A little good news today! Well . . . sort of!!

The summer wasn't all that "swell", but, like all bad news, the industry will sweep this under the carpet and look for a brighter day. And a brighter day just might be around the corner as the Christmas buying mode is updated to "hysteria."

But first, an update on what really went down over the past few months. "I wasn't surprised at the results for September," says Warner Music Canada president Stan Kulin, "and while I expect October shipments to be better, I don't feel they will be quite as good as the previous year."

Kulin goes on to explain that he didn't think September would be a good month, "because I thought the industry was kidding itself through the summer. It's evident now that the recession began in April or May and we were still topping last year's numbers, even though some labels had reduced their average price by lowering CD prices a dollar or more. Nevertheless, shipments out were still showing increases." He believes that had something to do with those responsible, "not processing returns that were in-house and continuing to overship. It's very hard to turn a ship around if the momentum is going one way, and people continued to order as though retail was showing increases, when in fact we now know that the retail business was really bad during the summer. It had to come to an end . . . there had to be a day of reckoning, and it happened in August and September. I think October will show a slight decrease from the previous year, but it will be over September's figures." He speculates that year-to-date dollar numbers will be below last year's.

Kulin is also concerned that most retailers are predicting they are going to do less business this Christmas than last year. "I think the consumer is frightened," says Kulin, "and consequently, I think we have to expect, as an industry, a pretty tough time for the next six or seven months."

As the heavyweight releases are now being released, it's obvious there is a preponderance of high-ticketed box sets. "There's too many box sets," says Kulin. "I'll be interested to see about next March and April what sold through. I would feel a little better if the industry was breaking more new acts."

Touching on the video scene, Kulin reveals his interest in a U.S. trade report that U.S. labels are starting to question the cost of videos and whether they are, in all cases, worth the expense. Says Kulin, "I wish people in the industry wouldn't view the fact that a record company will release a record and not put a video out as a lack of commitment. In many cases, that's why we do it, because people say if you don't do it, everybody's going to assume you don't believe in the project . . . and that's simply not true."

Kulin was asked if he believed videos sell records. "It's hard to tell," he answers. "I can make an argument that certain acts break

Justin Entertainment scores major signing coup

Justin Entertainment has acquired the Canadian rights to Twenty 4 Seven, a major European dance band, from BCM Records in Germany. I Can't Stand It, the No. 112" import in Canada, is being rush released and will be serviced to dance pools across the country at the end of this month. The single features both the original German hiphouse mix and the Bruce Forest UK club re-mix. The full album will be released in January with an edited version of the single being serviced to CHR stations.

Based in Germany, the band has a unique multi-cultural mix, featuring Dutch singer Nancy Coolen (Wendy James Meets Michelle Pfeiffer), American DJ Tony Harrison (A.K.A. Captain Hollywood), and Hanks And Jacks from Germany and Italy respectively.

The band has sold more than a million units in Europe and have eight gold records to their credit. At press time, they have enjoyed 32 weeks on the charts in Italy, 27 in Denmark and Austria, 26 in Germany, Sweden and Switzerland, 25 in Finland and Norway, 20 in Spain and 10 in England.

because of videos, but I can make an equal argument that many records, on which there were three or four videos, didn't sell. No one can really determine if it was the video that broke the act or the video that didn't help the act. In some cases you want to do a video, in other cases I don't think the video makes any difference."

It's no secret that Kulin did not support the introduction of the cassette single and now the returns are beginning to indicate what could end up to be a dismal showing. "People don't seem to realize that you really don't know what you're selling of something in this business for a period of at least eighteen and up to thirty months, before the returns drift back." He goes on to point out that "normally, in good times, accounts and salesmen resist returns because they're a messy thing to do . . . it's difficult to handle. But eventually they do filter back. I have some concern about the number of cassette singles that are starting to be returned and I feel it will only get worse in spite of the fact the industry in many cases is cutting off production."

Kulin, however, is optimistic about Warner's prospects over the next two months, "due mainly," he says "to our strong new releases."

Flip flop of weeks paints inaccurate stats picture

The CRIA stats for September revealed that overall net sales were down 21 percent from the same period last year (RPM - Nov. 3/90). This prompted CBS president Paul Burger to comment that within the industry, "there was a bit of concern."

