rap'. With the current messages being passed through our mainstream rap artists, this offering has little to offer lyrically, but should sell well because of the censor labelling. Not necessarily key but noteworthy are Shut The Eff Up (Hoe), Cappuccino and Cha Cha Cha. (Cassette reviewed)

LOARD TRACY
Deaf Gods Of Babylon
UNI-606-J

- Hard Rock

A refreshing feeling of the late 70's with a simple approach to rock'n'roll. Stickered as an "totally irreverent hard rock approach to life." The first single Out With The Boys is key along with She's A Bitch and Chosen Ones. (LP reviewed)

TIM KARR
Rubbin' Me The Right Way
Capitol - E4-90867-F

- Rock

There's actually a lot of talent on this offering, I guess it's the lack of originality that may slow this Montreal native down. It's one thing to sound like another artist, but to look like him too. The first single the title track should do well at radio and the album may hold it's own at retail if the original introduction of the product is any indication of label support. Key tracks include Rubbin' Me The Right Way, Innocent Kiss and All Nite Long. The album was recorded in L.A. and there's no indication of Canadian content so far. (Cassette reviewed)

L'TRIMM
Drop That Bottom
Atlantic - 78 20264-P

- Pop

Nothing to adventurous on this set. The vocal ability of Bunny and Tigra is truly amazing, although not used to their advantage here. A mixture of a poppy dance beat with a rap-like dialogue and the songwriting is a little less than brilliant. However, this set could fare well at the clubs and appeal to the younger crowd at retail, only time will tell. (Cassette reviewed)

LIL LOUIS & THE WORLD
Dance From The Mind Of Little Louis
Epic - E 45468-H

- Dance

Not much needs to be said about this release, contains remixed version of No. 1 Dance Hit French Kiss. An excellent effort which should be well rewarded. (LP reviewed)

POI DOG PONDERING

Poi Dog Pondering
Columbia - FC-45335-H
With such a warm and folksy alternative sound, this group could be Canadian. Few albums are as varied as this release which draws influences from African and Latin musics, folk country, rock, Dixieland etc. Having many members, the band was able to capture a textured but live sound that comes off as very human. Although the album does not contain a weak track, the first side is acoustic-oriented excellence. The best bet for lead track is Postcard From A Dream, a bouncy number with strong harmonies that hints at the poetic lyrical style employed on other songs. Follow-up possibilities are Pulling Touch, Sound Of Water and Circle Around The Sun. (CD reviewed)

DEBORAH DUNLEAVY
Talking On The Telephone
Kid Glove - KGR-803

- Children's

If you were looking for something to fill the gap between Raffi and Rock, this could be just for you. Dunleavy's ability to communicate to the 6 to 11 year olds, who she tags as the "in-betweeners", is actually quite entertaining, no matter what age. The material obviously revolves around the theme of communication and key here are the title track, Go Go Radio, TV-itis and SOS OH SOS. Produced by Dunleavy and Phil Balsam at Axon Music Productions in Toronto. (Cassette reviewed)

VARIOUS ARTISTS

- Country

Audio Radiance for the Radio Audience - Roto Noto - RCD-20093
Roto Noto moves into the world of compact discs with this compilation of some of the label's top acts. This could signal the end of black vinyl for the Randall Cousins operation as well. Included here are two tracks each from Michael Terry, Diane Raeside, Jack Diamond, Manon, Bobby McGee, Lynne & The Rebels, Mark LaForme and Sylvie. Also available at retail. (CD reviewed)

SUICIDAL TENDENCIES

- Hardcore

Controlled By Hatred
Epic - 6E-45244-H

These veterans of thrash have delivered another hard-driving effort that should please their loyal cult following but do little to increase it. An interesting version of How Will I Laugh, called the Heavy Emotion version, displays both a quieter side to the band and the limitations of Mike Muir's vocals. While all songs are good, Choosing My Own Way Of Life, It's Not Easy and Master Of No Mercy will quickly become hated by parents everywhere. (CD reviewed)

FAMILY BROWN
Life And Times
RCA - KCDD-0601-N

- Country

A collection of the best from this popular Ottawa Valley band from 1982 through 1989. Most of the tracks should be familiar, having been charted over these years. There are two new tracks, Heroes, their current chart single and How Many Times. These two new items reflect the influence of Big Country winning producer Randall Prescott. Also includes Town Of Tears, the single that brought the Browns back into top of the chart prominence. There's a lot of good solid country here. (CD reviewed)