He goes on to explain, however, that he wasn't satisfied with the figures, "which didn't jive with the month we had." Apparently, major companies report in different ways, all, with the exception of one, defining their weeks by the Friday of the week. "If the first of September were a Friday," says Burger, "that would be called the first week of September, even though there was only one September day in that week. Whereas if the first of September were a Saturday that week would have been called the last week of August."

"From year to year you get switches from month to month because obviously if every month was a four week month you would have 48 weeks in a year." He goes on to point out that "once a quarter you have a week that flip flops and it usually flip flops back and forth from month to month . . . so what happened in August of 1989 was a five-week month and in 1990 September was a four-week month. It is that small difference which accounted for the drop."

He does stress, however, that "clearly the summer period was not good at retail, but there's no doubt that towards the end of August, things started to pick up a bit."

Apparently it is easier for some companies to end the week on a Friday, which gives the company the weekend to run all the month-end reports and get the computers updated. It's expected that reporting procedures will take into account the four and five-week flip flops in the future.

Anthony and Robinson named to CBC posts

George Anthony has been named Creative Head and Ed Robinson the Deputy of CBC-TV's Arts, Music, Science and Variety Department. They will begin their duties on November 29.

Ivan Fecan, Director of CBC TV Programming, says that their mandate will be to "build on the successes of the past . . . and to support the strong work being done by the producers who work in these fields."

Anthony is the former Executive Entertainment Editor and founding member of the Toronto Sun, and is an individual the CBC believes has "demonstrated his belief and commitment to the Canadian star system."

Robinson will be leaving his post as Director of Finance and Administration for TV Programming at the CBC to take up the new position. He is one of several managers at the corporation who have made a switch from administrative positions to creative executive ones.

with Elvira Caprese

What a show . . . what a show! Most record companies invite me to theatre and movie openings, if they have the soundtrack. One of the best in recent memory was the opening of Les Misérables, an invitation, by the way from Gino Empry. Anyway . . . I was at the press gathering when Garth Drabinsky announced there would be a Canadian cast recording of highlights from Phantom Of The Opera, and while talking to him he asked if I had seen Phantom. Of course, I hadn't and told him so. He was a little disturbed, to say the least. Gerry Lacoursiere, who now heads up the Canadian PolyGram empire, was nearby and overheard our conversation, and being the PR smoothie he is . . . always looking after details, that is, I had the promise of a couple of tickets, and he delivered. I finally saw the show this past week . . . and what a show! I'm only sorry I wasn't there opening night, but then Gerry wasn't head of the company then. This

Toronto production, after more than a year's run, is packed with entertainment highs rarely seen in live theatre. What a show! (EC: Wish I knew someone with influence!)

When it comes to dailies . . . I have to admit The Globe And Mail is a notch up on the rest. They dig deep and come up with some startling facts about news happenings that the others skim over. They also seem to have a nice freedom for their writers. I mentioned a few weeks back about Brian Fawcett, a West Coast writer for the Globe, who used the term "dickhead", kind of a gentle, non-expetive. Now Jay Scott, who did a piece on country music in the Nov. 5th Globe, used the expression "pissed off". I've used it before . . . but never in print, but hey, it looks good in print. I'm pissed off that I've never used it before. (EC: What next . . . ?)

Hot stuff . . . ! Holy jumpin', Roger Bartel, you sure know how to heat up a guy's tummy. Roger squired the lead singer of Sawyer Brown, Mark Miller, and the band's manager, "T.K." Kimbrell, to dinner at Toronto's Sante Fe Restaurant. The guys took a break from their tour of the Maritimes to have supper with a few of the people from CHAM and myself. After several gallons of iced tea, which seems to be their national drink, and it did kinda put out the fire of the restaurant special, they were off to St. John's to continue their tour. (EC: How do you spell relief . . . ?)

If you want to know something about the record business . . . don't ask a radio sales guy. With the exception of good ole Perry down at CHUM . . . they don't. They think it's the record retailers who pay for the ads . . . and we know better . . . don't we? (EC: We sure do . . . !)

The power struggle that failed . . . ! If you think there's an air of uncertainty in the record business . . . you should be on The Hill. The guy who thought he had it all to himself . . . is still second banana. Talk about a ship without a rudder. (EC: En francais?)

What's in a name . . . ? Company names can be very expensive, particularly if they're going to be mounted as a neon sign. Sony has it pretty good . . . with four letters. But what about Matsushita . . . with ten! That's EXPENSIVE! (EC: Hang the expense, it's a billion dollar business . . . !)

Juno comedy award . . . ! I mentioned last week that the Juno Comedy Award is gone and will no longer be given. Now . . . this week, we've been advised that a new Best Hard Rock/Metal Album Juno will take its place. (EC: In other words . . . nothing changes!) Then why are you laughing!! (EC: I'm still thinking about the Rap award!) Bring back the comedy award!

A little good news today! Well, isn't it swell to know that our neighbour's president likes country music! In fact, George Bush speaks highly of Anne Murray, particularly her song, A Little Good News Today. I've been waiting with baited breath for the king of Oka and all us other Canadians to come out with similar views. A very famous keyboard friend of mine told me that our Ottawa Monarch happens to like alternative music. In fact, he's even toyed with the idea of touring as a minstrel. (EC: A great follow-up profession . . . !)

Bryan is big in Europe . . . ! You probably won't read it anywhere else . . . not too many in the print medium pay attention to Canadians starmaking it in other countries (EC: That pisses me off . . . !) but, Bryan Adams is a big item in Europe. His Reckless album is back on the charts in Denmark and the album sold 8,000 copies in the UK last week, which pushed it over the 560,000 unit mark in that country. (EC: Wave that flag!)

Variety tribute to Frank Streen! Variety's ham 'n eggs man, Frank Streen, will be the centre of attention on November 16, when Tent 28 pays tribute to him in the Grand Ballroom of the Sheraton Centre in Toronto. Call 416-961-7300 for tickets. Tell 'em Big Al sent you. (EC: You mean Big Al Dubin?)

Growing optimism signals fair-to-middlin Christmas

Word appears to be filtering down from some sectors of the industry that the next two months could bring sales back up to an acceptable level.

"If you take a look at the Top 10 or Top 20 releases," says CBS Records Canada president Paul Burger, "there are some pretty diverse and interesting records . . . and from what I can understand from retail, that interest is starting to attract people back into the stores."

The records show the summer period was worse than dismal and the initial showing for October was being predicted as not that great either. However, as Burger points out, "there was some concern in October that the weekends were good and the weekdays a bit quieter, but over the past couple of weeks, we've seen a strengthening, even in the mid-week sales at retail."

There has been a heavy concentration by some labels on box sets, designed obviously for the Christmas buyer. Burger was asked if he thought this would deter sales of other product. "I think there's a tremendous amount of box sets coming out this year," he says. "Is there too much? I think, so far, the consumer is telling us no! The reaction to the Led Zeppelin box set is absolutely outstanding . . . and a very high-priced item at that. Retail seems to be quite excited about the box sets and they're already seeing quite a turnover on this product. I think, frankly, that anything that generates excitement and brings consumers into the stores is really what we're all working towards. At the end of the day we have to rely on the professionalism of retail to take the consumer, who has already moved himself to walk into the shop, to ensure that he walks out with some music in his bag and preferably not just a blank cassette as some of them tend to do."

Burger takes a swipe at retail as he stresses, "Frankly, I would hope that sanity would prevail at retail, in terms of, again, not giving away our hit product at prices that don't allow all of us to enjoy the benefits of everything we're working for."

He goes on to point out that "there's a lot of concern with the heads of virtually all the major retail chains with respect to some of the price discounting and price wars going on over product that has limited availability. I think that's a very healthy discussion that's going on, because we've often commented about the way product is placed in terms of some of the commercial policies and some of the pressures that are put back on us by retail when retail itself takes some of the biggest profit-potential product and essentially gives it away in hopes it will spur additional business."

With the proliferation of the box sets and the retail wars, Burger was asked if he thought it would be difficult to break new acts over this period. "Sure it's going to be difficult," he answers, "and as the economy gets tighter it will get even more difficult." What that forces us to do," he suggests, "is be more professional and be better at picking the artists and the records in which we invest our effort . . . taking that and being more creative, really, in terms of the marketing plans and the way we work with the artists and with the retail chains in generating enthusiasm at the consumer level."