TOMMY ROGERS

- Country

Class Of '72
Royalty - RR1-300-8915

Financially-sponsored by CFCW Camrose, Rogers was the winner of the station's Star Search contest last year, and this CD is the result. Produced by R. Harlan Smith, who has the talent to pull the best out of an artist, Rogers has a straight-ahead vocal charm and a confidence in delivery that should garner programmer attention. The title track has been taken as the first single. Also key are Caroline, and Plain Old Me. (CD reviewed)

REBA McENTIRE

- Country

Reba Live
MCA - 8034-J
For those wanting more and more of Reba McEntire, here's nineteen off her big ones, going back a few years to One Promise Too Late and Whoever's In New England. Her covers of Jolene and San Antonio Rose are also here. Little Girl, which should be the next priority to radio is also here. McEntire produced with Jimmy Bowen, one of his last chores for the label (CD reviewed)

LORETTA AND GORDON

- Country

CORMIER - Cormier Country
Magnum - MAG1001

Here's a sister and brother combination that should turn a few heads. Loretta was part of the country duo of Reg Watkins and Loretta Cormier (which dissolved in May of 1987). Watkins was obviously a good teacher. Loretta's vocals are well projected and blend well with those of her brother, who has developed a powerful delivery. Key are a couple of Bob Ruzicka songs, Can't Remember, Can't Forget and It Must Be Love. Garry McDonall produced at Damon/Sound-track Studios in Edmonton. (LP reviewed)

VINCE GILL
When I Call Your Name
MCA - MCAC-42321-J

- Country

Gill has been a bit of a darkhorse in country music, a singer/songwriter with a vocal purity that should establish him as a priority on the charts now that he has an album released. He has just come down off the charts with Never Alone, and his follow-up, Oklahoma Swing, a duet with Reba McEntire, is a barn-burner. That's Kathie Baillie of Baillie And The Boys supplying background vocals on Sight For Sore Eyes and We Could Have Been, two key tracks, and Emmylou Harris on Rita Bailour, which isn't too shabby. Labelmate Patty Loveless lends a hand on the title track and Herb Pederson of The Desert Rose Band lends vocal backup on Ridin' The Rodeo. Great stuff, great friends. (Cassette reviewed)

COVER STORY - by Walt GrealisOttawa Valley's Family Brown continue tradition

Early in 1989, there were whisperings within the industry that The Family Brown, Canada's premiere country band, was in trouble. However, the doombeaters scurried for cover when at the Big Country Awards that year they were restored to their rightful place as Top Country Group. As well, These Days won them the Best Country Album award and bandmember Randall Prescott was voted Top Country Producer.

That same year the Browns scooped three categories at the Canadian Country Music Association (CCMA) awards: Group, Single and Song of the Year for Town Of Tears, leaving no doubt that the famous Ottawa Valley band was still the leader in Canadian country.

Much has happened to this band since it was founded by the late "Papa" Joe Brown in 1968. He brought his son Barry and daughters Lawanda and Tracey into the group, along with drummer Ron Sparling, and guitarist Dave Dennison.

A romance with RCA began a few years later, spawning more than a dozen albums and over fifty singles, most of which enjoyed significant chart action on RPM's national country chart. The band won their first Big Country Award in 1977 as Top Country Group and that same year Barry Brown was voted the most Outstanding Male Performer of the Year.

Gaining national fame in Canada brought them to the attention of several U.S. labels, but it wasn't a family they wanted. One major suggested the group be trimmed to a duo with Barry and Tracey. However, there was no way this family unit was going to be broken up over the whims of some record executive in Nashville and, much to their credit, they turned their backs on what could have been a very lucrative career.

The Family Brown went on to become even more popular in Canada, touring every year from coast to coast and hosting a weekly television show that was seen from coast to coast.

The biggest blow to the Browns, however, was the sudden death, on May 30, 1986, of "Papa" Joe. He had just come off stage, following a performance at Chelsey, Ontario, when he suffered a fatal heart attack. This was perhaps the most critical time in the life of the Browns, but because of the strengths they had enjoyed as a family unit, they managed to pull themselves through in the same fine tradition they had been taught by their late father.

Another strength added to the family was Randall Prescott, husband of Tracey, who had been the music director for the band's television series. He was also a back-up musician for the band when they went on tour. It was Prescott who produced These Days in 1987.