In conclusion, Burger makes the point, "Someone said to me 'Christmas is coming on December 25th.' I thought that was a helluva revelation, especially after Kim Zayac made a comment to someone last week that CBS was calling November 26th Boxing Day, because of all the box sets we are releasing on that date, including The Byrds."

EMI Music first in with support for Philips' DCC

Jim Fifield, President and Chief Executive Officer, EMI Music Worldwide, has announced EMI Music's support for the Philips' Digital Compact Cassette (DCC) system.

In making the announcement, Fifield said, "We at EMI Music are excited by the Digital Compact Cassette prototypes we have seen and heard and believe this system will offer the music industry a great opportunity to move to the next generation of digital tape."

Fifield was also pleased that concerns over home taping are being considered by Philips, noting that "Copy protection as agreed with the recording and publishing industries will be a major consideration in our support of DCC."

Fringe obscenity case to trial in Ottawa

The obscenity case against Toronto record company Fringe Product and its distributor, The Record Peddler, went to trial November 5 in an Ottawa courtroom.

The Crown has allotted two weeks for the trial, which is viewed as an important precedent-setting case. A three-man, nine-woman jury will decide whether Fringe Product and The Record Peddler are guilty of distribution and possession for the purpose of distribution of obscene material for producing two albums by Victoria B.C. band Dayglo Abortions. The charges were brought against the companies by Nepean police in July, 1988.

Fringe Product's Angus MacKay says the companies have already been billed more than $50,000 in legal fees for the preliminary hearings, and have had to scale down operations as a result.

In a similar case in the United States, members of the rap group 2 Live Crew were recently found not guilty of obscenity on charges stemming from a performance of songs from their controversial album As Nasty As They Wanna Be. Last month, a London, Ontario retailer was charged for selling copies of the 2 Live Crew album.

Virgin heads into Xmas with power Cancon

Virgin Canada is wrapping up a "great year," and is heading into the yuletide season with four of their top releases being Canadian, a feat that Ian Marchant, National Sales and Marketing Coordinator for the label, says is a "real first for Virgin Canada."

The Northern Pikes, Rita MacNeil, Colin James and newcomers World On Edge are the acts that Virgin is releasing, and Marchant declares that it is testament to the label's belief in Canadian talent.

"It has always been in the cards from day one at Virgin to sign and develop Canadian talent," he says. "We always wanted to be more than just a distribution arm for Virgin around the world."

Virgin is currently looking at other Canadian acts to sign, and Marchant says that they are confident there "is plenty of great talent out there."

The Pikes and James have already gone platinum in Canada, and MacNeil is well on her way to that certification as well.

Oliver to promotion post at Justin Entertainment

Janie Oliver joins Justin Entertainment as Director of National Promotion. Oliver has chalked up a wide and varied work portfolio in radio over the years: as an on-air producer for both CHUM AM and FM in Toronto, and as an on-air personality with Rock 95 in Barrie.

In her new position, Oliver will be responsible for all national promotional and marketing duties for Justin Entertainment and its roster of artists.

The above announcement was made by Jeff Burns, president of the Toronto-based Justin Entertainment.

Allen and Feldman cut loose from Penta

It as been learned that as of November 6, 1990, Bruce Allen and Sam Feldman have resigned as directors of Vancouver-based Penta Entertainment. The company has apparently been in limbo for some time while the five directors, Allen, Feldman, Lou Blair, Bruce Fairbairn and John Ford, attempted a reorganization.

All enquiries with regard to Penta should now be directed to Lou Blair who can be contacted at 604-689-7070.

Cinram gains US base with PRC Tape purchase

On October 18, it was confirmed that for an undisclosed amount of money, Cinram Ltd. acquired PRC Tape Company Inc. of Richmond, Indiana. The plant, which specializes in pre-recorded tapes, is one of the largest in the US, with over 200 employees and a 100,000 square foot facility.

The purchase was funded entirely out of Cinram's cash resources and will provide a much-sought-after American foothold for the company. Isidore Philosophie, President and Chief Executive of Cinram, says the acquisition "will make a positive contribution to Cinram's operations."

Philosophie goes on to say that PRC Tape will move into video technology and CD manufacturing, enabling them to be the first in the US to use a new on-line laser technology devised by Cinram which reduces CD contamination.

"We are very excited," says Philosophie. "We already have a good and decent reputation in the States, and (this purchase) will enhance that."

COVER STORY by Jill Lawless

Mary-Lu Zahalan reaps rewards of experience

Mary-Lu Zahalan is back on the Canadian music scene, and she's discovering it's like she hasn't been away at all.

The Quebec-born singer first came to attention in 1982 with an album called Think Of Me on the now-defunct Sefel label. The album won Zahalan a nomination for the Most Promising Female Vocalist Juno, and a subsequent independent single in 1985 was well received by Adult Contemporary stations. Her new album on Justin Entertainment, titled simply Zahalan, is the singer's first release in five years, but they are years which have been productively spent.

Zahalan, who holds a degree in Theatre Arts from Sheridan College, spent a year in the mid-eighties touring as part of the Canadian company of the musical Pump Boys and Dinettes. She also toured the Middle East for the Canadian Armed Forces, an experience she calls "the highlight of my performing career." Along the way, she found time to become a parent. "It's not like the last four years have been idle," she laughs.

Zahalan features the work of a handful of well-known producers, including Humberto Gatica, Hank Medress, Gerald O'Brien and David Foster. While the process of waiting for producers to become available was often excruciating, Zahalan says it was also very rewarding. After waiting ten months to work with David Foster, she says that recording with him was "the highlight of my studio experience. He treated me with total respect, brought me in on the whole recording process." The album also features contributions from a number of now-familiar names. "So many of the players have gained so much more notoriety since I worked with them," laughs Zahalan. They include Richard Marx, whose own album had not yet been released when he sang for Zahalan, and the team which wrote I Can't Forget About You, the album's first single: Alannah Myles, Christopher Ward and David Tyson.

If time has worked in Zahalan's favour, so has her experience. She says her theatre background has proved invaluable. "It has a lot of influence in terms of stamina. Pump Boys and Dinettes was eight shows a week for ten and a half months with no break. It has taught me a lot in terms of endurance. It enhances my performance. When you have any kind of dramatic training you don't just go out and sing. You perform a song...I think it has made me much more expressive." So much more expressive that the once-shy Zahalan now teaches a vocal performance class at her alma mater.

Zahalan says she has grown enormously as a performer since her first album. She recalls an early criticism of that album, from an American record company executive, who admired the material and the singing, but said, "'What's missing is attitude.' I didn't have a clue what he was talking about. Now I look back and I think, 'yeah, that's exactly what was missing.' And that's what I feel I've captured and grown into, and I'm really pleased about that."

She says the new album reflects these changes and the security she now feels about her image. "The first album was much lighter, much softer rock, much more adult contemporary," she says. "This album has more of an edge to it. It still has some of those songs which will cross over to the adult contemporary market, because I like that kind of music too, and the rock edge shows my live side. I tried to capture a lot of that on the record. I can do all the songs live; they fit me perfectly."

The album jacket pictures a leather jacket-clad Zahalan looking remarkably like the now-famous co-author of her single, but Zahalan says she is not worried by potential comparisons. "There's certainly room in the Canadian market for another female singer. I'm not challenging Alannah's arena, or Sass Jordan. I'm in between them...There will be no comparisons (with Alannah Myles) when people hear or see us. The reason we went for that in terms of a look is that I have a tendency to look really soft. So if you put a leather jacket on me at least I look that much harder.

And that's what I would wear. I'm just trying to be true to what I would pull off."

Zahalan is encouraged by the record's warm reception by radio programmers, a surprising number of whom remember her name, even if they can't pronounce it. She is eager to tour in the new year, but is trying to keep her excitement about her new project in perspective. "I find it hard to maintain any kind of objectivity about it," she admits. "I'm trying to keep an open slate right now because I just don't know what to expect. I certainly have high hopes, but I just want to sit back and let it happen, and give it room to happen."