"These Days was sort of a new direction for the band," Prescott recalls, "and when it was finished they had a meeting . . . and asked me to come into the front line." This was about the time when the band was beginning to fade a bit, but as Prescott points out, "The Browns always had a lot of heart and soul, but sometimes, in the way their music was presented, it was a little too safe. So we let a little more of the Browns other musical influences shine through on These Days. Like reggae and rock 'n' roll."

He goes on to explain that "In the production and the writing we said, 'Let's do something we really feel like doing.' All the songs were basically born within the band and a lot more co-writing went on . . . we were trying to steer more towards acoustic instruments like mandolin and harp, which we could really reproduce live, instead of going in and doing a full-blown session that you can't even come close to live." That spark, provided the group by Prescott, began a winning formula for the band, proven by the current popularity they are enjoying with

COUNTRYRoto Noto releases CD compilation

Randall Cousins and his Hamilton-based Roto Noto label have made an impressive move into the world of compact discs with the release of a compilation CD. Cleverly titled Audio Radiance For The Radio Audience, the CD contains tracks by Bobby McGee, Lynne & The Rebels, Manon, Jack Diamond, Diane Raeside, Michael Terry, Mark LaForme and Sylvie. This is the first of a series of CDs planned by Cousins and will serve as a promotion vehicle for single material by Roto Noto artists.

Fox snags U.S. deal for Warner Bros release

WEA recording artist George Fox has signed a deal through Warner Bros. Nashville for a U.S. release. The first single, Angelina, which brought Fox into the Canadian country limelight last year, will be delivered to radio the last week of February with the album to follow in April.

Fox, a Cochrane, Alberta rancher, singer and songwriter, crashed the Cancon barrier last year with his debut single and album for WEA, winning, not only the Vista Rising Star Award from the Canadian Country Music Association, but an unprecedented four Big Country Music Awards.

Fox will be in Nashville for the Country Radio Seminar (February 28 - March 3/90) during which time he will be showcased at the CCMA Talent Showcase. This will be the 21st presentation of this important seminar that attracts more than 800 program and music directors from across North America.

country programmers not only in Canada but internationally as well.

It's obvious the Family Brown are back on top once again. They have a new album, Life And Times, a collection of their greatest hits ranging from 1982 through 1989, including two new tracks, their latest single Pioneers and How Many Times. They will be touring both Canada and Europe this year and they are heavily booked for television shows throughout the year. As well, they are scheduled to bow their new television series which will be co-hosted by Ronnie Prophet, back at their old alma mater, CJOH-TV Ottawa, which spawned their first television series. The Family Brown is living proof that the family that plays together stays together: Barry (vocals, acoustic guitar), Tracey (vocals), Lawanda (vocals) and Randall Prescott (harmonica, bass, guitar and vocals), and Ron Sparling, manager and still the glue that holds the band together.

Magnum single Love Bayou. The aggressive milk truck driver wrote both the plug side and the flip (Honky Tonk Music), which is included on his self-titled album. He co-produced the album with Peter Kilgour at Vancouver's Beat Productions.

GWO charting with new single

The Great Western Orchestra move onto the charts with their latest CBS single, Ride On, the second single taken from their self-titled debut album. The first release, Train Of Life, enjoyed 18 weeks of charting on the national chart, peaking at No. 15 on Nov. 11/89.

Cole Younger Band's Peters goes solo

Michael Peters, formerly of the Cole Young Band, moves out on a solo career with his signing to the London, Ontario Fence label. Peters and Fence have made an aggressive entry into the field with a self-titled album by Peters. The album was shipped to radio stations in Canada, the U.S. and Europe on Nov. 1st. The first single from the album, Back On Track, has now been released to coincide with a series of Ontario dates by Peters and The Rugged Riders.

Murray was No. 10 draw in North America for '89

Not only was Anne Murray the No. 10 country box office draw in North America for this past year but she was the only female performer listed in the Top 20 and also the only act to perform without a support act.

The figures were published in the Top 25 Country Music Boxscores as compiled by the U.S. Amusement Business magazine. It was Murray's May 17-21 engagement at Toronto's O'Keefe Centre that garnered her the Top 10 position. Gross tickets sales for the five shows where she played to a total audience of 15,669, amounted to US$358,494.00 or $424,174.00 Canadian.

The only other Canadian date in the Top 25 listings was the Randy Travis engagement at Toronto's Exhibition Place Grandstand (Aug 21), which came in at No. 11, just behind Murray. Travis, who was supported by K.T. Oslin and Ricky Van Shelton for this date, played to a total audience of 16,534, grossing US$335,384 or $392,567.00 Canadian.