Rock 'n' Roll forever Despite all the talk about the decline of rock at the hands of formats like pop and dance, half the entries on this week's video chart are from acts best classed as hard rock (I'm counting Roger Waters' The Wall, which has a pretty high rock quotient, in this category). This week's new entry, no doubt buoyed by the release of the Led Zeppelin box set, is The Song Remains The Same. As well, longforms by The Scorpions, Poison and AC/DC continue to turn up regularly on retailers' best-seller lists.

Releases galore in time for the Christmas season. Warner Music has a number of big titles coming out, including INXS: Greatest Video Hits, appearing December 4, and Phil Collins: Seriously Live, a companion to his forthcoming live album, which is slated for a November 27 release. Also out the same day on Warner are longforms from Alannah Myles, Debbie Gibson, Winger, Sweet Sensation and En Vogue. BMG is releasing A Night On The Town, Bruce Hornsby's first-ever longform, a live video which the company compares to The Last Waltz, and Twist Of Fate, a compilation longform from Taylor Dayne. Also watch for a Janet Jackson longform, out soon on A&M.

CHARTS

by Tim Evans

Stale at the top. On the Album chart, the top seven places remain the same. That is sure to change next week, though. Paul Simon's Rhythm Of The Saints bullets up to No. 8 and Vanilla Ice's To The Extreme leaps all the way to No. 9.

Still No. 1 Suicide Blonde from INXS remains on top of the Hit Tracks chart for the second week. With only 4 letters in their name, it is one of the shortest names to hit No. 1, but not the shortest. Name the act with the shortest name to have a No. 1 hit.

Big Debut . . . Elton John easily has this week's highest new entry. You Gotta Love Someone blasts onto the chart at No. 46. The second release from George Michael's Listen Without Prejudice Vol. 1, Freedom, is a distant second at No. 63. That is just ahead of Robert Palmer's You're Amazing at No. 65.

Boo who? Betty Boo has this week's hot dance song. Doin' The Do debuts on the Dance chart at No. 6. Meanwhile, Boo, Clayton, Muddy, and Spike Wilbury, collectively known as Traveling Wilburys, have this week's big jump on the Album chart. Volume 3 climbs all the way from No. 80 to No. 17. Van Morrison's Enlightenment also has a big jump this week, up 25 spots to No. 29.

Good Timing Don Henley's New York Minute enters the chart this week at No. 79. It is one of several songs that make reference to time in the title. It joins Asia's Days Like These, Lisa Stansfield's This Is The Right Time, Gino Vannelli's The Time Of Day, George Michael's Praying For Time, Mariah Carey's Love Takes Time, Sheree's Forever You, Forever Me, and The Vaughan Brothers' Tick Tock. Mae Moore's I'll Watch Over You doesn't count.

What's in a name? The act with the shortest name to have hit No. 1 is M. Pop Muzik hit the top in 1979. It might be a long time before an artist with a shorter name comes along!

Enter The Garden Of Earthly Dee-Lite

The holographic house groove of New York's Dee-Lite
- Jungle DJ Towa Towa, Lady Miss Kier and Super DJ Dimitry
- Where the 60's and 70's meet the 90's in a stunning collage of disparate dance dynamics.

RADIO:

"The phones, the sales ... the groove!
 Hits you right between the eyes."

Karen Anderson, CFTR

"Caught everybody by surprise.
 CKOI's No. 1 phone response record."

Guy Brouillard, CKOI

VIDEO:

"House music with a twist that's unique yet brings back memories of those groovy early disco days ... definitely in the Top 10 dance videos for 1990!"

Sharon Kavanaugh, Much Music

RETAIL:

"World Clique is the hottest debut album of 1990. Groove is in the charts."

Phil Fletcher, HMV Square One

THE CLUBS:

"Simply the most Deee-licious, soundsational club debut from the New York scene this year ... ecstasyinducing blend of style, elan, trance dance, hip moves and soulful grooves.
 Every cool DJ's late-nite Dee-Lite."

Daniel Cauderon, Cheer Pool

Very special thanks to the dance and video communities for their involvement from day one.

COUNTRY

Keeping alive a tradition . . . "We're trying to do our part in keeping the Newfoundland, Irish, Scottish music and Old Tyme Fiddle music alive," says Bill Oja, as he reports a show and dance coming up on Nov. 24 at the Teamsters Hall in Hamilton. The show is being presented by The Golden Horseshoe Country Music Association. In from Newfoundland for the date are Fred Northcote and The Bay Boys featuring Steve Parry and Randy Morrison on twin fiddles. Jimmy Flynn, billed as "Atlantic Canada's Top Musical Comedy Act," is special guest. This is an important concert, as Oja points out, "Radio no longer plays this type of music . . . which is very sad for an important part of our Canadian musical culture."

Country metal winners for the month of October were Rita MacNeil with her Flying On Your Own album certifying as double platinum, and George Fox (With All My Might) and George Strait (If You Ain't Lovin' You Ain't Livin') both going gold. Rita's latest single, Watch Love Grow Strong, is the top add on the chart this week at No. 83. This track is from her new album, Home I'll Be. Why Do I Think Of You Today, Rita's current charter from her Rita album, is now descending the chart after 14 weeks. George Strait has a couple of tracks on the chart as well: Drinking Champagne, which moves down the chart to No. 12 after 13 weeks of charting, and I've Come To Expect It From You, a new entry at No. 89. Both these tracks are from his Livin' It Up album. George Fox continues to make impressive moves up the chart (No. 30) with his latest single, With All My Might, the title track from his gold album. Chart topper this week is newcomer Mark Chestnut with Too Cold At Home, the title track from his MCA debut. Bubbling under is his follow-up, Brother Jukebox, written by Paul Craft.

Lindsay Thomas Morgan got glitched by a computer bug last week and we lost his Free single when it should have shown a bulleted rise up the chart. He's back on track this week where he has moved into the No. 54 position.

Don LeBlanc makes an expensive return to the business with his solo CD, Don LeBlanc Country. This is Don's third album, but first CD. He plays all of the guitars, four of them, does all the vocals and added steel, piano, digital keyboards, synthesized strings, drums and bass guitar. Besides arranging and producing the package, he even did the graphics and the layout. A native of Estevan, Saskatchewan, Don now claims North America as his home and travels extensively on both sides of the border in his specially-equipped mobile home.

JR Country assist for McQueen . . . Last September 18th, more than $5,000 worth of sound equipment and guitars was stolen from McQueen, a local Vancouver band, during their date at the JR Country Club. None of the equipment was insured, so JR Country Radio arranged for a fundraising evening of B.C.'s best local talent (Nov. 18) to assist in replacing the equipment. But, as Lea Carpenter, Promotion & Marketing Manager of JR Country Radio, explains, McQueen has since "recouped their losses . . . so this evening will generate monies for a trust fund, to be set up with the B.C. Country Music Association." Lea is looking for several bands to play during the evening at the JR Country Club benefit. "This fund will aid other musicians who are victims of similar circumstances," says Lea. Those interested should contact him or Joanne Sutton at 604-731-7772 or Ben Shapiro at the JR Country Club, 604-681-2211.

Michael T. Wall played to a standing room only crowd at his 19th annual Muscular Dystrophy Benefit concert (Oct. 16). Michael, who is also known as The Singing Newfoundland, walked on stage draped in a giant flag of Newfoundland, which brought the largely Newfoundland crowd to their feet. He was joined by his two daughters, 13-year-old Sarah-Anne and 10-year-old Sabrina Kathryn. Also on hand were several local TV and recording stars including Gander's Chuck Sims, South River's Angus Kavanagh, well-known guitarist Roy Penny from Cornerbrook and session players Robbie Kavanagh, Phil Strong (drums), and keyboardist Mean Steve Hocura. Michael paid tribute to several people who assisted in the well-attended fund-raiser, including Barbara Crittendon of Scarborough Communications, the Country Music Store for donations of tapes and records, Edgar Elliott, the Rover Reporter for the Newfoundland Flag, and Bob Cousins from The Friends And Neighbours Radio Show in Brampton, Ontario.

Kitty Wells, her husband Johnny Wright and son Bobby and The Tennessee Mountain Boys are making their final Canadian tour. They started off in Bancroft, Ontario on Nov. 4th and after a couple more Ontario

Mark LaPointe caught Roto Noto's Lisa Logan in action at Ottawa's Super X Country.
